The Colonization of Land in Matthew's Gospel Maziel Barreto Dani,2024-08-19 In The Colonization of Land in Matthew s Gospel Maziel Barreto Dani proposes that land is constructed as a colonized and subjugated entitl Traditional scholarship claims that the Gospel of Matthew is detached from spatial territorial discussions and that geographical land concerns are displaced with Christology Dani however reinterprets multiple implicit and explicit references to land in the Gospel to show continuity rather than discontinuity with the Hebrew Bible s concerns with material land promises She does so by engaging the Gospel within its broader Roman Hellenistic and Jewish contexts where the theme of land possession is pervasive Central to the Gospel and the imperial contexts from which it emerges are contestations over the land and proclamations to whom the land belongs Dani argues that while Judea and neighboring lands are under the firm control of Roman imperial power during the first century CE Matthew s Gospel envisions Rome s demise and the control of land being transferred to an alternative empire governed by the sovereign rule of God Though God liberates the land from Rome s oppressive grasp and restores land promises to the righteous poor at Jesus return the land fails to escape colonial control That is the world while relinquished from Roman hegemony is reasserted under God s power and domination In arguing that Matthew s Gospel employs an imperializing agenda involving land reclamation the Gospel may be a source for validating and justifying the modern colonization of foreign and occupied land under the guise of God s purposes The Colonization of Land in Matthew s Gospel challenges colonial ideologies which oppress not only peoples but the lands which they inhabit
