King Of The Kickboxers:

American and Chinese-Language Cinemas Lisa Funnell, Man-Fung Yip, 2014-09-19 Critics frequently describe the influence of America through Hollywood and other cultural industries as a form of cultural imperialism. This unidirectional model of interaction does not address however the counter flows of Chinese language films into the American film market or the influence of Chinese filmmakers, film stars and aesthetics in Hollywood. The aim of this collection is to reconsider the complex dynamics of transnational cultural flows between American and Chinese language film industries. The goal is to bring a more historical perspective to the subject focusing as much on the Hollywood influence on early Shanghai or postwar Hong Kong films as on the intensifying flows between American and Chinese language cinemas in recent decades. Contributors emphasize the processes of appropriation and reception involved in transnational cultural practices examining film production, distribution and reception.

Seen That, Now What? Andrea Shaw, 1996-04-09 You've never used a video guide like this before. You loved Chariots of Fire and you want to see something like it. Where do you start? Look up Chariots of Fire in the index and find it in Drama. There you'll see it listed under White Flannel Films. Welcome to the glory days of the British empire when the ruling class rode horses on large country estates, servants were in plentiful supply and only an adulterous lover questioned the status quo. As in other costume dramas, the period details are celebrations of all that was brilliant and luxurious, with the camera sweeping over British Indian or African countrysides and exquisite turn of the century interiors. But all this lush upholstery doesn't cover up the intelligent, thoughtful stories usually based on Lawrence Forster and Waugh novels, played by stellar British actors. In White Flannel Films, there are concise, witty reviews of select movies like A Room with a View, A Passage to India, Heat and Dust, The Shooting Party, Out of Africa, White Mischief and more. There is also a unique ratings system that helps you distinguish the bombs from the sleepers. But the key is that all these films offer the same kind of viewing experience: if you like one, chances are good you'll like the others too. Seen That, Now What? is your own personal video genius who knows everything about movies and exactly what you like to watch.

Richard Jaeckel, Hollywood's Man of Character Gene Freese, 2016-04-20 Character actor Richard Jaeckel worked five decades in Hollywood alongside the industry's biggest names. Noted for tough guy portrayals, he appeared in such classic westerns and war films as Sands of Iwo Jima (1949), The Gunfighter (1950), 3:10 to Yuma (1957) and The Dirty Dozen (1967). Bringing strength and integrity to his roles, he was nominated for a Best Supporting Actor Oscar for Sometimes a Great Notion (1970). A World War II veteran and Merchant Marine, he was respected in the surfing and fitness communities for his ageless athleticism. His performance as Turk in Come Back Little Sheba (1952) was groundbreaking for iron pumping actors wanting to be taken seriously for their dramatic abilities. This revealing portrait of the life of a working character actor covers Jaeckel's noteworthy career through each of his film and television appearances from Guadalcanal Diary (1943) to Baywatch (1994). Recollections and behind-the-scenes stories from those he knew and worked with offer an in-depth look at the dedication and professionalism it takes to make it in Hollywood The Encyclopedia of Martial Arts Movies Bill Palmer, Karen Palmer, Ric Meyers, 1995-01-01 The Encyclopedia covers the genre from 1920 to 1994 The genre however can be very confusing films often have several titles and many of the stars have more than one pseudonym In an effort to clarify some of the confusion the authors have included all the information available to them on almost 3 300 films Each entry includes a listing of the production company the cast and crew distributors running times reviews with star ratings whenever possible and alternate film titles A list of film series and one of the stars pseudonyms in addition to a 7 900 name index are also included Illustrated

The Motion Picture Guide ,1993 Let Not the Waves of the Sea Simon Stephenson, 2011-07-21 LET NOT THE WAVES OF THE SEA is Simon Stephenson s account of his journey following the loss of his brother in the Indian Ocean tsunami If it is a story of grief it is also a story of hope and of the unexpected places where healing can be found Simon s journey takes him from Edinburgh in the immediate aftermath of the disaster to Downing Street in London to Thailand and the island where his brother died to the scene of an ancient tsunami on the north west coast of the United States and to the town where he and his brother s favourite childhood film was made Along the way there is heartbreak dengue fever Greek mythology and hard physical labour in the tropical heat but there is also memory redemption and humour as well
