Kinship, Descent, and Alliance Among the Karo Batak Masri Singarimbun, 1975      Kinship, Descent, and Alliance Among the Karo Batak Masri Singarimbun, 2024-03-29 The topic of this monograph is kinship and affinal relations among the Karo Batak My reason for selecting this topic is my belief that an understanding of the Karo system of social relations between kin and relatives by marriage is the necessary starting point for an understanding of most other aspects of Karo culture and society Moreover the Karo kinship system is similar to the kinship systems of numerous other peoples including other Batak which have become the focus of considerable anthropological interest and much theoretical debate From the Preface This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1975      How Kinship Systems Change Robert Parkin, 2021-07-16 Using some of his landmark publications on kinship along with a new introduction chapter and conclusion Robert Parkin discusses here the changes in kinship terminologies and marriage practices as well as the dialectics between them The chapters also focus on a suggested trajectory linking South Asia and Europe and the specific question of the status of Crow Omaha systems The collection culminates in the argument that whereas marriage systems and practices seem infinitely varied when examined from a very close perspective the terminologies that accompany them are much more restricted      Between kinship and the state Franz Benda-Beckmann, Keebet Benda-Beckmann, 2019-10-08 No detailed description available for Between kinship and the state      Indonesian Law 1949-1989 Pompe, 2023-09-20 This work is unique since it is the first comprehensive bibliography on Indonesian Law listing materials in various languages including Russian Japanese and Chinese The bibliography is divided into various fields of law and each chapter starts with an introduction on the related field The growing economic importance of Indonesia and the increasing trade relations with this country call for an instrument on how to find the law in Indonesia This bibliography will fill this gap as it includes all material on Indonesian law in a non Indonesian language which has been published since 1949      Tribal Communities in the Malay World Geoffrey Benjamin, 2003-08-01 The Malay World Alam Melayu spanning the Malay Peninsula much of Sumatra and parts of Borneo has long contained within it a variety of populations Most of the Malays have been organized into the different kingdoms kerajaan Melayu from which they have derived their identity But the territories of those kingdoms have also included tribal peoples both Malay and non Malay who have held themselves apart from those kingdoms in varying degrees In the last three decades research on these tribal societies has aroused increasing interest This book explores the ways in which the character of these societies relates to the Malay kingdoms that have held power in the region for many centuries past as well as to the modern nation states of the region It brings together researchers committed to comparative analysis of the tribal groups living on either side of the Malacca Straits in Indonesia Malaysia Thailand and Singapore New theoretical and descriptive approaches are presented for the study of the social and cultural continuities and discontinuities manifested by tribal life in the region Telling Lives, Telling History Susan Rodgers,1995-04-19 These two memoirs provide windows into the Sumatran past in particular and the early 20th century history of south east Asia in general In reconstructing their own passage into adulthood the writers tell the story of their country s turbulent journey to independence Architecture of First Societies Mark M. Jarzombek,2014-05-27 ARCHITECTURE OF FIRST SOCIETIES THIS LANDMARK STUDY TRACES THE BEGINNINGS OF ARCHITECTURE BY LOOKING AT THE LATEST ARCHAEOLOGICAL AND ANTHROPOLOGICAL RESEARCH From the dawn of human society through early civilizations to pre Columbian American societies Architecture of First Societies traces the different cultural formations that developed in various places throughout the world to form the built environment It is the first book to explore the beginnings of architecture from a global perspective Viewing ancient cultures through a lens of both time and geography this history of early architecture brings its subjects to life with full color photographs maps and drawings The author cites the latest discoveries and analyses in archaeology and anthropology and discovers links to the past by examining how indigenous societies build today Encounters with Modernity sections examine some of the political issues that village life and its architectural traditions face in the modern world This fascinating and engaging tour of our architectural past Fills a gap in architectural education concerning early mankind the emergence of First Society people and the rise of early agricultural societies Presents the story of early architecture written by the coauthor of the acclaimed A Global History of Architecture Uses the most current research to develop a global picture of human interaction and migration Features color and black and white photos and drawings that show site conditions as well as huts houses and other buildings under construction in cultures that still exist today Highlights global relationships with color maps Analyzes topics ranging in scale from landscape and culture to building techniques Helps us come to terms with our own modern approaches to historical conditions and anthropological pasts Architecture of First Societies is ideal reading for anyone who seeks a deeper understanding of the strong relationships between geography ecology culture and architecture Focality and Extension in Kinship Warren Shapiro,2018-04-20 When we think of kinship we usually think of ties between people based upon blood or marriage But we also have other ways nowadays called performative of establishing kinship or hinting at kinship many Christians have in addition to parents godparents members of a trade union may refer to each other as brother or sister Similar performative ties are even more common among the so called tribal peoples that anthropologists have studied and especially in recent years they have received considerable attention from scholars in this field However these scholars tend to argue that performative kinship in the Tribal World is semantically on a par with kinship established through procreation and marriage Harold Scheffler long time Professor of Anthropology at Yale University has argued by contrast that procreative ties are everywhere semantically central i.e. focal that they provide bases from which other kinship ties are extended. Most of the essays in this volume illustrate the validity of Scheffler's position though two contest it and one exemplifies the soundness of a similarly universalistic stance in gender behaviour. This book will be of interest to everyone concerned with current controversy in kinship and gender studies as well as those who would know what anthropologists have to say about human nature. The study of kinship once ruled the discipline of anthropology and Hal Scheffler was one of its magisterial figures. This volume reminds us why Scheffler's powerful analyses of kinship systems often conflicted with the views of his more relativist contemporaries. He cut through the fog of theory to emphasise the human essentials namely the importance of the social bonds rooted in motherhood and fatherhood. Anthropology in its decades long retreat from the serious study of kinship has lost a great deal. This volume points the way to a restoration. Peter Wood, National Association of Scholars

Indonesian Houses R. Schefold, Peter J.M. Nas, 2008-01-01 This collection aims to attract attention to the admirable achievements of indigenous builders in Indonesia and to contribute to a broader sense of commitment to the endangered architectural heritage in the region. It presents the second part of the results of a research project on vernacular architecture in western Indonesia sponsored by the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences. The volume is intended to provide an introduction to all relevant vernacular architectural traditions and developments in western Indonesia. The 21 contributions all written by researchers with long first hand experience in the area they are dealing with are arranged according to the location of the ethnic groups from west to east from Aceh to Western Java. Each contributor was asked to enrich the architectural description with a self chosen particular topic illustrating social ideological and environmental peculiarities of the field situation. The book takes account of the rich diversity of the various contexts and artistic elaborations that developed in the region.

The first collection of essays Indonesian houses Volume 1 Tradition and transformation in vernacular architecture was published as nr 207 of the Verhandelingen van het Koninklijk Instituut voor Taal Land en Volkenkunde Leiden 2003. It focussed on case studies demonstrating how a common architectural heritage has been affected by historical changes giving shape to a multiplicity of local developments and adaptations both in their material aspects and in their functions as objects of social value and meaning

From a Shattered Sun Susan McKinnon, 1991 Among a growing number of ethnographies of eastern Indonesia that deal with cosmology exchange and kinship From a Shattered Sun is the first to address squarely issues originally broached by Edmund Leach and Claude Lévi Strauss concerning the relation between hierarchy and equality in asymmetric systems of marriage. On the basis of extensive fieldwork in the Tamimbar islands Susan McKinnon analyzes the simultaneous presence of both closed asymmetric cycles and open asymmetric pathways of alliance of both egalitarian and hierarchical configurations In addition Tamimbarese society is marked by the existence of multiple differentially valued forms of marriage affiliation and residence Rather than seeing these various forms as analytically separable types McKinnon demonstrates that it is only by viewing them as integrally related in terms of culturally specific understandings of houses gender and exchange that one can perceive the processes through which hierarchy and equality are created

Ecotourism Impacts on Indigenous Peoples Wayne A. Babchuk, Robert K. Hitchcock, 2024-11-30 Ecotourism defined as responsible travel to natural areas that conserves the environment and improves the well being of local people has become one of the fastest growing industries in the world The impacts of ecotourism on people in virtually every part of the planet are particularly true for Indigenous people Indigenous people are found in over half of the world's countries and their cultures customs traditions identities and natural resource management systems are of great interest to scientists tourists and travelers Many Indigenous peoples reside in conservation hotspots and places with high biological biodiversity As shown in this book ecotourism has both promises and pitfalls for Indigenous peoples who seek to enhance their livelihoods while conserving the habitats in which they reside and the sacredness of their traditions Drawing on cases from South America North America Africa and Asia Ecotourism Impacts on Indigenous Peoples examines the social economic political and environmental impacts of ecotourism A common plea of Indigenous people is that they have greater control over incoming ecotourists and receive more equitable social economic and cultural benefits from what they recognize as a highly complex industry with significant environmental economic and political effects

Mission Schools in Batakland (Indonesia), 1861-1940 Jan S. Aritonang, 2016-05-18 The expansion of Christianity is often described from the viewpoint of the western missionaries This book however focuses on the large group of indigenous teachers and their pupils at the mission schools in Batakland These educational activities in fact provided the most important incentive for the birth and growth of the Lutheran Batak Church since 1860 With 3 million members this is the largest protestant church in Indonesia a Southeast Asian country with 190 million inhabitants 85% of whom are Muslim The study is based on archival sources in German Dutch Indonesian and Batak as well as on interviews with local teachers This is an important case study about the place of education within the missionary enterprise the cooperation and conflicts between foreign missionaries and their indigenous helpers the delicate relation between the Dutch colonial government and a German mission board

Rice, Rupees, and Ritual D. George Sherman, 1990-04-01 In this ethnographic study of the small mountain village of Huta Ginjang in the Samosir area of northern Sumatra the author pursues three main themes the role of rice in the Batak economy of feasting and the cultural ecology of dry and flooded field rice growing Two important questions emerge How did the social and economic changes resulting from Dutch colonization particularly the adoption of money as a medium of exchange affect Samosir Batak culture Have the values that largely shape the local economy been fundamentally altered by the effects of colonization and subsequent Japanese and Indonesian administrations After introductory chapters present the environmental and historical background of the Samosir region the author describes the socio cultural base on which its agricultural economy rests indigenous political and religious institutions concepts of patrilineal descent and marriage alliance and most importantly the ideology of the feasting system He then examines in detail and in comparative perspective the agricultural practices of Huta Ginjang and also deals more generally with the economic relations and institutions of the villagers notably marketing credit and cooperative endeavours Since the key production units are nuclear families the author analyzes the development of households and the organization of labor in cultivating crops He then turns to the distribution of livestock and land by both ritual and nonritual means The book is illustrated with photographs line drawings and maps

The Blood of the People Anthony Reid, 2014-03-17 In northern Sumatra as in Malaya colonial rule embraced an extravagant array of sultans rajas datuks and uleebalangs In Malaya the traditional Malay elite served as a barrier to evolutionary change and survived the transition to independence but in Sumatra a wave of violence and killing wiped out the traditional elite in 1945-46 Anthony Reid's The Blood of the People now available in a new edition explores the circumstances of Sumatra's sharp break with the past during what has been labelled its social revolution The events in northern Sumatra were among the most dramatic episodes of Indonesia's national revolution and brought about more profound changes even than in Java from where the revolution is normally viewed Some ethnic groups saw the revolution as a popular peasant supported movement that liberated them from foreign rule Others though felt victimised by a radical levelling agenda imposed by outsiders Java with a relatively homogeneous population passed through the revolution without significant social change The ethnic complexity of Sumatra in contrast meant that the revolution demanded and altogether new Indonesian identity to override the competing ethnic categories of the past

Rindi Gregory L. Forth, 2012-12-11 The author describes Rindi culture within an analytic framework that illustrates connexions between and common principles among often apparently disparate realms of thought and action The book contains chapters on the house the village and the domain an aggregate of villages space and cosmos religion the notions hamangu and ndewa divinity and the ancestors the powers of the earth the cycle of life and death social order class stratification the division of authority descent groups and the system of asymmetric prescriptive alliance by which it is governed marriage prestations and the various ways of contracting a marriage The study is based on 22 months of fieldwork
