studies their history in Canada remains little known Identifying as Arab in Canada begins to rectify this invisibilization by exploring the migration from Machrek the Middle East to Canada from the late 19th century through the 1970s Houda Asal breathes life into this migratory history and the people who made the journey and examines the public collective existence they created in Canada in order to understand both the identity Arabs have constructed for themselves here and the identity that has been constructed for them by the Canadian state Using archival research media analysis laws and statistics and a series of interviews Asal offers a thorough examination of the institutions these migrants and their descendants built and the various ways they expressed their identity and organized their religious social and political lives Identifying as Arab in Canada offers an impressively researched but accessibly written much needed glimpse into the long history of the Arab population in Canada

Causes of War Stephen Van Evera, 2013-01-14 What causes war How can military conflicts best be prevented In this book Stephen Van Evera frames five conditions that increase the risk of interstate war false optimism about the likely outcome of a war a first strike advantage fluctuation in the relative power of states circumstances that allow nations to parlay one conquest into another and circumstances that make conquest easy According to Van Evera all but one of these conditions false optimism rarely occur today but policymakers often erroneously believe in their existence He argues that these misperceptions are responsible for many modern wars and explores both World Wars the Korean War and the 1967 Mideast War as test cases Finally he assesses the possibility of nuclear war by applying all five hypotheses to its potential onset Van Evera's book demonstrates that ideas from the Realist paradigm can offer strong explanations for international conflict and valuable prescriptions for its control
