House of Commons, 1909 British Literature and the Life of Institutions Benjamin Kohlmann, 2021 Explores how late Victorian Edwardian and modernist literary texts responded and adapted to institutional change that characterized the emergence of the welfare state and links the development of the institutional forms of the state to the aesthetic forms of literary writing Recognition Politics in Settler Colonial States Emile Badarin, 2025-06-26 Using Palestine as a case study Recognition Politics in Settler Colonial States shows how recognition politics operate to legitimize long standing colonial power structures In existing scholarship recognition has been seen as an asset coveted by indigenous communities This book forwards a new theoretically ground breaking perspective Emile Badarin shows that in colonial contexts settlers use recognition to legitimize and normalize the dispossession and elimination of Indigenous people More than this settler colonial states themselves actively pursue recognition employing it as a means to further the elimination of the indigenous societies they seek to replace In making the case the book critically examines the Euromodern categories of race racism and racial hierarchies and draws new conclusions about the interplay between colonialism racism and Zionism Central to this analysis is how anti Zionism has been strategically equated with anti Semitism and effectively used as a tool for the advancement of both settler colonialism in Palestine and Israel's recognition on the international stage The book delves into indigenous normative resistance against colonial recognition politics through the lens of the Palestinian practice of umud steadfastness extracting its philosophy of liberation as a pathway towards a decolonial future for all in Palestine and beyond

Votes and Proceedings of the Legislative Council During the Session, 1855 Journal of Social Science, 1890 Rice Plus Susan H. Lee, 2006-02-14 This book explores the economic coping practices of rural widows in the aftermath of the Cambodian civil war War produces a preponderance of widows often young widows with small children in their care Rural widows must feed their families and educate their children despite rural poverty and the lack of opportunities for women The economics of widowhood is therefore a significant social problem in less developed countries The widows predominant economic plan was to combine rice cultivation with an assortment of microenterprises a rice plus strategy Many widows were unable to grow enough rice on their land to feed their families They filled the hunger gap by raising cash through microenterprises to purchase additional rice Gender work roles were both permeable and persistent allowing a flexible sexual division of labor in the short run but maintaining traditional roles in the long run Most widows called on relatives or exchanged transplanting labor for male plowing services although a few women took up the plow themselves The study also explores widows access to key economic resources such as land credit and education War decimated widows family support networks including the loss of children their social security The study concludes that Cambodia s gender arrangement offered many economic options to widows but also devalued their labor in a cultural structure of inequality Gender poverty and war interacted to reduce widows financial resources accounting for their economic vulnerability
