High Unemployment A Challenge For Income Support Policies

ORGANISATION OR ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT.

High Unemployment A Challenge For Income Support Policies:

High Unemployment - a Challenge for Income Support Policies ORGANISATION FOR ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AND DEVELOPMENT.,1984 High Unemployment Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development,1984 Social policy in challenging times Farnsworth, Kevin,Irving, Zoë,2011-09-21 There is no precedent to the current economic crisis which looks set to redefine social policy debate throughout the globe But its effects are not uniform across nations Bringing together a range of expert contributions the key lesson to emerge from this book is that the crisis is better understood as a variety of crises each mediated by national context Consequently there is an array of potential trajectories for welfare systems from those where social policy is regarded as incompatible with the post crisis economy to those where it is considered essential to future economic growth and security Poverty Alleviation and Social Safety Net Schemes for Economies in Transition Gillian Paull,1991-02-01 Inspired by the current Polish economic restructuring program this paper attempts to develop a general income support scheme that could serve as a model to alleviate poverty in developed economies in the transitional phase The proposed scheme has the advantage that no part of the poor population is omitted from eligibility for support sufficient to remove them from poverty The concept of the simplified model is protection against poverty through income maintenance that is conditional upon fulfillment of forward looking requirements such as workfare training or job search Further the scheme considers methods whereby limited national resources can be managed by official policies that combine into a coherent cost effective package an optimal mix of income guarantee levels and incentive effects

Monthly Labor Review ,1989 Publishes in depth articles on labor subjects current labor statistics information about current labor contracts and book reviews Sociology and the Public Agenda William Julius Wilson,1993-03-02 Published in Cooperation with the American Sociological Society Sociology has had a long and convoluted relationship with the public policy community While the field has historically considered its mission one of effecting social change in recent decades this has become only a minor part of the sociological agenda The editor of this volume MacArthur Fellow and former ASA President William Julius Wilson asserts that sociology's ostrich like stance threatens to leave the discipline in a position of irrelevance to the world at large and compromises the support of policymakers funders media and the public Wilson's vision is of a sociology attuned to the public agenda influencing public policy through both short and long range analysis from a sociological perspective Using a variety of policy issues perspectives methods and cases the distinguished contributors to this volume both demonstrate and emphasize Wilson's ideas Undergraduates graduate students professionals and academics in sociology political science policy studies and human services will find this argument for sociology's civic duty to be both compelling and refreshing The eighteen chapters on issues ranging from cultural and historical definitions of citizenship to American welfare policies and American corporate mergers are strong examples of solid social research where authors draw out policy implications and based on their research make policy proposals Sociology and the Public Agenda is an insightful book for scholars of social policy and also those interested in research design issues The book is very relevant for political scientists engaged in policy research interested in innovative research designs and wondering about the place of the social scientist in setting public agendas Policy Currents The Welfare State in Transition Norman Johnson,1987 Focusing on welfare states in capitalist societies The Welfare State in Transition carries forward the debate on pluralism identifying and discussing the problems involved in transferring responsibility for welfare services from the state to the other three sectors Aging and Social Expenditure in the Major Industrial Countries, 1980-2025 Ziba Farhadian,Mr.Bernard Nivollet,Mr.Robert Alan Feldman,Mr.Peter S. Heller,Mr.Richard Hemming,Mr.Menachem Katz,Ahsan S. Mansur,Mr.Donogh McDonald,Mr.Edgardo Ruggiero,Mr.Peter Kohnert,1986-09-15 Most of the seven major industrial countries are now experiencing significant changes in their demographic structure A persistent pattern of declining fertility and improving life expectancy has created major segments of the population that are already relatively aged or will become so in the near future This paper examines the impact of prospective demographic trends on the level and structure of social expenditure by the governments of the seven major industrial countries the Group of Seven through the year 2025 Work: Quo Vadis? Jan Holmer,Jan Ch. Karlsson,2019-01-15 First published in 1997 this volume is the result of the third Karlstad symposium which aimed to bring together and reflect current empirical trends and theoretical discussions on the questions what exactly is happening to work and consequentially what should happen to work This book disseminates contributions from seventeen scientists from eleven countries to a wider audience It should prove stimulating to postgraduates researchers policy makers and others to encourage further work on conditions both at work and on the labour market Trade and Transitions Marsha Chandler,Robert Howse,Michael Trebilcock,2004-01-14 Faced with increased levels of international competition and mounting budget deficits some developed Western economies have responded by introducing trade restrictions This book uses a comparative analysis of eight leading industrial nations including Japan the United States West Germany and Britain to demonstrate that such policies are mistaken Alternatives to trade restrictions including subsidies for industries and labour market policy instruments are also shown to have their drawbacks and the book emphasises the need for countries to find and exploit policies which fulfil their own political and social needs but which are least injurious to their trading partners

IMF Working Paper ,1991 Research in Employment Policy ,1998 Challenges of Social Cohesion in Times of Crisis M. Zupi,E. Estruch Puertas,2010 Education, Training and the Future of Work I John Ahier,Geoff Esland,2013-10-18 A central claim of this volume is that public policy in education and training can only be properly understood if it is seen in relation to prevailing economic and employment conditions It has become increasingly apparent that the neo liberal economic policies pursued by Western governments during the 1980s and 1990s have led to a growing world wide work crisis Unemployment levels particularly in Europe remain persistently high and for those in employment job insecurity and long working hours have become the norm The response of UK governments has been to promote flexibility in employment practices while proclaiming the importance of improving skill levels through education and training This volume challenges the adequacy of such an approach and asks whether reliance on education and training reforms without additional political intervention in economic processes is capable of reversing current trends Issues covered in this reader include the impact of globalization on employment trends neo liberal and neo Keynesian approaches to employment policy political reforms in education and training institutions the impact of flexibilization on private life and the family The two volumes in this series are readers for the Open University course Education Training and the Future of Work E837 a module of the MA in Education The companion volume is Education Training and the Future of Work II Developments in Vocational Education and Training John Ahier is Lecturer in Education at the Open University Geoff Esland is Director of the Centre for Sociology and Social Research at the Open University and Course team Chair of E837

Labor Market Policies in Canada and Latin America: Challenges of the New Millennium R. Albert Berry, 2013-03-14 Canada and the countries of Latin America are in the midst of major changes and choices in the area of labor markets and related social policy These decisions are likely to have profound consequences for the quality of life of workers throughout the hemisphere Labor Market Policies in Canada and Latin America Challenges of the New Millennium reviews the evidence of Canada and Latin America on three major labor policy instruments unemployment insurance minimum wages and training and on the effects of the payroll taxes which are the main means of funding the unemployment insurance system and other components of social expenditure This is the first study attempting an in depth comparison of these labor policy instruments between Canada and Latin America The useful juxtaposition of Canadian and Latin American experiences comes at a time when the trend in Canada is to back away from the perhaps overly generous or ineffectively administered elements of the labor legislation social security net and when Latin American countries have undertaken significant reforms of their past systems but require further changes to move toward the sorts of legislation and support systems that characterize developed countries The experiences of Canada and Latin America are mutually relevant since all are small economies forced to adjust to events at the world or hemispheric level and most are inclined to approach policy in an intermediate fashion which falls between the more market oriented American and the more interventionist European models Together with its comparative aspect this volume attempts a more balanced and in depth assessment in each of the policy areas than has hitherto been available The gradually increasing base of available empirical data on the period after the reforms has been used in the studies which provide thorough syntheses of the available research for Canada and Latin America

New Social Policy Agendas for Europe and Asia Katherine Marshall, Olivier Butzbach, 2003 The East Asia crisis of 1997 98 highlighted the need for new models for social policy A joint project between European and Asian governments brought together over a two year period the experience of social policy experts from Europe and Asia This project was financed by the ASEM Asia Europe Meeting This document looks at a wide range of issues social security reform links between macroeconomics and social policy labour market policies gender
