Better Plants and Animals United States. Department of Agriculture, 1937     Multiple Abiotic Stress Tolerances in Higher Plants N.K. Gupta, Yuri Shavrukov, R.K. Singhal, Nikolai Borisjuk, 2023-10-03 In the last 50 years classical breeding has played a significant role in achieving higher crop productivity but major crops have reached a plateau in their yield potential Therefore the current focus for sustainable intensification of agriculture is the use of biotechnological approaches to enhance the yield potential by combating the yield losses that occur due to abiotic stresses The abiotic stresses are governed by multigenes and therefore a holistic approach is needed to get success in imparting stress tolerance to enhance the yield potential of our crops Plants face multiple stress conditions during their life stages and adopt several physiological biochemical and molecular strategies to combat that which are sometimes not sufficient to survive particularly crop plants The climate change era has created a need to understand the abiotic stresses in a holistic way Therefore a deep understanding of multiple abiotic stress mechanisms is necessary to develop crops tolerant to climate fluctuation With this background the outline of this book covers the following features Agriculture sustainability and molecular understanding of multiple stress tolerance Systems biology for life history strategies conventional and genomic approaches above and underground Genetic resources and molecular understanding of seed priming Molecular signaling compounds cell signal transduction and crosstalk between plant growth hormones and regulators Roles Transcription factors LEA proteins reactive oxygen species and alternative oxidase Genome editing metabolomics and omics technologies     Rare Creatures and Special Local Products in China Zhi Dao, The book provides highlights on the key concepts and trends of evolution in Rare Creatures and Special Local Products in China as one of the series of books of China Classified Histories     Higher Plants, Algae

Male Sterility in Higher Plants Mohan L.H. Kaul,2012-12-06 Nature has something more in view than that its own proper males should fecundate each blossom Andrew Knight Philosophical Transactions 1799 Sterility implicating the male sex solely presents a paradoxical situation in which universality and uniqueness are harmoniously blended It maintains a built in outbreeding system but is not an isolating mechanism as male steriles the self emasculated plants outcross with their male fertile sibs normally Both genes nuclear and cytoplasmic and environment individually as well as conjointly induce male sterility the former being genetic and the latter nongenetic Genetic male sterility is controlled either exclusively by nuclear genes ms or by the complementary action of nuclear lr and cytoplasmic c genes The former is termed genic and the latter gene cytoplasmic male sterility Whereas genic male sterility exhibits Mendelian inheritance gene cytoplasmic male sterility is non Mendelian with specific transmissibility of the maternal cytoplasm type Genetic male sterility is documented in 617 species and species crosses comprising 320 species 162 genera and 43 families Of these genic male sterility occurs in 216 species and 17 species crosses and gene cytoplasmic male sterility in 16 species and 271 species crosses The Predominance of species exhibiting genic male sterility and of species crosses exhibiting gene cytoplasmic male sterility is due to the fact that for the male sterility expression in the former mutation of nuclear genes is required but in the latter mutations of both nuclear and cytoplasmic genes are necessary
