

KINGFISHER

Your wings are made of precious stones,
Your chest like fire - burning bright,
Flashy in your brightest tones -
Electrifying flash of light;

With sharpened dagger on a perch,
Sit patiently, observe your prey,
Then with one fast, decisive lurch,
You dive across the waterway;

In one fell swoop, you snatch and steal
The fish - their silver scales your prize,
You swallow it and then conceal
Yourself in watery disguise;

Your eye - a secret of your aim,
Most powerful your mighty wing;
No bird can beat you at your game,
The noble bird - You ARE the king!

S. Johnson - Zulfikar Ghose Correspondence Vanessa Guignery,2015-04-01 From 1959 to 1973 the writers B S Johnson and Zulfikar Ghose regularly wrote letters to each other in which they discussed their own work and literary preoccupations They exchanged early drafts of poems short stories plays and novels and their correspondence contains detailed comments and extended analyses of these texts as well as illuminating reflections on literature criticism poetics and aesthetics Though much of the correspondence is an extended literary discussion it also contains moments of personal revelation jokes and anecdotes so that the letters with their surprising asides are enjoyable to read even as they inform with their biographical and intellectual content The two authors also frequently refer to the university poetry journals and literary magazines they contributed to or edited and they write about the poetry meetings they attended and the writers they met or read Their involvement in literary groups and their dealings with publishers editors and agents are indicative of the publishing mechanisms of the time This correspondence thus not only provides insight into the work of both B S Johnson and Zulfikar Ghose but also conjures up a comprehensive picture of the London literary world of the 1960s Landscaping Postcoloniality. The Dissemination of Cameroon Anglophone Literature Joyce Ashuntantang,2009 This is a foundational text on the production and dissemination of Anglophone Cameroon literature The Republic of Cameroon is a bilingual country with English and French as the official languages Ashuntantang shows that the pattern of production and dissemination of Anglophone Cameroon literature is not only framed by the minority status of English and English speaking Cameroonians within the Republic of Cameroon but is also a reflection of a postcolonial reality in Africa where mostly African literary texts published by western multi national corporations are assured wide international accessibility and readership This book establishes that in spite of these setbacks Anglophone Cameroon writers have produced a corpus of work that has enriched the genres of prose poetry and drama and that these texts deserve a wider readership Selections from the Poems of Percy Bysshe Shelley Percy Bysshe Shelley, 1915
