A Woman's View Jeanine Basinger, 2013-09-04 Now Voyager Stella Dallas Leaver Her to Heaven Imitation of Life Mildred Pierce Gilda these are only a few of the hundreds of women's films that poured out of Hollywood during the thirties forties and fifties The films were widely disparate in subject sentiment and technique they nonetheless shared one dual purpose to provide the audience of women primarily with temporary liberation into a screen dream of romance sexuality luxury suffering or even wickedness and then send it home reminded of reassured by and resigned to the fact that no matter what else she might do a woman's most important job was to be a woman Now with boundless knowledge and infectious enthusiasm Jeanine Basinger illuminates the various surprising and subversive ways in which women's films delivered their message Basinger examines dozens of films exploring the seemingly intractable contradictions at the convoluted heart of the woman's genre among them the dilemma of the strong and glamorous woman who cedes her power when she feels it threatening her personal happiness and the self-abnegating woman whose selflessness is not always as noble as it appears Basinger looks at the stars who played these women and helps us understand the qualities the right off screen personae the right on screen attitudes the right faces that made them personify the woman's film and equipped them to make believable drama or comedy out of the crackpot plots the conflicting ideas and the exaggerations of real behavior that characterize these movies In each of the films the author discusses whether melodrama screwball comedy musical film noir western or biopic a woman occupies the center of her particular universe Her story in its endless variations of rags to riches boy meets girl battle of the sexes mother love doomed romance inevitably sends a highly potent mixed message Yes you women belong in your proper place that is content with the Big Three of the woman's film world men marriage and motherhood but meanwhile and paradoxically see what fun glamour and power you can enjoy along the way A Woman's View deepens our understanding of the times and circumstances and attitudes out of which these movies were created

A Woman's Place Edwina Currie, 2012-07-05 As the rumours subside and the cheering stops Elaine Stalker MP watches with a pang of regret as Roger Dickson takes up the reins of government as Prime Minister She has intimate knowledge of just how competent and decent her ex lover is but his new role of necessity curtails their close friendship Yet Roger recognises Elaine's drive and quickly appoints her Junior Minister in a newly created government department It is a political hot seat and one that finds Elaine ruefully concluding that in the corridors of power a woman's place is usually in the wrong A powerful sequel to A Parliamentary Affair
