An Adventure in Service-Learning Anto T. Kerins, 2016-04-08 An Adventure in Service Learning argues that education can provide not just knowledge and skills but it can also encourage the development of values and responsibility Service Learning is a teaching method unlike any other It allows students to use their classroom theory to help others through relevant service or volunteering activity In so doing it gives students the opportunity to use the experiences of helping others to strengthen their understanding of subject material Service learning is like a bridge that connects education with the outside world It breathes life and clarity into any subject and better prepares students for life after college An Adventure in Service Learning is a well written and easy to read book It introduces the newcomer to service learning and provides the seasoned practitioner with an important analysis of this most interesting of teaching methods Its discussion of learning and the role of higher education will interest educationalists and its consideration of service will be important to those who are concerned about community A passionate belief in education and its possibilities permeates An Adventure in Service Learning The book examines service learning in project management leadership and management consultancy and provides readers with an understanding of how the method can work in any subject or discipline It clarifies the need for community and discusses the nature and possibilities of what it means to be human The book will help to renew and reinvigorate practitioners policy makers and the education system as a whole

Reshaping Universities for Survival in the 21st Century Christina Chow, Clement Leung, 2016-01-21 Universities are viewed by many as institutions that should impart quality education to enrolled students and foster a learning environment which in turn would benefit the accumulation of knowledge worldwide Enhancing university education is at the top of most governmental agendas In this knowledge driven economy every nation wants to have the world's top ranked universities Every parent wants to send their child to a top university And most people want to have a good university degree that gives them good prospects for landing a respectable job But universities are currently in turmoil mass redundancies and department closures have become routine Once revered as ivory towers of learning today's universities are forced to regard their students as consumers and customers Many universities are now torn between labor market forces and increasing public expectations and accountability University administration departments struggle with declining funding and increased cost scrutiny Challenged on multiple fronts universities are faced with conflicting agendas They are expected to develop world class reputations in research an academic agenda while teaching increasing numbers of students a commercial agenda They are required to be engines of economic development while maintaining comprehensive scholarly profiles Numerous reports and headlines predict the demise of universities emphasizing that the current educational and business model is not viable Reshaping Universities for Survival in the 21st Century New Opportunities and Paradigms suggests possible paths which universities might take to survive in the future by providing a compelling account of the landscape of today s universities and the challenges they face Readers will learn about the current crises which universities face followed by an explanation of the ideologies and paradigms that have shaped the current academic landscape New trends and concepts in university education are also explained such as academic capitalism and MOOCs Written in clear easy to understand language it is a must read for anyone who studies works or is interested in the higher education sector including university and government leaders and educational policy makers

Building Higher Education Cooperation with the EU Elizabeth Balbachevsky,Yuzhuo Cai,Heather Eggins,Svetlana Shenderova,2020-12-15 International cooperation in higher education is not new but gained new urgency in recent years with the expansion of the knowledge economy the easy flow of communications and the emulation created by international rankings In the European Union s countries international competition and the process of political and economic unification required national higher education institutions to give priority to international cooperation while large countries such as Russia China Brazil and South Africa intensified their effort to modernise their institutions and link them to the international flow of science technology and talent leading similar trends in other countries in their regions These global trends are shaped by the national culture and institutions of each country and the existing national and international cooperation policies and instruments on all sides In Building Higher Education Cooperation with the EU Challenges and Opportunities from Four Continents the authors look at how these interactions occur from the perspectives of the European Union and the countries involved and make recommendations on policies that could make international cooperation more fluid and beneficial to all parties involved

Navigating Computer Science Education in the 21st Century Bosch, Chantelle,Goosen, Leila,Chetty, Jacqui,2024-02-26 Students often face challenges in a swiftly advancing Computer Science Education CSE where technologies evolve rapidly and concepts unfold with overwhelming intricacies As society becomes interwoven with technology how essential is the integration of CSE into the educational framework to adequately equip future generations for the complexities of the digital era Navigating Computer Science Education in the 21st Century advocates integrating CSE into curricula underlining its crucial role in early childhood development The book grapples with the challenge of introducing children to technology responsibly addressing concerns about unmonitored screen time while emphasizing the necessity of evidence based approaches for educators Within these pages effective teaching strategies are linked to successes in CSE The book explores learner centered teaching methodologies in computer science emphasizing individualized instruction active learning and collaborative approaches It evaluates the effectiveness of traditional lecture based teaching against more innovative strategies such as game based learning and collaborative approaches By presenting studies that delve into the impact of these strategies on student engagement and motivation the book equips educators with the insights needed to make informed decisions tailored to diverse learning environments Curriculum Models for the 21st Century Maree Gosper,Dirk Ifenthaler,2013-08-28

Changing student profiles and the increasing availability of mainstream and specialized learning technologies are stretching the traditional face to face models of teaching and learning in higher education Institutions too are facing far reaching systemic changes which are placing strains on existing resources and physical infrastructure and calling into question traditional ways of teaching through lectures and tutorials And with an ever increasing scrutiny on teaching and teachers accountability for positive educational outcomes the call for closer attention to learning teaching and most especially to the design and delivery of the curriculum is given increasing relevance and importance Research provides strong evidence of the potential for technologies to facilitate not only cognition and learning but also to become integral components in the redesign of current curriculum models Some Universities and individual academics have moved along this pathway developing new and innovative curriculum blending pedagogies and technologies to suit their circumstances Yet there are others unsure of the possibilities the opportunities and constraints in these changing times Curriculum Models for the 21st Century gives insights into how teaching and learning can be done differently The focus is on a whole of curriculum approach looking at theoretical models and examples of practice which capitalize on the potential of technologies to deliver variations and alternatives to the more traditional lecture based model of University teaching IJER Vol 22-N3 International Journal of Educational Reform,2013-07-05 The mission of the International Journal of Educational Reform IJER is to keep readers up to date with worldwide developments in education reform by providing scholarly information and practical analysis from recognized international authorities As the only peer reviewed scholarly publication that combines authors voices without regard for the political affiliations perspectives or research methodologies IJER provides readers with a balanced view of all sides of the political and educational mainstream To this end IJER includes but is not limited to inquiry based and opinion pieces on developments in such areas as policy administration curriculum instruction law and research IJER should thus be of interest to professional educators with decision making roles and policymakers at all levels turn since it provides a broad based conversation between and among policymakers practitioners and academicians about reform goals objectives and methods for success throughout the world Readers can call on IJER to learn from an international group of reform implementers by discovering what they can do that has actually worked IJER can also help readers to understand the pitfalls of current reforms in order to avoid making similar mistakes Finally it is the mission of IJER to help readers to learn about key issues in school reform from movers and shakers who help to study and shape the power base directing educational reform in the U S and the world Higher Education in the Twenty-first Century ,1998 General Education and the Development of Global Citizenship in Hong Kong, Taiwan and Mainland China Jun Xing,2013 General Education has taken center stage in the greater China area Hong Kong Taiwan and mainland China because of a number of important developments First globalization has created both opportunities and challenges for college students When they graduate and enter the real world they must have the cultural sensitivities and social skills in addition to their professional training to compete in a knowledge based global economy Equally significant for institutions of higher education pressing global problems challenge traditional disciplines and demand new forms of learning that reshapes the boundaries of knowledge In response to those rapidly changing dynamics general education has taken an increasingly important role in undergraduate education As the first English publication on the subject this anthology brings together a distinguished group of General Education scholars and teachers from Hong Kong Taiwan and mainland China

Universities and Economic Development in Africa Nico Cloete, Tracy Bailey, Peter A. M. Maassen, 2011 Universities and economic development in Africa Pact academic core and coordination draws together evidence and synthesises the findings from eight African case studies The three key findings presented in this report are as follows 1 There is a lack of clarity and agreement pact about a development model and the role of higher education in development at both national and institutional levels There is however an increasing awareness particularly at government level of the importance of universities in the global context of the knowledge economy 2 Research production at the eight African universities is not strong enough to enable them to build on their traditional undergraduate teaching roles and make a sustained contribution to development via new knowledge production A number of universities have manageable student staff ratios and adequately qualified staff but inadequate funds for staff to engage in research In addition the incentive regimes do not support knowledge production 3 In none of the countries in the sample is there a coordinated effort between government external stakeholders and the university to systematically strengthen the contribution that the university can make to development While at each of the universities there are exemplary development projects that connect strongly to external stakeholders and strengthen the academic core the challenge is how to increase the number of these projects The project on which this report is based forms part of a larger study on Higher Education and Economic Development in Africa undertaken by the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa HERANA HERANA is coordinated by the Centre for Higher Education Transformation in South Africa The Co-creative University Łukasz Mamica,2021-06-29 The co creative university has become the main driver of social and economic development stimulating internal students and academics and external creativity companies and institutional environment as well as cooperation in various areas e g applied graduation theses research projects lifelong learning Intended as a contribution to a better understanding of how universities create value in numerous areas this book discusses the determinants of creativity and ways of stimulating it with a special focus on approaches and practical solutions relevant to teaching Examples include problem oriented student theses which represent a successful combination of creativity with practical knowledge Based on the findings of international surveys of students the author offers an in depth analysis of the differences between what they expect from universities and the degree to which their expectations are met Comparing students opinions with those of employees of international corporations working graduates permitted the author to test the actual utility of selected aspects of university education Regrettably both groups of respondents gave low ratings to support for developing creativity which should serve as a warning sign and inform future reforms at this level of education This book is primarily targeted to those involved in education policy making and socio economic development It provides a rich source of information for university managers on how to better fulfil their missions based on the idea of co creativity It also suggests how to improve the effectiveness of research and education in order to ensure that both can better respond to current development challenges
