Miller,2016-11-16 The sheer amount of resources on the subject of information literacy is staggering Yet a comprehensive but concise roadmap specifically for librarians who are new to instruction or who are charged with training someone who is has remained elusive Until now This book cuts through the jargon and rhetoric to ease the transition into library instruction offering support to all those involved including library supervisors colleagues and trainees Grounded in research on teaching and learning from numerous disciplines not just library literature this book shows how to set up new instruction librarians for success with advice on completing an environmental scan strategies for recruiting efficiently and a training checklist walks readers step by step through training a new hire or someone new to instruction complete with hands on activities and examples explores the different roles an instruction librarian is usually expected to play such as educator project manager instructional designer and teaching partner demonstrates the importance of performance evaluation and management including assessment and continuing education both formal and informal and provides guided reading lists for further in depth study of a topic A starter kit for librarians new to instruction this resource will be useful for training coordinators as well as for self training Reference and Information Services Richard E. Bopp,Linda C. Smith,2011-05-23 Reflecting the dramatic changes shaped by rapidly developing technologies over the past six years this new fourth edition of Reference and Information Services takes the introduction to reference sources and services significantly beyond the content of the first three editions In Part I Concepts and Processes chapters have been revised and updated to reflect new ideas and methods in the provision of reference service in an era when many users have access to the Web In Part II Information Sources and Their Use discussion of each source type has been updated to encompass key resources in print and on the Web where an increasing number of freely available sources join those purchased or licensed by libraries A number of new authors are contributors to this new edition bringing to their chapters their experience as teachers of reference and as practitioners in different types of libraries Discussions of services in Part I integrate digital reference as appropriate to each topic such as how to conduct a reference interview online using instant messaging Boxes interspersed in the text are used to present scenarios for discussion to highlight key concepts or to present excerpts from important documents Discussions of sources in Part II place more emphasis on designing effective search strategies using both print and digital resources The chapter on selection and evaluation of sources addresses the changing nature of reference collections and how to evaluate new types of sources Each chapter concludes with an updated list of additional readings to guide further study A new companion website will provide links to Web accessible readings and resources as well as additional scenarios for discussion and example search strategies to supplement those presented in the text

Critical Thinking Within the Library Program John Spencer, Christopher Millson-Martula, 2014-10-20 While academic librarians frequently discuss critical thinking and its relationship to information literacy the literature does not contain an abundance of sources on the topic Therefore this work provides a current and timely perspective on the possible roles of critical thinking within the library program The work contains a variety of approaches likely to benefit the practicing librarian It begins with a review of the literature followed by theoretical approaches involving constructivism and the Socratic method Readers will find pieces on the integration of critical thinking into the first year experience and course specific case studies as well as a selection on a campus wide critical thinking project In each of the pieces librarians are exploring new ways to meet their instructional goals including the goal of teaching critical thinking skills to students across the curriculum This book was originally published as a special issue of College Undergraduate Libraries American Reference Books Annual, 2002

Bohdan S. Wynar, Libraries Unlimited, 2002-05 This source of information on contemporary American reference works is intended for the library and information community It has nearly 1600 descriptive and evaluative entries and reviews material from more than 300 publishers in nearly 500 subject areas It should help the user keep abreast of reference publications in all fields answer everyday questions and build up reference collections
