Infelicities Representations Of The Exotic:

Infelicities Peter Mason, 1998 In Infelicities Peter Mason explores the texts paintings drawings photographs and museum displays in which the exotic has been represented from the early modern period to the present He describes the unique iconography that Europeans developed to convey the exotic and the means they employed to display it once artifacts were brought to Europe In both instances the exotic object is taken out of its original context and given a meaning and significance it never had this new meaning and significance Mason argues are derived from the imposition of European cultural values and the need to recontextualize the object in a European setting

A Female Poetics of Empire Julia Kuehn, 2013-10-30 Many well known male writers produced fictions about colonial spaces and discussed the advantages of realism over romance and vice versa in the art of fiction debate of the 1880s but how did female writers contribute to colonial fiction This volume links fictional non fictional and pictorial representations of a colonial otherness with the late nineteenth century artistic concerns about representational conventions and possibilities The author explores these texts and images through the postcolonial framework of exoticism arguing that the epistemological dilemma of a self encountering an other results in the interrelated predicament to find poetic modalities mimetic realistic and documentary on the one hand romantic fantastic and picturesque on the other that befit an exotic representation Thus women writers did not only participate in the making of colonial fictions but also in the late nineteenth century artistic debate about the nature of fiction This book maps the epistemological concerns of exoticism and of difference self and other home and away familiarity and strangeness onto the representational modes of realism and romance The author focuses exclusively on female novelists travel writers and painters of the turn of the century exotic and especially on neglected authors of academically under researched genres such as the bestselling novel and the travelogue

Keywords for Travel Writing Studies Charles Forsdick, Zoë Kinsley, Kathryn Walchester, 2019-04-22 Keywords for Travel Writing Studies draws on the notion of the keyword as initially elaborated by Raymond Williams in his seminal 1976 text Keywords A Vocabulary of Culture and Society to present 100 concepts central to the study of travel writing as a literary form Each entry in the volume is around 1 000 words the style more essayistic than encyclopaedic with contributors reflecting on their chosen keyword from a variety of disciplinary perspectives The emphasis on travelogues and other cultural representations of mobility drawn from a range of national and linguistic traditions ensures that the volume has a comparative dimension the aim is to give an overview of each term in its historical and theoretical complexity providing readers with a clear sense of how the selected words are essential to a critical understanding of travel writing Each entry is complemented by an annotated bibliography of five essential items suggesting further reading

An Eye for the Tropics Krista A. Thompson, 2007-03-15 A beautifully illustrated look at the aesthetics and implications of the visual images used to sell Jamaica and the Bahamas to tourists as tropical paradises from the 1880s through the 1930s

Essays Susan Roberson, 2013-08-12 Positioning the Caribbean within the complexes of the world community this collection uses the metaphor of the global Caribbean to discuss the multiple movements identities epistemologies and politics of the West Indies Examining the processes of the transnational transport of peoples languages and literatures between the Caribbean Africa Europe and North America the essays look at the complexities of geographical intellectual and artistic migrations at the ways Caribbean writers negotiate the construction of literary and political identities and the ways in which the Caribbean influenced writers and thinkers in North America or Europe These kinds of reciprocal exchanges locate the islands of the Caribbean within a global context as recipients of multi and trans national influence and as makers of transnational meaning Building on the dynamic processes of globalization this collection suggests that the Caribbean provides a perspective for thinking about multiple intercultural connections with the Caribbean that include antebellum New Englanders the Jews of twentieth century Europe literary artists of seventeenth and eighteenth century England and France and modern pleasure seekers A culturally and linguistically rich region of the world the Caribbean also provides a fascinating literature of its own that is complicated by its history of migration and colonization as well as by its location between continents

Isfahan and its Palaces Sussan Babaie, 2008-07-14 Winner of the Houshang Pourshariati Iranian Studies Book Award 2009 This beautifully illustrated history of Safavid Isfahan 1501 1722 explores the architectural and urban forms and networks of socio cultural action that reflected a distinctly early modern and Perso Shi i practice of kingship An immense building campaign initiated in 1590 91 at the millennial threshold of the Islamic calendar 1000 A H transformed Isfahan from a provincial medieval and largely Sunni city into an urban centered representation of the first Imami Shi i empire in the history of Islam The historical process of Shi ification of Safavid Iran and the deployment of the arts in situating the shifts in the politico religious agenda of the imperial household informs Sussan Babaie s study of palatial architecture and urban environments of Isfahan and the earlier capitals of Tabriz and Qazvin Babaie argues that since the Safavid claim presumed the inheritance both of the charisma of the Shi i Imams and of the aura of royal splendor integral to ancient Persian notions of kingship a ceremonial regime was gradually devised in which access and proximity to the shah assumed the contours of an institutionalized form of feasting Talar palaces a new typology in Islamic palatial designs and the urban spatial articulation of access and proximity are the architectural anchors of this argument Cast in the comparative light of urban spaces and palace complexes elsewhere and earlier in the Timurid Ottoman and Mughal realms as well as in the early modern European capitals Safavid Isfahan emerges as the epitome of a new architectural urban paradigm in the early modern age

Mapping Ethnography in Early Modern Germany S. Leitch, 2010-09-27 As the first book length examination of the role of German print culture in mediating Europe s knowledge of the newly discovered people of Africa South Asia and the Americas this work highlights a unique and early incident of visual accuracy and an unprecedented investment in the practice of ethnography

Eye for Detail Florike Egmond, 2021-09-20 Image transforming techniques such as close up time lapse and layering are generally associated with the age of photography but as Florike Egmond shows in this book they were already being used half a millennium ago Exploring the world of natural history drawings from the Renaissance Eye for Detail shows how the function of identification led to image manipulation techniques that will look uncannily familiar to the modern viewer Egmond shows how the format of images in nature studies changed dramatically during the Renaissance period as high definition naturalistic representation became the rule during a robust output of plant and animal drawings She examines what visual techniques like magnification can tell us about how early modern Europeans studied and ordered living nature and she focuses on how attention to visual detail was motivated by an overriding question the secret of the origins of life Beautifully and precisely illustrated throughout this volume serves as an arresting guide to the massive European collections of nature drawings and an absorbing study of natural history art of the sixteenth century

Art, commerce and colonialism 1600-1800 Emma Barker,2018-07-01 The book re examines the field of Renaissance art history by exploring the art of this era in the light of global connections It considers the movement of objects ideas and technologies and its significance for European art and material culture analysing images through the lens of cultural encounter and conflict

Native Shakespeares Parmita Kapadia,2016-04-22 Explored in this essay collection is how Shakespeare is rewritten reinscribed and translated to fit within the local tradition values and languages of the world s various communities and cultures Contributors show that Shakespeare regardless of the medium theater pedagogy or literary studies is commonly rooted in the local customs of a people in ways that challenge the notion that his drama promotes a Western idealism Native Shakespeares examines how the persistent indigenization of Shakespeare complicates the traditional vision of his work as a voice of Western culture and colonial hegemony The international range of the collection and the focus on indigenous practices distinguishes Native Shakespeares from other available texts

Visualizing the Past in Italian Renaissance Art Jennifer Cochran Anderson,Douglas N. Dow,2021-03-22 The essays in Visualizing the Past in Italian Renaissance Art address a foundational concept that was as central to early modern thinking as it is to our own that the past is always an important part of the present Written by the friends students and colleagues of Dr Brian Curran former professor of Art History at the Pennsylvania State University these authors demonstrate how reverberations of the past within the present are intrinsic to the ways in which we think about the history of art Examinations of sculpture painting and architecture reveal the myriad ways that history has been appropriated reinvented and rewritten as subsequent generations including the authors collected here have attained new insight into the past and present

Visible Empire Daniela Bleichmar,2012-10-08 Between 1777 and 1816 botanical expeditions crisscrossed the vast Spanish empire in an ambitious project to survey the flora of much of the Americas the Caribbean and the Philippines While these voyages produced written texts and compiled collections of specimens they dedicated an overwhelming proportion of their resources and energy to the creation of visual materials European and American naturalists and artists collaborated to manufacture a staggering total of more than 12 000 botanical illustrations Yet these images have remained largely overlooked until now In this lavishly illustrated volume Daniela Bleichmar gives this archive its due finding in these botanical images a window into the worlds of Enlightenment science visual culture and empire Through innovative interdisciplinary scholarship that bridges the histories of science visual culture and the Hispanic world Bleichmar uses these images to trace two related histories the little known history of scientific expeditions in the Hispanic Enlightenment and the history of visual evidence in both science and administration in the early modern Spanish empire As Bleichmar shows in the Spanish empire visual epistemology operated not only in scientific contexts but also as part of an imperial apparatus that had a long established tradition of deploying visual evidence for administrative purposes Amerasia Elizabeth

Horodowich, Alexander Nagel, 2023-09-05 A connected world as imagined by early modern European artists mapmakers and writers where Asia and the Americas were on a continuum America and Asia mingled in the geographical and cultural imagination of Europe for well over a century after 1492 Through an array of texts maps objects and images produced between 1492 and 1700 this compelling and revelatory study immerses the reader in a vision of a world where Mexico really was India North America was an extension of China and South America was marked by a variety of biblical and Asian sites It asks further What does it mean that the Amerasian worldview predominated at a time when Europe itself was coming into cultural self definition Each of the chapters focuses on a particular artifact map image or book that illuminates aspects of Amerasia from specific European cultural milieus Amerasia shows how it was possible to inhabit a world where America and Asia were connected either imaginatively when viewed from afar or in reality when traveling through the newly encountered lands Readers will learn why early modern maps regularly label Mexico as India why the Amazonas region was named after a race of Asian female warriors and why artifacts and manuscripts that we now identify as Indian and Chinese are entangled in European collections with what we now label Americana Elizabeth Horodowich and Alexander Nagel pose a dynamic model of the world and of Europe's place in it that was eclipsed by the rise of Eurocentric colonialist narratives in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries To rediscover this history is an essential part of coming to terms with the emergent polyfocal global reality of our own time

Popular Bohemia Mary Gluck, 2009-07-01 This revisionist examination of the period between 1830 and 1914 reconnects the intellectual history of avant garde art with the cultural history of bohemia and the social history of the urban experience to reveal the circumstances in which a truly modernist culture emerged Imagology, 2007-01-01 How do national stereotypes emerge To which extent are they determined by historical or ideological circumstances or else by cultural literary or discursive conventions This first inclusive critical compendium on national characterizations and national cultural or ethnic stereotypes contains 120 articles by 73 contributors Its three parts offer 1 a number of in depth survey articles on ethnic and national images in European literatures and cultures over many centuries 2

an encyclopedic survey of the stereotypes and characterizations traditionally ascribed to various ethnicities and nationalities and 3 a conspectus of relevant concepts in various cultural fields and scholarly disciplines The volume as a whole as well as each of the articles has extensive bibliographies for further critical reading Imagology is intended both for students and for senior scholars facilitating not only a first acquaintance with the historical development typology and poetics of national stereotypes but also a deepening of our understanding and analytical perspective by interdisciplinary and comparative contextualization and extensive cross referencing

Eighteenth-Century Thing Theory in a Global Context Ileana Baird, Christina Ionescu, 2016-04-29 Exploring Enlightenment attitudes toward things and their relation to human subjects this collection offers a geographically wide ranging perspective on what the eighteenth century looked like beyond British or British colonial borders To highlight trends fashions and cultural imports of truly global significance the contributors draw their case studies from Western Europe Russia Africa Latin America and Oceania This survey underscores the multifarious ways in which new theoretical approaches such as thing theory or material and visual culture studies revise our understanding of the people and objects that inhabit the phenomenological spaces of the eighteenth century Rather than focusing on a particular geographical area or on the global as a juxtaposition of regions with a distinctive cultural footprint this collection draws attention to the unforeseen relational maps drawn by things in their global peregrinations celebrating the logic of serendipity that transforms the object into something else when it is placed in a new locale

Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa Elizabeth A. Sutton, 2017-07-05 Using Pieter de Marees Description and Historical Account of the Gold Kingdom of Guinea 1602 as her main source material author Elizabeth Sutton brings to bear approaches from the disciplines of art history and book history to explore the context in which De Marees account was created Since variations of the images and text were repeated in other European travel collections and decorated maps Sutton is able to trace how the framing of text and image shaped the formation of knowledge that continued to be repeated and distilled in later European depictions of Africans She reads the engravings in De Marees account as a demonstration of the intertwining domains of the Dutch pictorial tradition intellectual inquiry and Dutch mercantilism At the same time by analyzing the marketing tactics of the publisher Cornelis Claesz this study illuminates how early modern epistemological processes were influenced by the commodification of knowledge Sutton examines the book's construction and marketing to shed new light on the social milieus that shared interests in ethnography trade and travel Exploring how the images and text function together Sutton suggests that Dutch visual and intellectual traditions informed readers' choices for translating De Marees text visually Through the examination of early modern Dutch print culture Early Modern Dutch Prints of Africa expands the boundaries of our understanding of the European imperial enterprise

Contact and Exchange in Later Medieval Europe Hannah Skoda, Patrick Lantschner, R. L. J. Shaw, 2012 The complexity of the interplay and relationships over various borders in medieval Europe is here fully teased out The processes by which ideas objects texts and political thought and experience moved across boundaries in the Middle Ages form the focus of this book which also seeks to reassess the nature of the boundaries themselves it thus appropriately reflects a major theme of Dr Malcolm Vale's work which the essays collected here honour. They suggest ways of breaking down established historiographical paradigms of Europe as a set of distinct polities achieving a more nuanced picture in which people and objects were constantly moving and challenging previous conceptions of units and borders. The first section examines the construction of boundaries and units in the later Middle Ages via topics ranging from linguistic units to social stratifications and geographically from the Netherlands and Scotland to Gascony and the Iberian peninsula it reveals how much the relationship between exchange and boundaries was reciprocal. The second section considers the mechanisms by which it took place from West Africa to Italy and Flanders and discusses the actual exchange of people, texts and unusual artefacts. Overall the essays bear witness to the constant interplay and interconnections throughout medieval Europe and beyond. Contributors: Paul Booth, Maria João Violante Branco, Rita Costa Gomes, Mario Damen, Jan Dumolyn, Jean Dunbabin, Jean Philippe Genet, Michael Jones, Maurice Keen, Frédéric Lachaud, Patrick Lantschner, Guilhem Pèpin, R. L. J. Shaw, Hannah Skoda, Erik Spindler, John Watts.

The Lives of Images Peter Mason, 2001. Examines the history of European representations of non-European peoples. Visual Voyages Daniela Bleichmar, 2017-01-01. An unprecedented visual exploration of the intertwined histories of art and science of the old world and the new. From the voyages of Christopher Columbus to those of Alexander von Humboldt and Charles Darwin, the depiction of the natural world played a central role in shaping how people on both sides of the Atlantic understood and imaged the region we now know as Latin America. Nature provided incentives for exploration, commodities for trade, specimens for scientific investigation and manifestations of divine forces. It also yielded a rich trove of representations created both by natives to the region and visitors which are the subject of this lushly illustrated book. Author Daniela Bleichmar shows that these images were not only works of art but also instruments for the production of knowledge with scientific, social and political repercussions. Early depictions of Latin American nature introduced European audiences to native medicines and religious practices. By the 17th century, revelatory accounts of tobacco, chocolate and cochineal reshaped science, trade and empire around the globe. In the 18th and 19th centuries, collections and scientific expeditions produced both patriotic and imperial visions of Latin America. Through an interdisciplinary examination of more than 150 maps, illustrated manuscripts, still lifes and landscape paintings spanning four hundred years, Visual Voyages establishes Latin America as a critical site for scientific and artistic exploration, affirming that region's transformation and the transformation of Europe as vitally connected histories.
