Highway In The Sun And Other Plays:

Highway in the Sun and Other Plays Samuel Selvon, 1991 The first Indian indentured laborers came to the Caribbean more than 150 years ago and their traditional values have had to confront a rapidly changing world in 20th century Trinidad Highway in the Sun tells the story of Tiger and Urmilla's first year of marriage away from their extended family and their struggles relating to their new Afro Creole neighbors in the suburbs of Port of Spain In Home Sweet India Johnny is dismayed by his loss of culture and threatened by the emergence of Creole nationalism and plans to return to India In Turn Again Tiger Tiger learns that he must not turn his back on his Indian past These plays demonstrate the choices Indians in the Caribbean must make between tradition and creolization A Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English Erin Fallon, R.C.

Feddersen, James Kurtzleben, Maurice A. Lee, Susan Rochette-Crawley, 2013-10-31 Although the short story has existed in various forms for centuries it has particularly flourished during the last hundred years Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English includes alphabetically arranged entries for 50 English language short story writers from around the world Most of these writers have been active since 1960 and they reflect a wide range of experiences and perspectives in their works Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes biography a review of existing criticism a lengthier analysis of specific works and a selected bibliography of primary and secondary sources The volume begins with a detailed introduction to the short story genre and concludes with an annotated bibliography of major works on short story theory

Caribbean Literature in Transition, 1920-1970: Volume 2 Raphael Dalleo, Curdella Forbes, 2021-01-14 The years between the 1920s and 1970s are key for the development of Caribbean literature producing the founding canonical literary texts of the Anglophone Caribbean This volume features essays by major scholars as well as emerging voices revisiting important moments from that era to open up new perspectives Caribbean contributions to the Harlem Renaissance to the Windrush generation publishing in England after World War II and to the regional reverberations of the Cuban Revolution all feature prominently in this story At the same time we uncover lesser known stories of writers publishing in regional newspapers and journals of pioneering women writers and of exchanges with Canada and the African continent From major writers like Derek Walcott V S Naipaul George Lamming and Jean Rhys to recently recuperated figures like Eric Walrond

Una Marson Sylvia Wynter and Ismith Khan this volume sets a course for the future study of Caribbean literature Home Truths: Fictions of the South Asian Diaspora in Britain Susheila Nasta, 2017-04-20 The figure of the diasporic or migrant writer has recently come to be seen as the Everyman of the late modern period a symbol of the global and the local a cultural traveller who can traverse the national political and ethnic boundaries of the new millennium Home Truths Fictions of the South Asian Diaspora in Britain seeks not only to place the individual works of now world famous writers such as VS Naipaul Salman Rushdie Sam Selvon or Hanif Kureishi within a diverse tradition of immigrant writing that has evolved in Britain since the Second World War but also locates their work as well as many lesser known writers such as Attia Hosain GV Desani Aubrey Menen Ravinder Randhawa and Romesh Gunesequera within a historical cultural and aesthetic framework which has its roots prior to postwar migrations and derives from long established indigenous traditions as well as colonial and post colonial visions of home and abroad Close critical readings combine with a historical and theoretical overview in this first book to chart the crucial role played by writers of South Asian origin in the belated acceptance of a literary poetics of black and Asian writing in Britain today Writing Home David Ellis, 2007-05-21 When the SS Empire Windrush berthed at Tilbury docks in 1948 with 492 ex servicemen from the Caribbean it marked the beginning of the post war migrations to Britain that would form part of modern multi cultural Britain A significant role in this social transformation would be played by the literary and non literary output of writers from the Caribbean These writers in exile were responsible not just for the establishment of the West Indian novel but by virtue of their location in the Mother Country were also the pioneers of black writing in Britain Over the next fifty years this writing would come to represent an important body of work intimately aligned to the evolving and contentious notions of home as economic migration became a permanent presence In this book David Ellis provides in depth analyses of six key figures whose writing charts the establishment of black Britain For Sam Selvon George Lamming and E R Braithwaite writing home represents a literature of reappraisal as the myths of empire the gold paved streets of London conflict with the harsh realities of being designated an immigrant The unresolved consequences of this reappraisal are made evident in the works of Andrew Salkey Wilson Harris and Linton Kwesi Johnson where radicalism in both political and literary terms can be read as a response to the rejection of the black communities by an increasingly divided Britain in the 1970s Finally the novels of Caryl Phillips Joan Riley and David Dabydeen mark an increasingly reflective literature as the notion of home shifts more explicitly from the Caribbean to Britain itself Containing both contextual and biographical information throughout Writing Home represents a literary and social history of the emergence of black Britain in the second half of the twentieth century Nominal and Pronominal Address in Jamaica and Trinidad Matthias Klumm, 2021-09-15 This book examines the various patterns of nominal and pronominal address used in Jamaica and Trinidad the two most populous islands of the English speaking Caribbean Given that the Anglo Caribbean context has so far been largely neglected in address research this study aims to provide an in depth analysis of the linguistic means Jamaicans and Trinidadians have at their disposal and make use of to address each other A particular focus will be on variation in the speakers address behaviour with regard to their sex age social class ethnicity and regional background The study draws both on data from a self compiled corpus of postcolonial Jamaican and Trinidadian literary works and on questionnaire and interview data collected during fieldwork This book contributes to the ever growing body of research in the field of nominal and pronominal address and will be relevant to researchers interested in the fields of sociolinguistics pragmatics and World Englishes
