High Tech Fantasies:

High-Tech Fantasies Doreen Massey, David Wield, 2003-09-02 Science parks are becoming established in increasing numbers in almost all parts of the world Promoted as places on the frontiers of science where a new breed of scientist entrepreneur invents a new future extolled as high status workplaces where a new style of employee and flexible labour process is in the making they are seen as the potential saviours of local and national economies High Tech Fantasies criticises the divisive hype of science parks arguing that both the theory and practice are unproductive for the economy and for any socially progressive science and technology Questioning responsibility innovation and symbolism the authors explore the mutual determination of society science and space

Technopolis Deog-Seong Oh, Fred Phillips, 2013-12-13 Six years of UNESCO World Technopolis Association workshops held at various world cities and attended by government officials and scholars from nearly all the world's countries have resulted in a uniquely complete collection of reports on science park and science city projects in most of those countries These reports of which a selected few form chapters in this book allow readers to compare knowledge based development strategies practices and successes across countries The chapters illustrate varying levels of cooperation across government industry and academic sectors in the respective projects and the reasons and philosophies underlying this variation and resulting differences in practices and results

Information for Innovation Stuart Macdonald, 1998-04-09 Information is not taken seriously Much is said about the information age the information economy the information society and particularly about information technology but little about information itself If these are important then so is information But information is not as other goods it has some peculiar characteristics It cannot be displayed for sale without giving it away in the process Sold it goes to the buyer but still remains with the seller Buying entails expressing demand in ignorance for buyers who do not know just what it is that they do not know Such characteristics have long been recognised by economists but it is not generally economists who have most to say about the importance of information This privilege is exercised by senior managers who speak passionately about knowledge based learning organizations by politicians and public servants anxious to compensate with policy and programme for the information failure of organization and market and by specialists in telecommunications and information technology bent on adding value to what they treat as just a commodity All are particularly enthusiastic about the innovation which springs from information Information usually requires new information Finding acquiring and mixing this new information with that already in use presents problems not least because complex information transactions are required rather than simple information transfer Solutions can be devised but only by accommodating the characteristics of information This book contrasts the way innovation is normally regarded in a variety of areas from eighteenth century agriculture to high technology from technology transfer to industrial espionage from corporate strategy to patents and independent inventors with how it appears from what is termed an information perspective that is one that puts information first The results are intriguing suggesting that radically different approaches to innovation and organization should be considered

Foundations Sam Wetherell,2023-01-31 Revision of the author s thesis doctoral University of California Berkeley 2016 under the title Pilot zones the new urban environment of twentieth century Britain Entrepreneurial Communities and Ecosystems Morgan R. Clevenger,Michael W-P Fortunato,2022-06-24 Entrepreneurial Communities and Ecosystems Theories in Culture Empowerment and Leadership examines the deep sociocultural dynamics supporting effective and emergent entrepreneurial ecosystems and communities for a new generation of ecosystem builders and researchers The book provides current theories and discussion with relevant examples regarding culture empowerment and leadership in entrepreneurship to build more entrepreneurial communities anywhere beginning with any set of local advantages It clarifies the role of community in building an entrepreneurial ecosystem and expands the theory on how entrepreneurial communities and ecosystems differ and how they relate The book also illuminates the often avoided discussion about power with special attention to diversity with examples of Black women and LGBTQA entrepreneurship provides a deep dive into the range of formal and informal education framed as entrepreneurship ties the importance of entrepreneurship and entrepreneuring to resources available at the community state and national levels and introduces a new concept omnipreneurship which puts the skills of entrepreneurship in the service of global benefit and everyday action This research volume will be equally useful as an undergraduate or graduate text on the sociology of entrepreneurs and entrepreneurship as it is a field guide for ecosystem builders policy makers nonprofits and entrepreneurship and social researchers worldwide The Decline of Capitalism Harry Shutt,2005 Should we be more concerned that collapsing share values and widespread corporate failure and fraud beg some serious questions about the viability of the present world economy Harry Shutt persuasively demonstrates that the present crisis is the culmination of 30 years of deepening stagnation Faced with a long term trend of reduced demand for both capital and labor the world economy has only avoided a vast recession through growing reliance on official subsidy and market distortion Shutt points out that regulatory reform can only work by limiting profitability but that a more sustainable model is unacceptable to ruling elites He outlines an agenda for fundamental changes based on the premise that the primacy of private profit is no longer compatible with the priorities of modern democracies Smart Geography Stoyan Nedkov,Georgi Zhelezov,Nadezhda Ilieva,Mariyana Nikolova,Boian Koulov,Kliment Naydenov,Steliyan

Dimitrov,2019-10-05 This book focuses on new and innovative spatial approaches based on smart solutions and developed in the field of geography and related interdisciplinary fields such as urban and regional studies landscape ecology and ecosystem services It includes contributions from a conference dedicated to the 100th anniversary of the Bulgarian Geographical Society In turn the book reveals how 21st century geography is expected to facilitate the development of human capital and the knowledge society while also offering place specific solutions for sustainable regional development and utilization of the planet s natural and human capital to improve social wellbeing This volume is intended for the global geographical research community as well as professionals and practitioners in all fields that deal with space including regional planners and environmental managers

Factor Four Ernst U.von Weizsacker,2013-10-11 Since the industrial revolution progress has meant an increase in labour productivity Factor Four describes a new form of progress resource productivity a form which meets the overriding imperative for the future sustainability It shows how at least four times as much wealth can be extracted from the resources we use As the authors put it the book is about doing more with less but this is not the same as doing less doing worse or doing without In 1972 the Club of Rome published Limits to Growth which sent shock waves around the world by arguing that we were rapidly running out of essential resources This Report to the Club of Rome offers a solution It lies in using resources more efficiently in ways which can already be achieved not at a cost but at a profit The book contains a wealth of examples of revolutionizing productivity in the use of energy from hypercars to low energy beef materials from sub surface drip irrigation to electronic books transport video conferencing to CyberTran and demonstrating how much more could be generated from much less today It explains how markets can be organized and taxes re based to eliminate perverse incentives and reward efficiency so wealth can grow while consumption does not The benefits are enormous profits will increase pollution and waste will decrease and the quality of life will improve Moreover the benefits will be shared progress will no longer depend on making ever fewer people more productive Instead more people and fewer resources can be employed While for many developing countries the efficiency revolution may offer the only realistic chance of prosperity within a reasonable time span The practical promise held out in this book is huge but the authors show how it is up to each of us as well as to businesses and governments to make it happen

Technopoles of the World Manuel Castells,2014-01-14 Technopoles planned centres for the promotion for high technology industry have become a key feature of national economic development worldwide Created out of a technological revolution the formation of the global economy and the emergence of a new form of economic production and management they constitute the mines and foundries of the information age redefining the conditions and processes of local and regional development This book is the first systematic survey of technopoles in all manifestations science parks science cities national technopoles and technobelt programmes Detailed case studies ranging from the Silicon Valley to Siberia and from the M4 Corridor to Taiwan relate how global technopoles have developed what each is striving to achieve and how well it is succeeding Technopoles of the World distills

the lessons learnt from the successes and failures embracing a host of disparate concepts and a few myths and offering guidelines for national regional and local planners and developers worldwide Cities of the Global South Reader

Faranak Miraftab, Neema Kudva, 2014-10-10 The Cities of the Global South Reader adopts a fresh and critical approach to the field of urbanization in the developing world The Reader incorporates both early and emerging debates about the diverse trajectories of urbanization processes in the context of the restructured global alignments in the last three decades Emphasizing the historical legacies of colonialism the Reader recognizes the entanglement of conditions and concepts often understood in binary relations first third worlds wealth poverty development underdevelopment and inclusion exclusion By asking whose city whose development the Reader rigorously highlights the fractures along lines of class race gender and other socially and spatially constructed hierarchies in global South cities The Reader's thematic structure where editorial introductions accompany selected texts examines the issues and concerns that urban dwellers planners and policy makers face in the contemporary world These include the urban economy housing basic services infrastructure the role of non state civil society based actors planned interventions and contestations the role of diaspora capital the looming problem of adapting to climate change and the increasing spectre of violence in a post 9 11 transnational world The Cities of the Global South Reader pulls together a diverse set of readings from scholars across the world some of which have been written specially for the volume to provide an essential resource for a broad interdisciplinary readership at undergraduate and postgraduate levels in urban geography urban sociology and urban planning as well as disciplines related to international and development studies Editorial commentaries that introduce the central issues for each theme summarize the state of the field and outline an associated bibliography They will be of particular value for lecturers students and researchers making the Cities of the Global South Reader a key text for those interested in understanding contemporary urbanization processes

Universities and the Entrepreneurial Ecosystem David B. Audretsch, Albert N. Link, 2017-06-30 Entrepreneurial ecosystems have emerged as one of the most dynamic forces shaping the economic performance of individuals companies and regions This book brings together some of the leading scholarship and research identifying and analyzing the role of universities in entrepreneurial ecosystems Particular emphasis is given on the role of innovation startups SMEs and technology transfer both in shaping the entrepreneurial ecosystem as well as the resulting impact on firm performance and regional economic performance Making 21st Century Knowledge Complexes Julie Tian Miao, Paul

Benneworth, Nicholas A. Phelps, 2015-05-15 The world has changed profoundly since the publication of the influential book Technopoles of the World As policy makers and practitioners attempt to harness science technology and innovation to create dynamic and vibrant cities many wonder how relevant Manuel Castells and Peter Hall's messages are today Twenty years later this book returns to their concepts and practices to update their message for the 21st century Making 21st Century Knowledge Complexes Technopoles of the World Revisited argues that the contemporary technopole concept encompasses three new dimensions Firstly building synergy between partners is vital for the success of complexes Secondly the correct governance arrangements are critical to balance competing interests inevitable in any science city project Thirdly new evaluation mechanisms are indispensable in allowing policy makers to steer their long term benefits Through twelve case study chapters and a detailed comparative analysis this book provides academics policy makers and practitioners with critical insights in understanding managing and promoting today s high technology urban complexes Creative Knowledge Cities Marina Van Geenhuizen,Peter Nijkamp,2012-04-01 This book pragmatically explores the myths concepts policies key conditions and tools for enhancing creative knowledge cities The authors provide a critical reflection on the reality of city concepts including university city alignment for campus planning labour market conditions social capital and proximity triple helix based transformation and learning by city governments Original examples from both the EU and US are complemented by detailed case studies of cities including Rotterdam Vienna and Munich The book also examines the reality of knowledge cities in emerging economies such as Brazil and China with a focus on institutional transferability Key conditions addressed include soft infrastructure knowledge spillovers among firms and the connectivity of cities via transport networks to allow the creation of new hubs of knowledge based services Handbook of the Economics of Innovation Bronwyn H. Hall,Nathan Rosenberg,2010-05-14 Economists examine the genesis of technological change and the ways we commercialize and diffuse it The economics of property rights and patents in addition to industry applications are also surveyed through literature reviews and predictions about fruitful research directions Two volumes available as a set or sold separately Expert articles consider the best ways to establish optimal incentives in technological progress Science and innovation both their theories and applications are examined at the intersections of the marketplace policy and social welfare Economists are only part of an audience that includes attorneys educators and anyone involved in new technologies Facilitating Technology Transfer through Partnership Tom McMaster,E. Mumford,E.B. Swanson,B. Warboys,David Wastell,2016-01-09 The primary aim for this book is to gather and collate articles which represent the best and latest thinking in the domain of technology transfer from research academia and practice around the world We envisage that the book will as a result of this represent an important source of knowledge in this domain to students undergraduate and postgraduate researchers practitioners and consultants chiefly in the software engineering and IT industries but also in management and other organisational and social disciplines An important aspect of the book is the role that reflective practitioners and not just academics play They will be involved in the production and evaluation of contributions as well as in the design and delivery of conference events upon which of course the book will be based Proximity, Distance and Diversity Päivi Oinas,2017-09-29 Bringing together a wide range of empirical studies from around the world Sweden Norway Austria Germany France UK Israel Russia China Taiwan Argentina Canada framed in related contemporary theoretical frameworks this book examines the question of the significance of proximate vs more distant relationships for economic agents performance and local economic development While this question has been the subject of intense debates in recent years it is obvious that proximity and distance are not explanatory factors as such The book argues for the need to understand the aims of economic relationships the nature of the regional environment in which they originate and the scale at which they operate The book suggests that the notions of diversity innovativeness maturity and multiple scales should be incorporated into the debates on the significance of proximity for economic performance

Technology and Industrial Parks in Emerging Countries Andrés Rodríguez-Pose, Daniel Hardy, 2014-06-16 Industrial and technology parks are commonly regarded as a policy panacea They tend to be considered as the ideal instrument to alleviate an assortment of institutional political economic social and ultimately technological weaknesses and often form the centrepiece of development strategies Yet the real impact of industrial and technology parks especially in emerging countries is still poorly understood Focusing on examples from Latin America Asia Africa and the Middle East the book represents a first approach to understand the potential and reality of industrial and technology parks in emerging countries It is argued that although some parks have been successful in addressing a range of key problems including underdevelopment unemployment and a lack of investment the majority have failed to deliver rendering the promise of many parks little more than a pipedream

Technology, Culture and Competitiveness Christopher Farrands, Michael Talalay, Roger Tooze, 2005-06-29 The first volume in a major new series this book will be an essential read for all those who need to deal with the causes and consequences of rapid technological change in an increasingly globalized world whether they be government policy makers managers of multi national corporations commentators on the international scene or specialists in and students of international politics economics and business studies The authors discuss three related areas How do we think about technology and international relations international political economy How does technology relate to competitiveness How does it influence our culture and how is it influenced by it In what sense is technology a fundamental component of national competitive advantage and what ought national local and corporate policy to be in the light of this What is the relationship between technological innovation and global political and economic change Technology is discussed not just in an instrumental sense as a tool of power and an object of policy but equally in a transcendental sense as a key to shaping and structuring how we understand and interpret reality The final section of the book presents case studies of three core sectors of the world political economy finance aviation and automobiles
