Kenneth Clark:

The Reminiscences of Kenneth Clark Kenneth B. Clark, Kenneth Clark, 1971 Kenneth Clark David Cannadine, Kenneth Clark, 2002 Kenneth Clark James Stourton, 2016 Kenneth Clark Meryle Secrest, 1985

Kenneth Clark James Stourton, 2016-11-01 The definitive biography of this brilliant polymath director of the National Gallery author patron of the arts social lion and singular pioneer of television that also tells the story of the arts in the twentieth century through his astonishing life Kenneth Clark's thirteen part 1969 television series Civilisation established him as a globally admired figure Clark was prescient in making this series the upheavals of the century the Cold War among others convinced him of the power of barbarism and the fragility of culture He would burnish his image with two memoirs that artfully omitted the more complicated details of his life Now drawing on a vast previously unseen archive James Stourton reveals the formidable intellect and the private man behind the figure who effortlessly dominated the art world for more than half a century his privileged upbringing his interest in art history beginning at Oxford his remarkable early successes At 27 he was keeper of Western Art at the Ashmolean in Oxford and at 29 the youngest director of The National Gallery During the war he arranged for its entire collection to be hidden in slate mines in Wales and organized packed concerts of classical music at the Gallery to keep up the spirits of Londoners during the bombing WWII helped shape his belief that art should be brought to the widest audience a social and moral position that would inform the rest of his career Television became a means for this message when he was appointed the first chairman of the Independent Television Authority Stourton reveals the tortuous state of his marriage during and after the war his wife's alcoholism and the aspects of his own nature that he worked to keep hidden A superb work of biography Kenneth Clark is a revelation of its remarkable subject Last Lectures Roger Fry, 1962 Dark Ghetto Kenneth B. Clark, 1989-11 Dr Clark social psychologist college professor a Black man who lived in Harlem for forty years and who has recently been associated with its problems from the top level of Harlem takes the role of involved observer to approach the combined problems of the confined African American and the slum The ghetto he analyzes here is the three and one half square miles containing 232 792 people that make up Harlem excluding Spanish Harlem He examines its social dynamics unemployment and menial jobs result in family instability psychology the Black man has a difficult time asserting his manhood in face of white supremacy pathology chronic self-perpetuating as the influence of gangs has declined that of drug addiction has increased schools separate but unequal the cultural deprivation approach is seductive if students were expected to learn and so taught they would progress the power structure the effective exercise of power is severely crippled by the inexperience of its own political leaders The strategy for change must be based on the understanding that the Black America's problems are essentially American and on the empathy of outsiders Dr Clark tempers his aims with the reassurance that in contemporary society no one Black or white can be totally free of prejudice yet each race needs the other Most interesting here the insight into the psycho-social dilemmas of African Americans the Black response to the wide spectrum of leadership embodied in Adam Clayton Powell and Dr Martin Luther King Jr Review in Kirkus 1965 lightly edited Leonardo Da Vinci Kenneth Clark,1993 Clark s study of Leonardo is generally considered the clearest introduction available to the work of the controversial genius This edition contains 128 plates integrated into the text a revised list of dates an updated bibliography and a new introduction Last Lectures ... With an Introduction by Kenneth Clark. [With Illustrations.]. Roger Fry,Kenneth Clark,1939 On the Corner Daniel Matlin,2013-11-01 In July 1964 when a Harlem riot shifted attention to the crisis in northern cities African American intellectuals were thrust into the spotlight as interpreters of black urban life to white America On the Corner revisits the moment when black urban life became for these intellectuals the topic that is reserved for blacks Psychology and Selfhood in the Segregated South Anne C. Rose,2009 In the American South at the turn of the twentieth century the legal segregation of the races and psychological sciences focused on selfhood emerged simultaneously The two developments presented conflicting views of human nature American psychiatry and The Ocean Hill-Brownsville Conflict Glen Anthony Harris,2012-05-18 The history of Black Jewish relations from the beginning of the twentieth century shows that while they were sometimes partners of convenience there was also a deep suspicion of each other that broke out into frequent public exchanges During the twentieth century the entanglements of both groups have at times provided an important impetus for social justice in the United States and at other times have been the cause of great tension The Ocean Hill Brownsville Conflict explores this fraught relationship which is evident in the intellectual lives of these communities The tension was as apparent in the life and works of Marcus Garvey Richard Wright and James Baldwin as it was in the exchanges between blacks and Jews in intellectual periodicals and journals in the 1940s 1950s and 1960s The Ocean Hill Brownsville conflict was rooted in this tension and the longstanding differences over community control of school districts and racial preferences Racial Innocence Robin Bernstein,2011-12 Winner Outstanding Book Award Association for Theatre in Higher Education Winner Grace Abbott Best Book Award Society for the History of Children and Youth Winner Book Award Children s Literature Association Winner Lois P Rudnick Book Prize New England American Studies Association Winner IRSCL Award International Research Society for Children s Literature Runner Up John Hope Franklin Publication Prize American Studies Association Honorable Mention Book Award Society for the Study of American Women Writers Part of the American Literatures Initiative Series In Racial Innocence Robin Bernstein argues that the concept of childhood innocence has been central to U S racial formation since the mid nineteenth century Children white ones imbued with innocence black ones excluded from it and others of color erased by it figured pivotally in sharply divergent racial agendas from slavery and abolition to antiblack violence and the early civil rights movement Bernstein takes up a rich archive including books toys theatrical props and domestic knickknacks which she analyzes as scriptive things that invite or prompt historically located practices while allowing for resistance and social improvisation Integrating performance studies with literary and visual analysis Bernstein offers singular readings of theatrical productions from blackface minstrelsy to Uncle Tom's Cabin to The Wonderful Wizard of Oz literary works by Joel Chandler Harris Harriet Wilson and Frances Hodgson Burnett material culture including Topsy pincushions Uncle Tom and Little Eva handkerchiefs and Raggedy Ann dolls and visual texts ranging from fine portraiture to advertisements for lard substitute Throughout Bernstein shows how innocence gradually became the exclusive province of white children until the Civil Rights Movement succeeded not only in legally desegregating public spaces but in culturally desegregating the concept of childhood itself Check out the author's blog for the book here

Portraits of Pioneers in Developmental Psychology Wade Pickren, Donald A. Dewsbury, Michael Wertheimer, 2012-05-04 Utilizing an informal sometimes humorous style of writing this book brings to life 16 developmental psychologists who made a significant contribution to their field Written by noted scholars each chapter provides a glimpse into the personal and scholarly lives of these innovative pioneers Some of the chapters are based on the contributor's personal acquaintance with a pioneer allowing for the introduction of previously unavailable information Suggested Readings allow readers to delve deeper into the material and a tabular list of subjects and authors helps instructors supplement their courses in substantive areas of psychology with ease The introductory essay prepares the reader for a deeper understanding of the contributions of each of the pioneers Mamie Phipps Clark had a profound impact on the education of American children Robert W White pioneered a new approach to the study of persons across the lifespan Lois Barclay Murphy's perspective on the strengths of developing children foreshadowed later developments in positive psychology Florence Goodenough pioneered new testing methods for children John Paul Scott was a pioneer in the field of behavior genetics The book also highlights the many contributions of European pioneers Jean Piaget Charlotte Bühler Heinz Werner and Lev Vygotsky Their contributions were carried forward by J McVicker Hunt in the U S and Helena Antipoff in Brazil Arnold Gesell's film studies of children's development remain a landmark accomplishment Lawrence Kohlberg pioneered the study of moral development across the lifespan Roger Barker's studies on aggression and leadership among children eventually led to the development of ecological psychology Eleanor Jackie Gibson was famous for her work on the visual cliff and for her research on perception and development Finally Sidney Bijou had a long career delineating ways to improve the lives of children Pickren's concluding essay draws connections between the pioneers and how they contributed to the advancement of the field Intended as a supplementary text for undergraduate and/or graduate courses in the history of psychology and/or developmental child or lifespan psychology taught in psychology education and human development this engaging book also appeals to those interested in and/or teaching these subject areas Each of the 7 volumes in the Portraits of Pioneers Series contain different profiles bringing more than 140 of psychology's pioneers to life pharmacology psychology physics and zoology The Dinner Party Gary Freedman, 2014-09-30 An evening at the home of the composer Richard Wagner and his wife Cosima The book combines features of a short story and a play and is written entirely in quotations Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations for 2001: Department of Veterans Affairs United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on VA, HUD, and Independent Agencies, 2000 Race, Racism, and Science John P. Jackson, Nadine M. Weidman, 2006 Since the eighteenth century when natural historians created the idea of distinct racial categories scientific findings on race have been a double edged sword For some antiracists science holds the promise of one day providing indisputable evidence to help eradicate racism On the other hand science has been enlisted to promote racist beliefs ranging from a justification of slavery in the eighteenth century to the infamous twentieth century book The Bell Curve whose authors argued that racial differences in intelligence resulted in lower test scores for African Americans This well organized readable textbook takes the reader through a chronological account of how and why racial categories were created and how the study of race evolved in multiple academic disciplines including genetics psychology sociology and anthropology In a bibliographic essay at the conclusion of each of the book's seven sections the authors recommend primary texts that will further the reader's understanding of each topic Heavily illustrated and enlivened with sidebar biographies this text is ideal for classroom use

The Juggler of Notre Dame and the Medievalizing of Modernity. Jan M. Ziolkowski, 2018-08-29 This ambitious and vivid study in six volumes explores the journey of a single electrifying story from its first incarnation in a medieval French poem through its prolific rebirth in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The Juggler of Notre Dame tells how an entertainer abandons the world to join a monastery but is suspected of blasphemy after dancing his devotion before a statue of the Madonna in the crypt he is saved when the statue delighted by his skill miraculously comes to life Jan Ziolkowski tracks the poem from its medieval roots to its rediscovery in late nineteenth century Paris before its translation into English in Britain and the United States The visual influence of the tale on Gothic revivalism and vice versa in America is carefully documented with lavish and inventive illustrations and Ziolkowski concludes with an examination of the explosion of interest in The Juggler of Notre Dame in the twentieth century and its place in mass culture today Volume 3 The American Middle Ages hinges upon two figures influenced by the juggler Henry Adams scion of Presidents and distinguished cultural historian whose works contributed to the rise of medievalism in America during the Gilded Age and Ralph Adams Cram the architect whose vision of Gothic accounts directly or indirectly for the campuses of West Point Princeton Yale Chicago Notre Dame and many other universities across America The Juggler of Notre Dame and the Medievalizing of Modernity is a rich case study for the reception of the Middle Ages in modernity Spanning centuries and continents the medieval period is understood through the lens of its post modern reception in Europe and America Profound connections between the verbal and the visual are illustrated by a rich trove of images including book illustrations stained glass postage stamps architecture and Christmas cards Presented with great clarity and simplicity Ziolkowski's work is accessible to the general reader while its many new discoveries will be valuable to academics in such fields and disciplines as medieval studies medievalism philology literary history art history folklore performance studies and reception studies
