High Priest of California A seedy glimpse into 50s San Francisco by an unsung master of the lowdown Charles Willeford Used car salesmen two bit detectives and psychotic dames clash against one another in the city by the Bay Pure Pulped CLASSIX is a garishly named effort on the part of Resurrectionary Press to provide works of pulp fiction in cleanly designed and properly typeset editions      War Noir Sarah Trott,2016-11-03 The conflation of the hard boiled style and war experience has influenced many contemporary crime writers particularly in the traumatic aftermath of the Vietnam War Yet earlier writers in the genre such as Raymond Chandler remain overlooked when it comes to examining how their war experience affected their writing Sarah Trott corrects this oversight by examining Chandler alongside the World War I writers of the Lost Generation as well as highlighting a melding of very different styles in Chandler s work Based on Chandler s experience in combat Trott explains that the writer created detective Philip Marlowe not as the idealization of heroic individualism as is commonly perceived but instead as an authentic individual subjected to very real psychological frailties from trauma during the First World War Inspecting Chandler s work and correspondence indicates that the characterization of the fictional Marlowe goes beyond the traditional chivalric readings and can instead be interpreted as a genuine representation of a traumatized veteran in American society Substituting the horror of the trenches for the corruption of the city Chandler formed a disillusioned protagonist in an uncaring America Chandler did so with the sophistication necessary to straddle genre fiction and canonical literature The sum of this work offers a new understanding of how Chandler uses his war trauma how that experience established the traditional archetype of detective fiction and how this reading of his fiction enables Chandler to transcend generic limitations and be recognized as a key twentieth century literary figure      The Shark-Infested Custard Charles Willeford,2009-08-26 From the master of Miami noir comes this tale of four regular guys living in a singles apartment building who experience firsthand that there s more than one type of heat in Miami Larry Dolman is a rather literal minded ex cop who now works private security Eddie Miller is an airline pilot who s studying to get his real estate license Don Luchessi is a silver salesman who s separated from his wife but too Catholic to get a divorce Hank Norton is a drug company rep who gets four times as many dames as any of the other guys They are all regular guys who like to drink play cards meet broads and shoot a little pool But when a friendly bet goes horribly awry they find themselves with two dead bodies on their hands and a homicidal husband in the wings and acting more like hardened criminals than upstanding citizens      Gumshoe America Sean McCann,2000-12-06 Sees hard boiled crime fiction in relation to a changing literary marketplace and as an arena for conflicts about citizenship class culture and democracy during the New Deal      100 American Crime Writers S. Powell,2012-08-07 100 American Crime Writers features discussion and analysis of the lives of crime writers and their key works examining the developments in American crime writing from the Golden Age to hardboiled detective fiction This study is essential to scholars and an ideal introduction to crime fiction for anyone who enjoys this fascinating genre      Isn't Justice Always Unfair?
