Dekker, 2017-03-02 During the past two decades there has been a resurgence of interest in issues of land reform in developing and transitional countries This has been initiated by the large scale re distributive activities in former communist countries and by the growing number of claims by displaced indigenous population groups to restore their rights to land This book provides a timely and clear overview of the historical and theoretical context of current land reform and tenure issues Illustrated with global case studies from Europe Asia Africa and Latin America key sections explore land and rights to land property land tenure and reform and land registration Beginning by discussing the need to demarcate space by creating invisible lines which give certainty to what extent authority over land can be established the book then explores legal and theoretical definitions of land and property and looks at the various different policies and forms of land tenure One of the most recent developments in land reform policy has been to look to traditional forms of access to land and of resource conservation The book argues that while such policies on land property rights have great potential they are best being adopted in a long term incremental way It also shows how land policy reforms must be embedded in institutional and general policy reforms complemented by rural development and educational opportunities for beneficiaries The book summarises the main principles of land reform activities and practices and argues that the perception of land tenure security is the most critical factor of success to land reform Designing Geodatabases David Arctur, Michael Zeiler, 2004 Building accurate geodatabases is the foundation for meaningful and reliable GIS By documenting actual case studies of successful ArcGIS implementations Designing Geodatabases makes it easier to envision your own database plan Jacket Compendium of Research Reports United States.
