King of the World : the Padshahnama : an Imperial Mughal Manuscript from the Royal Library, Windsor Castle ,1997 King of the World Milo Cleveland Beach,Ebba Koch,1997 The Padshahnama Chronoicle Of The King Of The World Written By Abdul Hamid Lahwri Has Long Been Recognied As One Of The Greatest Works Made For Mughal Emperor Shahjahan The Volume That Is Now In The Royal Library At Windsor Castle Documents The First Ten Years Of The Emperor S Rule The Art of Cloth in Mughal India Sylvia Houghteling,2022-03-29 When a rich man in seventeenth century South Asia enjoyed a peaceful night s sleep he imagined himself enveloped in a velvet sleep In the poetic imagination of the time the fine dew of early evening was like a thin cotton cloth from Bengal and woolen shawls of downy pashmina sent by the Mughal emperors to their trusted noblemen approximated the soft hand of the ruler on the vassal s shoulder Textiles in seventeenth century South Asia represented more than cloth to their makers and users They simulated sensory experience from natural environmental conditions to intimate personal touch The Art of Cloth in Mughal India is the first art historical account of South Asian textiles from the early modern era Author Sylvia Houghteling resurrects a truth that seventeenth century world citizens knew but which has been forgotten in the modern era South Asian cloth ranked among the highest forms of art in the global hierarchy of luxury goods and had a major impact on culture and communication While studies abound in economic history about the global trade in Indian textiles that flourished from the seventeenth to the nineteenth centuries they rarely engage with the material itself and are less concerned with the artistic and much less the literary and social significance of the taste for cloth This book is richly illustrated with images of textiles garments and paintings that are held in little known collections and have rarely if ever been published Rather than rely solely on records of European trading companies Houghteling draws upon poetry in local languages and integrates archival research from unpublished royal Indian inventories to tell a new history of this material culture one with a far more balanced view of its manufacture and use as well as its purchase and trade The Routledge Companion to Global Renaissance Art Stephen J. Campbell,Stephanie Porras,2024-01-22 This companion examines the global Renaissance through object based case studies of artistic production from Africa Asia the Americas and Europe in the early modern period The international group of contributors take an art historical approach characterized by close analysis of form and meaning as well as function and a focus on questions of crosscultural dialogue and adaptation Seeking to de emphasize the traditional focus on Europe this book is a critical guide to the literature and the state of the field Chapters outline new questions and agendas while pushing beyond familiar material Main themes include workshops the migrations of artists objects technologies diplomatic gifts imperial ideologies ethnicity and indigeneity sacred spaces and image cults as well as engaging with the open questions of the Renaissance and the global This will be a useful and important resource for researchers and students alike and will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual culture material culture and Renaissance studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.routledge.com/9781032111111

The Millennial Sovereign A. Azfar Moin, 2012-10-16 At the end of the sixteenth century and the turn of the first Islamic millennium the powerful Mughal emperor Akbar declared himself the most sacred being on earth The holiest of all saints and above the distinctions of religion he styled himself as the messiah reborn Yet the Mughal emperor was not alone in doing so In this field changing study A. Azfar Moin explores why Muslim sovereigns in this period began to imitate the exalted nature of Sufi saints Uncovering a startling yet widespread phenomenon he shows how the charismatic pull of sainthood wilayat rather than the draw of religious law sharia or holy war jihad inspired a new style of sovereignty in Islam A work of history richly informed by the anthropology of religion and art The Millennial Sovereign traces how royal dynastic cults and shrine centered Sufism came together in the imperial cultures of Timurid Central Asia Safavid Iran and Mughal India By juxtaposing imperial chronicles paintings and architecture with theories of sainthood apocalyptic treatises and manuals on astrology and magic Moin uncovers a pattern of Islamic politics shaped by Sufi and millennial motifs He shows how alchemical symbols and astrological rituals enveloped the body of the monarch casting him as both spiritual guide and material lord Ultimately Moin offers a striking new perspective on the history of Islam and the religious and political developments linking South Asia and Iran in early modern times

December 1572 the Mughal emperor Akbar arrived in the port city of Khambayat Having been raised in distant Kabul Akbar in his thirty years had never been to the ocean Presumably anxious with the news about the Mughal military campaign in Gujarat several Portuguese merchants in Khambayat rushed to Akbar s presence This encounter marked the beginning of a long complex and unequal relationship between a continental Muslim empire that was expanding into south India often looking back to Central Asia and a European Christian maritime empire whose rulers considered themselves kings of the sea By the middle of the seventeenth century these two empires faced each other across thousands of kilometres from Sind to Bijapur with a supplementary eastern arm in faraway Bengal Focusing on borderland management imperial projects and cross cultural circulation this volume delves into the ways in which between c 1570 and c 1640 the Portuguese understood and dealt with their undesirably close neighbours the Mughals tombs gardens monastic spaces performances and pilgrimages Taj Mahal Caroline Arnold,2007-01-01 The Taj Mahal is undoubtedly one of the most spectacular buildings of the world renowned for its architectural magnificence and aesthetic beauty It is a rare book that can do justice to such a structure but the grace and elegance of Rahul Bhushan s work captures the culture and the people that created the magnificent building The story is a beautiful one telling how Shah Jahan achieved immortality for himself and his departed wife Mumtaz Mahal by fulfilling her wish for a memorable tomb The building itself is so exquisite that the Taj Mahal is more than an expression of one man s love for a woman it has become a symbol of grace and beauty and a monument to universal love Justifying Transgression Gijs Kruijtzer,2023-11-20 How do people justify what others see as transgression Taking that question to the Persian Muslim and Latin Christian worlds over the period 1200 to 1700 this book shows that people in both these worlds invested considerable energy in worrying debating and writing about proscribed practices It compares how people in the two worlds came to terms with the proscriptions of sodomy idolatry and usury When historians speak of the gap between premodern practice and the legal theory of the time they tend to ignore the myriad of justifications that filled this gap Moreover a focus on justification evens out many of the contrasts that have been alleged to exist between the two worlds or the Muslim and Christian worlds more generally The similarities outweigh the differences in the ways people came to terms with the various rules of divine law The level of flexibility of the theologians and jurists in charge of divine law varied more over time and by topic than between the two worlds Both worlds also saw the development of ever more sophisticated justifications Amid the increasing complexity of justifications a particular kind of reasoning emerged that good outcomes are more important than upholding rules for their own sake Masterpieces from the Department of Islamic Art in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.),Maryam Ekhtiar,2011 This book explores the great diversity and range of Islamic culture through one of the finest collections in the world Published to coincide with the historic reopening of the galleries of the Metropolitan Museum s Islamic Art Department it presents nearly three hundred masterworks created in the rich tradition of the Islamic faith and culture The Metropolitan s renowned holdings range chronologically from the origins of Islam in the 7th century through the 19th century and geographically from as far west as Spain to as far east as Southeast Asia Islamic Arms and Armor in The Metropolitan Museum of Art David G. Alexander,2015-12-31 Armor and weaponry were central to Islamic culture not only as a means of conquest and the spread of the faith but also as symbols of status wealth and power The finest arms were made by master craftsmen working with the leading designers goldsmiths and jewelers whose work transformed utilitarian military equipment into courtly works of art This book reveals the diversity and artistic quality of one of the most important and encyclopedic collections of its kind in the West The Metropolitan Museum s holdings span ten centuries and include representative pieces from almost every Islamic culture from Spain to the Caucasus The collection includes rare early works among them the oldest documented Islamic sword and is rich in helmets and body armor decorated with calligraphy and arabesques that were worn in Iran and Anatolia in the late fifteenth century Other masterpieces include a jeweled short sword yatagan with a blade of watered steel that comes from the court of S leyman the Magnificent a seventeenth century gold inlaid armor associated with Shah Jahan and two gold inlaid flintlock firearms belonging to the guard of Tipu Sultan of Mysore Presenting 126 objects each handsomely photographed and richly documented with a detailed description and discussion of its technical historical and artistic importance this overview of the Met s holdings is supplemented by an introductory essay on the formation of the collection and appendixes on iconography and on Turkman style armor
