Heightened Consciousness Cultural Revolution And Curriculum Theory:

Heightened Consciousness, Cultural Revolution, and Curriculum Theory William F. Pinar, 1974 Understanding Curriculum William F. Pinar, 1995 Perhaps not since Ralph Tyler's 1949 Basic Principles of Curriculum and Instruction has a book communicated the field as completely as Understanding Curriculum. From historical discourses to breaking developments in feminist poststructuralist and racial theory including chapters on political theory, phenomenology, aesthetics, theology, international developments, and a lengthy chapter on institutional concerns, the American curriculum field is here. It will be an indispensable textbook for undergraduate and graduate courses alike. The Reconceptualization of Curriculum Studies Mary Aswell Doll, 2016-06-23 In this volume, scholars from around the world consider the influential work of William F. Pinar from a variety of conversations; his ideas have generated the major focus is on the What, Why, and How of the word reconceptualization, which involves engaging critically and ethically as public intellectuals with gender, class, and race issues theorized in a variety of disciplines. The book introduces Pinar's seminal argument for curriculum to return to its root in the word currere, the running of the course of study, and its key concepts: autobiography as alternative to the denial of subjectivity in traditional curriculum studies; study and place; issues addressed include the ethics of study, both of self and of the discipline of curriculum studies; the politics of presence; the curricular importance of entering the public sphere; the openness to complicating simple solutions; and the ethical dealing with alterity, the state of being other or different, otherness. A Praxis of Presence in Curriculum Theory William F. Pinar, 2022-08-31 Building on his seminal methodological contribution to the field, currere here, William F. Pinar posits a praxis of presence as a unique form of individual engagement against current cultural crises in education. Bringing together a series of updated essays, articles, and new writings to form this comprehensive volume, Pinar first demonstrates how a praxis of presence furthers the study of curriculum as lived experience to overcome self-enclosure, restart lived and historical time, and understand technology through a process of regression, progression, analysis, and synthesis. Pinar then further illustrates how this practice can inform curricular responses to countering presentism, narcissism, and techno-utopianism in educators' work with digital natives. Ultimately, this book offers researchers, scholars, and teacher-educators in the fields of curriculum theory, the sociology of education, and educational policy more broadly the analytical and methodological tools by which to advance their understanding of currere, and in doing so, allows them to tackle the main cultural issues that educators face today. Rethinking Curriculum Studies Martin Lawn, Senior Research Fellow in the Department of Education, Martin Lawn, Len Barton, 2012 This book reappraises the British and American experience in curriculum studies, the curious way in which it has been dominated by certain ideas, and introduces the reader to alternative ways of perceiving, defining, and approaching its problems. It provides a radical critique of the whole area, presenting both Marxist and phenomenological perspectives on the current dilemmas that teachers face. The book argues that in order to understand the problems teachers face in coping with the curriculum, we must look at the situation from the point of view of the individual rather than prescribing a norm for all teachers The dynamic relationship between the individual and the collective and the teacher and the state is one of the fundamental issues in solving the present problems in curriculum studies The book focuses on this central problem and suggests a variety of ways in which new solutions may be found

Johnson-Mardones,2018-04-09 Examining Curriculum Studies from an international perspective this book focuses on the relations between the Anglo Saxon and Latin American educational traditions Informed by William F Pinar s conceptualization of curriculum as currere Johnson Mardones reconsiders curriculum as an international conversation and advances an intercultural dialogue among educational traditions to put forth a more comprehensive and inclusive theory of curriculum Moving beyond the Anglo Saxon space and into the Global South Johnson Mardones brings in his own non Western educational experience to the center of this inquiry and situates cosmopolitanism as a necessary but complex component of Curriculum Studies

Moving Images of Eternity William F. Pinar, 2019-03-26 William F Pinar presents a comprehensive and original study that demonstrates the significance and pertinence of the scholarship of George Grant for teaching today While there are studies of Grant's political philosophy there has been no sustained study of his teaching Pinar not only draws upon the collected works he has also consulted Grant's PhD thesis at Oxford as well as the philosopher's biography collected letters and the vast secondary literature What emerges is a treatise that reveals Grant's timeliness and his prescience in identifying and critiquing key educational issues nearly half a century ago from academic vocationalism and educational technology to privatization and the ascendancy of research issues that are eminently relevant today Beyond the classroom Grant's concerns extended to the impact of economic globalization which he feared would erase distinctive national histories and cultures As such Grant foresaw the current issues of right wing populism notably in the UK and the US as reactions against these historical tendencies This volume is destined to become an indispensable reference work for students of Grant in particular and for students of education in general This book is published in English
