Kipligat's Chance:

Kipligat's Chance David Nandi Odhiambo, 2003 This bittersweet novel portrays John Leeds Kipligat a 16 year old Kenyan migr living in Vancouver who decides to become a runner to escape the poverty family strife and mind numbing routine of his daily life But the path to a track scholarship is fraught with obstacles physical mental and emotional As Leeds starts to train and recognizes within himself a powerful yearning to run his own self destructive tendencies begin to chase him Is he running toward his future or away from the pain of his past Set amidst a compellingly depicted diverse community of urban down and out runners Kipligat s Chance features a protagonist who is utterly convincing in his humanity sweetness humour and courage Kipligat's Chance ,2004-10-01 What's a Black Critic to Do? Donna Bailey Nurse, 2009 This collection of profiles interviews essays and reviews on such well known writers as Ken Burns Dionne Brand Austin Clarke and Edwidge Danticat constitutes a frank conversation on the significance of race in the work of contemporary Black artists

Pathfinders Travel ,2004 The Routledge Handbook of Black Canadian Literature Andrea A. Davis, Leslie Sanders, 2024-12-09 The Routledge Handbook of Black Canadian Literature offers a comprehensive overview of the growing and increasingly significant field of Black Canadian literary studies Including historical and contemporary analysis this volume is an essential text that maps the field over the almost 200 years of its existence across a range of genres from slave narratives to prose fiction poetry theatre and dub and spoken word It presents Black Canadian literature as encompassing a diverse set of viewpoints approaches and practices touching every aspect of Canadian territory and life and as deeply influencing debates and understandings of Black peoples far beyond its borders This Handbook employs an interdisciplinary framework that incorporates literary historical geographical and cultural analysis This book comprising 32 chapters is organized into five sections that chart the literature s development into a recognizable canon trace Black literary geographies across Canada from east to west delineate the literature s various genres and expressive forms and honor the writers and thinkers who have influenced the growth of the field This volume s range of subject and plurality of perspectives provide an excellent resource for teachers researchers and students from multiple disciplines including Canadian studies and literature Caribbean studies global Black studies hemispheric studies diaspora studies history and cultural studies Race In Play Carl E. James, 2005-04-01 Dr Carl E James is well known for his work in the area of the sociology of sport Race in Play is on the continuum of his earlier research in the sociology of sport youth race and education James takes the reader on an edifying walk through the structural and institutional community which supports and sustains sports while at the same time making individual links between sports schooling and career aspirations among youth He also explores issues of race radicalised minority youth and Black men and women in sport The Reverend's Apprentice (Large Print 16pt) David N. Odhiambo, 2010-06 The Reverend s Apprentice the third novel by David N Odhiambo is a powerful tragicomic novel about power culture and identity politics in contemporary America as seen through the eyes of an African student Jonah Ayot is a graduate student from a fictional central African nation studying in a fictional American city some time after the US invasion of Iraq in 2003 the novel mirrors Jonah's own struggle as a newcomer to American life trying to organize his perceptions around an identity that is global rather than parochial But those perceptions become muddled in the reality of the new war zone on American soil where the foreign becomes familiar and the familiar is no longer what it used to be Dissonant frantic and full of the white noise of a culture at war with itself The Reverend's Apprentice takes the familiar story of the stranger in a strange land to new disturbing breathtaking new levels The American magazine Black Issues Book Review has said David Odhiambo joins a third guard of African novelists made up of peers like Uganda's Moses Iseigawa and Nigeria's Chris Abani The books of this younger generation of African writers heirs to the continent's greats from Chinua Achebe to Mark Mathabane shed the starched language and steep romanticism of Africa's literary tradition to expose the rawer hipper more vulgar aspects of life as lived by most Africans today

The Cambridge Companion to Canadian Literature Eva-Marie Kröller, 2004-02-05 This book offers a comprehensive and engaging introduction to major writers genres and topics in Canadian literature Contributors pay attention to the social political and economic developments that have informed literary events Broad surveys of fiction drama and poetry are complemented by chapters on Aboriginal writing francophone writing autobiography literary criticism writing by women and the emergence of urban writing in a country traditionally defined by its regions Also discussed are genres that have a special place in Canadian literature such as nature writing exploration and travel writing and short fiction

Kipligat's Chance David Odhiambo, 2004-10-01 John Leeds Kipligat is a 17 year old Kenyan emigre living with his parents in a bleak Vancouver housing project At the urging of his best friend a fellow Kenyan named Kulvinder Sharma he tries out for a local track club Their goal to run fast enough to get scholarships to American universities and escape poverty problems at home and the neighborhood For Leeds running reminds him of the life in Kenya that he and his family were forced to flee its only palpable legacy the deterioration of his parents marriage his mother's worsening health and his own newly discovered self destructive tendencies Kipligat's Chance plunges us into the world of competitive running and the enormous mental and physical demands of becoming a world class athlete Running as sport running as escape the lines quickly blur for Leeds and his friends In Leeds Odhiambo has created a protagonist whose humor and courage are utterly compelling With a keen ear for language and dialogue that is pungent and gritty Kipligat's Chance is a startling novel harsh and powerful from an emerging writer

The Minoritarian and Black Reason D. Nandi Odhiambo, 2021-05-11 The Minoritarian and Black Reason A Philosophico Literary Investigation addresses the question how can we understand and relate responsibly to others who differ from us in our everyday concerns The work looks at theories about difference in a variety of philosophical texts and novels from the early modern and modern periods to examine their various approaches to the problem of representational language The author discusses how these distinct methods of thought present the Black figure and critiques how imagined blackness or Black reason willfully looks away from the African presence Central to this inquiry are key concepts from Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari in a description of the minoritarian as a non representational method that discloses affective intensity in naked life zoe beings of the sensible sentiendum and personae So it is presented as a third term in an ungrounded field of experience composed of assemblages or social networks Hence the book deconstructs a unified structuralist ontology to propose a line of flight from a model of logic used to objectify and reproduce identities of people from a varied sphere of political rights bios
