Highly Recommended Teachers:

The Best Teachers in the World John E. Chubb, Benno C. Schmidt, 2013-09-01 John Chubb shows how we can raise student achievement to levels comparable to those of the best nations in the world through a radically new strategy for raising teacher quality. He asserts that we must attract and retain much higher caliber individuals in teaching which we can accomplish by reducing the size and increasing the compensation of the teaching force via technology, abolishing licensing and training teachers in institutions and programs that have demonstrated their efficacy in producing effective and improving the quality of school leadership on which teaching quality heavily depends. Ten Traits of Highly Effective Teachers

Elaine K. McEwan, 2001-09-21 Discover the qualities that yield exceptional performance and far reaching success. As all educators increasingly face the pressures of accountability, filling our schools with effective teachers skilled at fostering outstanding academic achievement has never been more important. In this quick read resource, Elaine McEwan explores the ten characteristics that lead to success in the classroom: increased school morale, satisfied parents and eager high achieving students. This highly organized and user friendly guide shares practical insights into these ten crucial traits through real life examples, experiences, research and personal reflections from students, parents and educators at all levels. Special features include numerous graphic organizers to clearly illustrate the ten traits, more than 50 interview questions based on the ten traits to help administrators and teachers prepare for the all important interview process, dozens of exercises for principals to use to energize experienced teachers, empower new teachers and nurture the ten traits. Examples from research highlight the relationship between the traits and student achievement.

Simply the Best Kelly E. Middleton, Elizabeth A. Pettit, 2010-04 Simply the Best acknowledges the importance of listening to students to inform our efforts in schools. Schools and teachers can find extensive support for an intentional focus on developing relationships in schools and how these relationships result in improved academic performance, in reducing achievement gaps and in promoting safe schools and productive learning environments for students. Students should be more than passive participants in the educational process. They can articulate teacher behaviors that make a difference for them. Simply the Best utilizes not only a research voice to identify practices schools should consider around relationships but also enlists the student voice. Focus groups of students from elementary, middle and high were interviewed and an array of research using student surveys and perspectives consulted, resulting in the identification of twenty nine (29) practices that characterize the best teachers. Simply the Best outlines a research and a student perspective considering relationships.
