Rural History of Soviet Central Asia: Land Reform and Agricultural Change in Early Soviet Uzbekistan Beatrice Penati,2024-12-02 In the mid

1920s Uzbekistan's countryside experienced a land reform which aimed at solving rural poverty and satisfying radical fringes among peasants and Party while sustaining agricultural output especially for cotton. This book analyses the decision making process underpinning the reform, its implementation and economic and social effects. The reform must be understood against the background of the wreckage caused by war and revolution and linked to subsequent policies of land organisation and regime sponsored class struggle. Overall, this is the first comprehensive account of early Soviet policy in Central Asia's agricultural heartland encompassing land rights, irrigation, credit, resettlement and the co-operative system. Capital

Penetration and the Peasantry in Southern and Eastern Africa Freedom Mazwi, George Tonderai Mudimu, Kirk Helliker, 2022-02-12. This book examines the impact of neoliberalism on peasant agriculture as a key livelihood strategy in Southern and Eastern Africa against the background of the current development crisis and the crossroads that Southern and Eastern Africa faces. It systematically analyses how the neoliberal architecture has deepened extroverted production for capitalist accumulation and how this has been to the detriment of the rural labour force and small scale and communal landowners. Apart from examining how neoliberalism has triggered land alienations, the book further argues that such policies have also impacted negatively on food security in a number of ways. The book presents empirical evidence through twelve case studies emerging from in-depth original fieldwork carried out in seven countries in the Southern and Eastern African region. This book is a must read for scholars of economics, sociology, anthropology, history, agrarian studies and political science as well as practitioners and policy makers interested in a better understanding of the impact of the agrarian neoliberal restructuring on the peasantry in Southern Africa. Peasant Struggles, Land Reforms and Social Change:

Malabar 1836-1982 P. Radhakrishnan, 1989. Reclaiming Africa Sam Moyo, Praveen Jha, Paris Yeros, 2018-09-03. This book presents the findings of research conducted by scholars and activists associated with the Agrarian South Network based mainly in Africa, Asia and Latin America. The research articulates a Southern perspective on the new scramble for Africa with a view to strengthen tri-continental solidarities. The book explains the significance of the new scramble in terms of the economic structures inherited from the late nineteenth century scramble and the subsequent post-independence period. The renewed competition for Africa's land and natural resources and the resumption of economic growth at the turn of the millennium have revived concerns regarding the continent's position in the world economy and the prospects for its development in the twenty-first century. In this regard, the book addresses two related issues: the character of the expansion of Southern competitors in relation to the more established Western strategies and the impact of the renewed influx of investments in land, minerals and associated infrastructure. The findings are presented with empirical rigor and conceptual clarity to enable the reader to grasp what really is at stake in the twenty-first century: an epic struggle to reclaim Africa from the monopolies that exercise control over its land, minerals, labour and destiny. Strategies of Social Change in India

Paramjit S. Judge, Gurpreet Bal, 1996. The book, on the basis of empirical and historical investigations, convincingly demonstrates that the process of change in India involved a great degree of ambivalence but there is no clear cut indication except that various strategies have tended to strengthen the position of the already privileged sections of the society The underprivileged are the last to benefit
