Kitchen Conversations:

Kitchen Conversations Joyce Goldstein, 1999-09-01 A special combination of 160 incredible recipes with an insightful and fascinating explanation of culinary trade secrets includes dishes such as Roast Duck with Carmelized Turnips along with discussions of why parsley and escarole go together and when to add more spices Reprint

Conversations Behind the Kitchen Door Emmanuel Laroche, 2022-11-08 Conversations Behind the Kitchen Door offers an insider's look into culinary trends through the words of acclaimed and professionally recognized chefs

The Just Kitchen Derrick Weston, Anna Woofenden, 2023-10-10 Join the call of a just kitchen where meal preparation is as much an act of resistance against injustice as marches and protests For food and faith writers and podcasters Derrick Weston and Anna Woofenden The Just Kitchen is about a passion for food sharing meals showing hospitality and understanding cultures faith traditions food histories and local foodways Their authentic podcast conversations spill over the pages of this book and explore how the kitchen can be a place where the things we care about most in the world are reflected in the foods we prepare and the way we prepare them In a world where disconnection from the earth our food our faith and each other is becoming the norm Weston and Woofenden bring together voices of hope who are working for a world of organic reconnections They invite us to dig deeply into the complexity of ecology and food systems as well as how faith communities are connected to them This is an invitation to reprioritize the kitchen as a space for healing community activism and celebration Be inspired to see the sacred in the daily mundane forge connection with the people and earth around you and join the call of a just kitchen

Home and Sexuality Rachael M Scicluna, 2017-07-12 This book explores the meanings and experiences of home among a group of lesbians who over the past five decades have sought to create alternative intimate and public living spaces The protagonists who enact the ethnographic narrative are a small group of older lesbians mainly feminist activists residing in the metropolis of London The meaning of home and domestic space emerges from unique life histories informed by the wider social and political context and moves from the earliest memories of their childhood kitchens to their contemporary domestic lives Leaping from the radical lesbian feminist collectives and squats of the 1980s to the ordinariness of home life the kitchen emerged as a tangle of cultural norms customs duties ideas aspirations expectations and values that tells us about the thinking process and behaviour of this specific group of older lesbians In this context the kitchen brings out the experiences of social inequalities experienced by these older lesbians mainly brought out by the hegemonic institution of heteronormativity and patriarchy This ethnography will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines in anthropology sociology geography and feminism

Searching for "It" Ken Ludmer, 2020-05-12 Searching for It is author Ken Ludmer's Homeric odyssey that takes us from post war New York City through the cafés of Beat Generation Greenwich Village across America to the Rocky Mountains and beyond The road warrior therapist talks to us in tales of adventure stories of transition and pathos and includes observations on the human condition all seen through the eyes of a therapist Each chapter is an in depth conversation one of those rare encounters that some of us are lucky to have had on our journeys It s as if we are the ones seated at the bistro table suddenly conversing over coffee with a strangely perceptive wayfarer Ludmer s voice has the connectivity of Buscaglia and the humor of Perelman You are advised to settle into your comfy couch for some at home reading therapy Be prepared to ponder and laugh often but keep the box of tissues handy Ken Ludmer s narrative is a result of fifty years of conversations with people from every walk of life in his and their search for something mostly undefinable the ultimate je ne sais quoi the search for it Building People Manzoor Massey,2020-08-13 Building People Leader s Guide for Excellence is a book for everyone who seeks to break away from self limiting thinking that prevents one from realizing his or her full potential It is a provocative and challenging book to nudge you to think outside the box and achieve what you thought was mission impossible It will ignite fire in the belly of anyone who wants to quit whining This book is a practical guide for those who are tired of blaming family or fate for their lot in life The book provides practical suggestions and incentives to break away from the past and start living to one s full potential Hangsaman Shirley Jackson,2013-06-25 Shirley Jackson s chilling second novel based on her own experiences and an actual mysterious disappearance Seventeen year old Natalie Waite longs to escape home for college Her father is a domineering and egotistical writer who keeps a tight rein on Natalie and her long suffering mother When Natalie finally does get away however college life doesn t bring the happiness she expected Little by little Natalie is no longer certain of anything even where reality ends and her dark imaginings begin Chilling and suspenseful Hangsaman is loosely based on the real life disappearance of a Bennington College sophomore in 1946 For more than seventy years Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world With more than 1 700 titles Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators New York Court of Appeals. Nix,Rebecca K. Shrum,2017-03-06 Introduction to Public History Interpreting the Past Engaging Audiences is a brief foundational textbook for public history It is organized around the questions and ethical dilemmas that drive public history in a variety of settings from local community based projects to international case studies This book is designed for use in undergraduate and graduate classrooms with future public historians teachers and consumers of history in mind The authors are practicing public historians who teach history and public history to a mix of undergraduate and graduate students at universities across the United States and in international contexts This book is based on original research and the authors first hand experiences offering a fresh perspective on the dynamic field of public history based on a decade of consultation with public history educators about what they needed in an introductory textbook Each chapter introduces a concept or common practice to students highlighting key terms for student review and for instructor assessment of student learning The body of each chapter introduces theories and basic conceptual building blocks intermixed with case studies to illustrate these points Footnotes credit sources but also serve as breadcrumbs for instructors who might like to assign more in depth reading for more advanced students or for the purposes of lecture development Each chapter ends with suggestions for activities that the authors have tried with their own students and suggested readings books and websites that can deepen student exposure to the topic

Seasoned Socialism Anastasia Lakhtikova, Angela Brintlinger, Irina Glushchenko, 2019-04-04 This essay anthology explores the intersection of gender food and culture in post 1960s Soviet life from personal cookbooks to gulag survival Seasoned Socialism considers the relationship between gender and food in late Soviet daily life specifically between 1964 and 1985 Political and economic conditions heavily influenced Soviet life and foodways during this period and an exploration of Soviet women s central role in the daily sustenance for their families as well as the obstacles they faced on this quest offers new insights into intergenerational and inter gender power dynamics of that time Seasoned Socialism considers gender construction and performance across a wide array of primary sources including poetry fiction film women s journals oral histories and interviews This collection provides fresh insight into how the Soviet government sought to influence both what citizens ate and how they thought about food

A Hidden History of Youth Development in South Africa Margaret Perrow, 2021-03-15 Drawing on two decades of interviews and ethnographic fieldwork 1998 2018 this book presents a unique and multi faceted history of youth development in South Africa through the lens of a South African non governmental organization NGO prominent in youth development from the mid 1980s until 2008 The book weaves history ethnography and discourse analysis to contextualize the Joint Enrichment Project JEP in the politics and history of South African education It examines JEP s role leading up to and during South Africa s transition to democracy its work and influence in post apartheid South Africa and the continued relevance of its legacy to contemporary initiatives seeking to address youth development and social justice While JEP repeatedly repositioned itself as an organization from fighting the effects of apartheid on young people to becoming a potential partner with the new African National Congress ANC led government its most significant role may have been to reposition people After tracing JEP s twenty year history the book focuses on the participants in a 1998 Youth Work Scheme exploring their learning experiences and the program s immediate impact on their lives It then revisits these participants twenty years later in 2018 analyzing their life trajectories after JEP and comparing them with the life trajectories of former JEP staff over the same period shedding light on broader patterns of socio economic reproduction and change in the country The book concludes with a discussion of a perennial paradox facing youth development institutions This book will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of education international development anthropology and African studies
