Contemporary Slovenian Timber Architecture for Sustainability Manja Kitek Kuzman, Andreja Kutnar, 2014-09-15 The book presents Slovenia s contemporary timber architecture Thanks to its abundant forests Slovenia has preserved the tradition of wood construction As much as 60% of its surface is covered by forests Slovenia is also the third most forested country in Europe The high share of forest covered surface allows for a sustainable production of high quality wood In the past wood was used primarily in the construction of farm buildings but now timber architecture is used for everything from residences and office buildings to public buildings such as community centres and schools Timber construction is becoming increasingly popular Apart from larger companies taking this approach a great number of wooden houses have sprung up built either on personal initiative or with the support of carpenter workshops Slovenian timber architecture has taken a new approach to environmental and energy efficiency problems and received great international recognition The book discusses over fifty projects built over a ten year period and includes descriptions photographs and plans The projects include residential areas administration and office as well as tourist educational and industrial buildings Timber architecture is presented as an integral part of the Slovenian landscape The monograph will be useful to designers and future experts in their planning of optimal timber buildings and will highlight the main benefits of using timber construction Nurseries: A Design Guide Mark Dudek, 2013-08-06 Architecture can inspire young children the very shape and form of a daycare center can not only stimulate their imagination but can help children form strong relationships and help promote development This design guide presents all the elements of building design that combine to create the very best environment for young children and the people who work with them including building materials multi functional spaces and design scaled to suit small children Designing for the 21st Century Tom Inns, 2021-09-02 As we become familiar with the 21st century we can see that what we are designing is changing new technologies support the creation of new forms of product and service and new pressures on business and society demand the design of solutions to increasingly complex problems sometimes local often global in nature Customers users and stakeholders are no longer passive recipients of design expectations are higher and increased participation is often essential This book explores these issues through the work of 21 research teams Over a twelve month period each of these groups held a series of workshops and events to examine different facets of future design activity as part of the UK's research council supported Designing for the 21st Century Research Initiative Each of these 21 contributions describes the context of enquiry the journey taken by the research team and key insights generated through discourse Editor and Initiative Director Tom Inns provides an introductory chapter that suggests ways that the reader might navigate these different viewpoints The Crisis of the African-American Architect Melvin L. Mitchell, 2003 another missing piece of our rich history and profound contribution to western civilization For history buffs please put this book on your must read list George C Fraser Author of Race For Success and Success Runs In Our Race Mitchell believes that the entire future of blacks in the field of architecture is in jeopardy He then discusses the impact of the Harlem Renaissance on black architecture and the subsequent emergence of Howard University as the center of the black architectural universe The Journal of Blacks in Higher Education seminal Architecture Magazine In this long overdue book aimed at Black America and her allies Melvin Mitchell poses the question why haven't black architects developed a Black Architecture that complements modernist black culture that is rooted in world class blues jazz hip hop music and other black aesthetic forms His provocative thesis inspired by Harold Cruse's landmark book The Crisis of the Negro Intellectual exposes the roots of an eighty year old estrangement between black architects and Black America Along the way he provides interesting details about the politics of downtown development in the Marion Barry era of Washington DC Mitchell calls for a bold and inclusive New Black Urbanism He sees the radical reform and re missioning of the handful of accredited HBCU based architecture schools as a critical tool in refashioning a rapprochement between black architects and Black America
