Poem For Jesus Sheralyn Turner,2025-02-17 For me poetry has always been a sanctuary a place where I could pour the unspoken pieces of my heart It s not just about words it s about releasing emotions I didn t even realize were buried inside My poems reflect a journey of healing growth and rediscovery of my own strength They are born from moments of darkness where I struggled to find light and from seasons of numbness where I longed to feel again There was a time when my heart felt locked away burdened by past hurts failures and rejection Life seemed heavy and I wondered if I would ever truly find joy again But even in those moments I found solace in writing My pen became a vessel for the prayers I couldn t always speak and the tears I didn t always cry Each poem became a conversation with God and with myself peeling back layers of pain and opening me up to hope Through poetry I ve learned to see beauty in the brokenness I write not just to inspire myself but to remind others that no matter how deep the shadows there is always light waiting to break through My words come from a place of faith and resilience a quiet determination to rise again no matter how many times I ve fallen Every poem I write reflects a heart that refuses to give up a heart that finds joy in God s grace and strength in His promises It s my way of saying This is where I ve been but it s not where I ll stay Writing reminds me that our stories even the hard parts have power and

The Ecological Approach to Visual Perception James J. Gibson,2014-11-20 This book first published in 1979 is about how we see the environment around us its surfaces their layout and their colors and textures where we are in the environment whether or not we are moving and if we are where we are going what things are good for how to do things to thread a needle or drive an automobile or why things look as they do The basic assumption is that vision depends on the eye which is connected to the brain The author suggests that natural vision depends on the eyes in the head on a body supported by the ground the brain being only the central organ of a complete visual system When no constraints are put on the visual system people look around walk up to something interesting and move around it so as to see it from all sides and go from one vista to another That is natural vision and what this book is about Mesehowe John Mitchell Mitchell,1863 The

Round Heads Jitka Soukopova,2013-01-16 The Central Sahara is considered the greatest museum of rock art in the world containing several thousand prehistoric and recent images The oldest paintings called Round Heads originated during a humid phase in the 10th millennium before present and they were created by dark skinned hunter gatherers living in the Algerian and Libyan mountains Rock shelters show mainly anthropomorphic figures with body paintings and other embellishments testifying ancient rituals and ceremonies Only two animal species antelope and mouflon appear to be as important as men and women mixed with them on the same walls these animals had a fundamental place in the ideology of the period Since the discovery by Europeans in the 19th century research in the Sahara has been scarce due to the difficult working conditions and to the problematic politics associated with national permissions The rock art and the archaeology have always been treated as separated disciplines and only rarely were the paintings associated with a material culture They have been described and classified but not interpreted because it was considered unachievable Using interdisciplinary studies this book approaches the previously neglected fields of the study of Saharan rock art and it proposes new ways to research the art and the societies that created it
