Ecology of Practice A.Endre Nyerges,2016-01-20 First Published in 1998 The study of the origin development and diversity of the human diet is emerging as a coherent field that offers a much needed integrative framework for our contemporary knowledge of the ecology of food and nutrition This authoritative series of monographs and symposia volumes on the history and anthropology of food and nutrition is designed to address this need by providing integrative approaches to the study of various problems within the human food chain As a series it offers many unique opportunities for a wide range of scientists scholars and other professionals representing anthropology archaeology food history economics agriculture folklore nutrition medicine pharmacology public health and public policy to exchange important new knowledge discoveries and methods involved in the study of all aspects of human food ways La Leche League Jule DeJager Ward,2000 In 1956 when La Leche League was founded if a new mother chose to breastfeed rather than bottlefeed her child she could by no means expect universal support for her decision Though physicians of the era admitted that breastfeeding was the best method Children's Health Issues in Historical Perspective Cheryl Krasnick Warsh,Veronica Strong-Boag,2006-01-01 From sentimental stories about polio to the latest cherub in hospital commercials sick children tug at the public s heartstrings However sick children have not always had adequate medical care or protection The essays in Children s Issues in Historical Perspective investigate the identification prevention and treatment of childhood diseases from the 1800s onwards in areas ranging from French colonial Vietnam to nineteenth century northern British Columbia from New Zealand fresh air camps to American health fairs Themes include the role of government and or the private sector in initiating and underwriting child public health programs the growth of the profession of pediatrics and its views on proper mothering techniques the role of nationalism as well as ethnic and racial dimensions in child saving movements normative behaviour social control and the treatment of deviant children and adolescents poverty wealth and child health measures and the development of the modern children s hospital This liberally illustrated collection reflects the growing academic interest in all aspects of childhood especially child health and originates from health care professionals and scholars across the disciplines An introduction by the editors places the historical themes in context and offers an overview of the contemporary study of children s health

Bodies of Evidence Anne L. Grauer,1995-05-02 A group of contributors highlight advances made in paleopathology and demography through the analyses of historic cemeteries These advancements include associations of documentary evidence with skeletal evaluations insights into history gained through the use of skeletal analyses when no documentation exists and applications of new evaluative techniques Provides a glimpse into the problems faced by researchers embarking on the excavation and or analysis of historic human remains Quick Bibliography Series ,1976 Dyadic Eating-feeding Relationships Between Educated, First-time Mothers and Their Infants Unnur Kristbjorg Gylfadottir,2005 Women's Work And Child Welfare In The Third World Joanne Leslie,2021-11-18 Recent trends in women s work and child survival and development in developing countries raise concerns about the relationship between these two key elements of development This paper reviews and analyzes the methodology and findings of 50 studies of both women s work and infant feeding practices and women s work and child nutritional status Although the pattern of findings is complex and occasionally contradictory the paper concludes that overall there is little evidence of a negative effect of maternal employment on child nutrition and therefore no justification for limiting women s labor force participation on the grounds of promoting child welfare Nature's Perfect Food E. Melanie Dupuis,2002-02-01 The story of how Americans came to drink milk For over a century America s nutrition authorities have heralded milk as nature s perfect food as indispensable and the most complete food These milk boosters have ranged from consumer activists to government nutritionists to the American Dairy Council and its ubiquitous milk moustache ads The image of milk as wholesome and body building has a long history but is it accurate Recently within the newest social movements around food milk has lost favor Vegan anti milk rhetoric portrays the dairy industry as cruel to animals and milk as bad for humans Recently books with titles like Milk The Deadly Poison and Don t Drink Your Milk have portrayed milk as toxic and unhealthy Controversies over genetically engineered cows and questions about antibiotic residue have also prompted consumers to question whether the milk they drink each day is truly good for them In Nature s Perfect Food Melanie Dupuis illuminates these questions by telling the story of how Americans came to drink milk We learn how cow s milk which was associated with bacteria and disease became a staple of the American diet Along the way we encounter 19th century evangelists who were convinced that cow s milk was the perfect food with divine properties brewers whose tainted cow feed poisoned the milk supply and informal wetnursing networks that were destroyed with the onset of urbanization and industrialization Informative and entertaining Nature s Perfect Food will be the standard work on the history of milk Substitute Parents Gillian Bentley,Ruth Mace,2012 From a comparative perspective human life histories are unique and raising offspring is unusually costly humans have relatively short birth intervals compared to other apes childhood is long mothers care simultaneously for many dependent children other apes raise one offspring at a time infant mortality is high in natural fertility mortality populations and human females have a long post reproductive lifespan These features conspire to make child raising very burdensome Mothers frequently defray these costs with paternal help not usual in other ape species although this contribution is not always enough Grandmothers elder siblings paid allocaters or society as a whole help to defray the costs of childcare both in our evolutionary past and now Studying offspring care in a various human societies and other mammalian species a wide range of specialists such as anthropologists psychologists animal behaviorists evolutionary ecologists economists and sociologists have contributed to this volume offering new insights into and a better understanding of one of the key areas of human society Beyond Regulations Nancy M. P. King, Gail E. Henderson, Jane Stein, 2005-10-12 Across a broad range of disciplines in medicine social science and the humanities researchers scholars teachers and administrators increasingly are looking for new ways to approach ethical issues in research with human subjects Questions about how relationships between funders and researchers should affect research design for example or whether the potential benefits of research can outweigh the importance of its subjects interests are inadequately addressed by the prevailing regulation based research ethics paradigm This book constitutes a reexamination of research ethics It combines case studies and commentaries by a multidisciplinary group of scholars and researchers to explore such topics as informed consent conflict of interest confidentiality and research on illegal behavior All human subjects research takes place within complex social cultural and political contexts the contributors argue Increased consideration of the relationships between researchers and their subjects funders and institutions within these contexts will facilitate research that is sensitive and responsible as well as scientifically fruitful Beyond Regulations features a keynote essay by Ruth Macklin Other contributors are Marcela Aracena Alvarez Jorge Balan B Susan Bauer Alan F Benjamin Lynn Blanchard Allan M Brandt J Pat Browder Barbara Entwisle Sue E Estroff Renee C Fox Lara Freidenfelds Gail E Henderson Nancy M P King Loretta M Kopelman Ernest N Kraybill Barry M Popkin Silvina Ramos Desmond K Runyan Jane Stein Ronald P Strauss Keith A Wailoo and Cynthia Waszak Across a broad range of disciplines in biomedicine the social sciences and the humanities researchers scholars administrators and teachers increasingly struggle with questions of ethics in research with human subjects All research takes place in complex social cultural political and economic contexts yet the prevailing principle based research ethics paradigm does not adequately account for them This book reexamines research ethics using a new relationships paradigm Through in depth cases commentaries and essays a multidisciplinary group of scholars and researchers addresses informed consent conflict of interest confidentiality and other issues considering questions like What relationships should researchers have with their subjects communities When researchers and subjects have different views about research who should have control How should relationships between funders and researchers affect research design Can research be so potentially beneficial that its importance outweighs the interests of subjects Examining the relationships between researchers and subjects communities funders and institutions including considerations of authority and voice can facilitate human subjects research that is morally sensitive and responsible as well as scientifically fruitful Cooking and Coping Among the Cacti Roberta D. Baer, 2014-05-01 Using data collected from 105 households in Sonora Mexico the author combines detailed ethnographic research with quantitative analyses of income diet and nutritional status to examine the dietary patterns of residents who cook and cope among the cacti Employing a new analytical concept of available income which can differ greatly from total income and provide valuable insight into why people eat what they do the work explores a variety of social and cultural factors that affect food expenditure and consumption Home production of food and the extent to which women are employed outside of the home are just two of the many variables discussed that influence available income and how it is used But even among groups with similar available incomes variables of ethnicity prestige nutritional knowledge and the desire for consumer goods come into play African Food Systems in Crisis: Microperspectives Rebecca Huss-Ashmore, Solomon H.
