Highland Sanctuary:

Highland Sanctuary Jennifer Hudson Taylor, 2011-10-01 Gavin MacKenzie a chieftain heir who is hired to restore the ancient Castle of Braigh discovers a hidden village of outcasts who have created their own private sanctuary from the world. Among them is Serena Boyd a mysterious and comely lass who captures Gavin's heart in spite of harboring a deadly past that could destroy her future. The villagers happen to be keeping an intriguing secret as well and when a fierce enemy launches an attack against them greed leads to bitter betrayal. Then as Gavin prepares a defense the villagers unite in a bold act of faith showing how God's love is more powerful than any human force on earth. The Mountain Bernard Debarbieux, Gilles Rudaz, 2015-09-10 From the Enlightenment to the present day and using a variety of case studies from all the continents the authors show us how our ideas of and about mountains have changed with the times and how a wide range of policies from border delineation to forestry as well as nature protection and social programs have been shaped according to them. A rich hybrid analysis of geography history culture and politics. Jacket.

Imperial Heights Eric T. Jennings, 2011-04-08 Intended as a reminder of Europe for soldiers and clerks of the empire the city of Dalat located in the hills of Southern Vietnam was built by the French in an alpine locale that reminded them of home. This book uncovers the strange 100 year history of a colonial city that was conceived as a center of power and has now become a kitsch tourist destination famed for its colonial villas flower beds pristine lakes and pastoral landscapes. Eric T. Jennings finds that from its very beginning Dalat embodied the paradoxes of colonialism it was a city of leisure built on the backs of thousands of coolies a supposed paragon of hygiene that offered only questionable protection from disease and a new venture into ethnic relations that ultimately backfired. Jennings' fascinating history opens a new window onto virtually all aspects of French Indochina from architecture and urban planning to violence labor marriage health and medicine gender and ethnic relations schooling religion comportments anxieties and more.

The Gates of Olympus Angelo Gualtieri, 2013-02 This story describes in considerable detail the enhancements that were built into the DNA of the New People that were produced. A major enhancement is the ability to communicate by telepathy. Many people believe that we all have some telepathic ability built into us. There are countless examples of this in our everyday lives and in this story examples are given as well as a rationale for the emergence of this ability. Our problem is that the ability in most of us is undeveloped largely because we don't in our formative years need it. Some of us who grow up in an environment where there is a real need to negotiate for our success and survival do develop this ability. This may be why many such people are so successful in later life since they seem to know better than others what is going on in another's mind and act on that knowledge. The great business men political leaders and others whose success depends upon their ability to sense the minds of their audience are good examples. In this story the need arose to separate what the characters were saying out loud from what was being transmitted by telepathy. To make it clear to the reader the convention has been introduced in which telepathic transmissions are written in italics. May 2012
