Information Technology And The Challenge For Hong Kong:

Information Technology and the Challenge for Hong Kong Janice M. Burn, Maris G. Martinsons, 1997-09-01 The twenty first century is frequently cited as the Asia Pacific Century due to the phenomenal success of Asian countries over the last three decades Nowhere has this been more visible than in Hong Kong which became the first Newly Industrialized Economy to enter the world's top ten trading communities in 1991 This book describes the current state of information technology IT exploitation in Hong Kong and the role of IT in the rapid advancement of the Asia Pacific region It raises issues such as the impact of politics culture and societal growth on IT effectiveness but does not try to provide all the answers and is therefore of interest to both business and IT managers in global organizations or companies operating in cross cultural settings It is also invaluable for students of business management and IT who will play a strategic role in the future development of the new global economy

Global Networks, Linked Cities Saskia Sassen, 2016-04-15 In her pioneering book The Global City Saskia Sassen argued that certain cities in the postindustrial world have become central nodes in the new service economy strategic sites for the acceleration of capital and information flows as well as spaces of increasing socio economic polarization One effect has been that such cities have gained in importance and power relative to nation states In this new collection of essays Sassen and a distinguished group of contributors expand on the author's earlier work in a number of important ways focusing on two key issues First they look at how information flows have bound global cities together in networks creating a global city web whose constituent cities become global through the networks they participate in Second they investigate emerging global cities in the developing world Sao Paulo Shanghai Hong Kong Mexico City Beirut the Dubai Iran corridor and Buenos Aires They show how these globalizing zones are not only replicating many features of the top tier of global cities but are also generating new socio economic patterns as well These new patterns of development promise to lead to significant changes in the structure of the global economy as more and more cities worldwide are integrated into globalization s circuitry Includes contributions from Linda Garcia Patrice Riemens Geert Lovink Peter Taylor David Smith Michael Timberlake Stephen Graham Sueli Schiffer Ramos Christoff Parnreiter Felicity Gu David Meyer Pablo Ciccolella Iliana Mignaqui Eric Huybrechts Ali Parsa Also includes six maps The New Economy and APEC , This report from the APEC Economic Committee responds to the Action Agenda for the New Economy announced by APEC leaders at their meeting in Brunei in November 2000 and starts the task of underpinning the theme of Meeting New Challenges in the New Century for the 2001 year with China at the helm Towards a Knowledge-based Economy Seiichi Masuyama, Donna Vandenbrink, 2003-01-21 The evolution of the information and communications technology ICT paradigm is shifting the basis for economic activity from material and labour inputs to knowledge and information inputs spawning the knowledge based economy In East Asia it is evident that the emergence of the knowledge based economy is disrupting the flying geese pattern of development and creating a new industrial geography This book gives a picture of the shifting industrial geography in the region based on accounts of the status of the knowledge based economy in ten individual East Asian economies For some economies the increased production of ICT equipment and services is the pathway to the knowledge based economy and even to leapfrogging ahead of more advanced economies Other economies are focused on putting in place the physical and institutional infrastructure to connect to electronic networks and avoid the digital divide For yet others the emergence of the knowledge based economy is expanding their role in the region adding the role of ICT hub HUSITA7-The 7th International Conference of Human Services Information Technology Applications C. Cross-National Information and Communication Technology Policies and Practices in Education Tjeerd Plomp, Ronald E. Anderson, Nancy Law, Andreas Quale, 2009-04-01 This compendium of papers documents educational ICT policies and practices in 37 countries making it a valuable resource for understanding and comparing ICT related national policy developments in education We believe that this work offers a unique in depth examination of the trends within major education systems and how they have adapted to and taken advantage of the challenges and opportunities posed by the new information and communication technologies A special feature of this edition is that it allows for interesting comparative analyses of sub groups of countries as many Asian European Union and former eastern European countries as well as the United States and Canada among others are included in the book But it allows also for other than regional comparisons given that a number of newly industrialized countries such as Brazil Chile Malaysia and South Africa are represented in this book together with many OECD countries This book is the result of the effort and hard work of the contributing authors many of whom are the NRCs for IEA SITES in their respective countries Special thanks must go to the Norwegian Royal Ministry of Education and Research and the Netherlands Kennisnet ICT OP School Foundation both of which provided generous support for the preparation and dissemination of the book to the Center for Information Technology in Education CITE of the University of Hong Kong which assisted in the technical preparation of the manuscript and to the IEA Secretariat which facilitated the copyediting of the chapters We want to acknowledge especially the professional contribution of Paula Wagemaker who has copyedited the entire volume This copyediting work is especially critical and challenging as many of the chapters were written by authors for whom English is a foreign language We also want to express our appreciation to David Robitaille chair of the IEA Publications and Editorial Committee and his committee for the critical and constructive review of the manuscript

International Commercial Arbitration Simon Greenberg, Christopher Kee, J. Romesh Weeramantry, 2011-01-17 There has been an exponential rise in the use of ICA for resolving international business disputes yet international arbitration is a scarcely regulated specialty industry International Commercial Arbitration An Asia Pacific Perspective is the first book to explain ICA topic by topic with an Asia Pacific focus Written for students and practising lawyers alike this authoritative book covers the principles of ICA thoroughly and comparatively For each issue it utilises academic writings from Asia Europe and elsewhere and draws on examples of legislation arbitration procedural rules and case law from the major Asian jurisdictions Each principle is explained with a simple statement before proceeding to more technical theoretical or comparative content Real world scenarios are employed to demonstrate actual application to practice International Commercial Arbitration is an invaluable resource that provides unique insight into real arbitral practice specific to the Asia Pacific region within a global context

Sociological and Philosophical Perspectives on Education in the Asia-Pacific Region Chi-Ming Lam, Jae PARK, 2015-12-12 This book demonstrates the value of approaching education from a sociological and philosophical perspective Specifically it addresses current and long standing educational issues in the Asia Pacific region integrating sociological and philosophical insights with practical applications in four key areas educational aims moral education educational policy and the East West dichotomy It discusses educational aims in terms of rationality philosophical thinking and sustainable development and presents the literary religious and analytical approaches to moral education Four educational policies are then considered Hong Kong s language policy Hong Kong s policy on the internationalization of education East Asia s policies on English education and Australia s policy on teacher education

Different aspects of the East West dichotomy are analysed Confucian rationalism versus Western rationalism Confucian learning culture versus Western learning culture and Asian research methodology versus Western research methodology Taken as a whole the book shows that issues in education are rarely simple and looking at them from multiple perspectives allows for rich and informed debates It presents a rare philosophical and sociological analysis of the cultures and experiences of education in the Asia Pacific region and promotes research that leads to more culturally rooted educational policies and practice

Reforming Learning Clarence Ng, Peter D. Renshaw, 2008-11-23 In the wake of the 1997 Asian financial crisis various reform initiatives policies and programmes have been carried out in different countries within the Asia Pacific region All these reform efforts aim to restructure different aspects of schooling in order to promote learning and to prepare students for future challenges in globalised economies These measures to a certain extent challenge traditional practices established arrangements and deep seated assumptions related to different aspects of learning The authors in this book discuss educational reforms in different countries in the Asia Pacific region in light of student learning clarify their concepts evaluate implementation and impact on the learning processes with a hope that we can learn better from each other and develop a better understanding of contemporary learning and teaching processes within the region The central argument running through different chapters in this book highlights the importance of understanding reforms and learning within their historical political and sociocultural contexts Reforming learning involves changes in established cultural practices in our schools classrooms and other learning sites and therefore inevitably arouses tensions and negotiations The discussion in this book puts to the fore the disputable nature of reforming learning and the significance of contextualising the complex relationship between reforms and learning

Navigating Information Challenges Eli B. Cohen, 2011 World and Its Peoples, 2007 Most of what is known about the outside world remains superficial and stereotypical World and Its Peoples Eastern and Southern Asia brings a long rich story to light about ethnic groups the impact of terrain and natural resources and the influence of history This unique reference work maps out how the nations of the modern world became what they are today through photographs of the geography and people of foreign lands through discussion of ancient and contemporary works of art and events and through scores of maps detailing geographical features historic and modern places natural habitats rainfall locations of ethnic and linguistic groups natural resources and centers of industry and transportation No single resource assembles such comprehensive insight into the world and the people who live in it

Crime and Deviance in Cyberspace David S. Wall, 2017-07-05 This volume presents the reader with an interesting and at times provocative selection of contemporary thinking about cybercrimes and their regulation The contributions cover the years 2002 2007 during which period internet service delivery speeds increased a thousand fold from 56kb to 56mb per second When combined with advances in networked technology these faster internet speeds not only made new digital environments more easily accessible but they also helped give birth to a completely new generation of purely internet related cybercrimes ranging from spamming phishing and other automated frauds to automated crimes against the integrity of the systems and their content In order to understand these developments the volume introduces new cybercrime viewpoints and issues but also a critical edge supported by some of the new research that is beginning to challenge and surpass the hitherto journalistically driven news stories that were once the sole source of information about cybercrimes

Commercial Law in the South Pacific Mohammed L. Ahmadu, Bridget Fa'amatua'inau, 2024-09-25 This book provides a detailed examination of the core areas of commercial law in common law jurisdictions across a range of South Pacific countries Cook Islands Fiji Islands Kiribati Marshall Islands Niue Nauru Samoa Solomon Islands Tonga Tuvalu and Vanuatu Commerce is an area of central importance to the South Pacific region. Although the countries in question are small, it is widely acknowledged that their need to promote and develop commercial enterprise is crucial for their future sustainability. With a focus on case law and legislative provisions in individual jurisdictions, it sets out the framework of legal principles that regulate commercial activity within the South Pacific region, highlighting the common patterns and principal differences between countries of the region. It includes a discussion of PACER Plus, post-Cotonou discussions, and the EU OACPS Partnership Agreement, as well as key amendments and challenges to commercial law in the region. It explores the legal structures of commerce, control and management of commercial entities, banking and transactions, and termination. Importantly, the book has two new chapters on digital currency and e-commerce in the South Pacific, reflecting the increasing use of technology in financial and commercial transactions. Offering a detailed analysis of the legal principles that regulate commercial activity within the South Pacific region, this book will be a useful resource for students, academics, and practitioners working on commercial law in the South Pacific region.
