Moritz Heck analyzes Afrobolivian social and cultural practices at the intersections of local communities, politics and the law, shedding light on novel articulations of Afrobolivianity and evolving processes of collective identification. This study also contributes to broader anthropological debates on blackness and indigeneity in Latin America by pointing out their conceptual entanglements and continuous interactions in political and social practice. Impasse in Bolivia Benjamin Kohl, Linda C. Farthing, 2013-07-04 Bolivia has experienced two decades of unprecedented popular resistance to the consequences of neoliberal policies, resulting in the resignation and flight of its president in October 2003. This unusual book uncovers the reasons and processes behind the rising opposition mirrored in country after country in Latin America to this currently fashionable internationally prescribed approach to economic development. It explores the problems faced by governments in reproducing global strategies at the national level, the tensions between markets and democracy, state restructuring, citizenship and property rights. It points to the problems inherent in retaining neoliberalism as the dominant paradigm in Latin America for the foreseeable future and the unlikely prospect of it putting down real roots of approval and legitimacy. ERS-foreign, 1969 Notes on the Agricultural Economies of the 20 Latin American Republics Alexander Bernitz, Gordon Enoch Patty, James Elmer Ross, John Vincent Lynch, Kenneth Leo Murray, Lester Russell Brown, Richard Eugene Bell, William Francois Hall, 1961 ERS-foreign United States.
