Lopez Jr.,2012-12-31 Prisoners of Shangri La is a provocative analysis of the romance of Tibet a romance that even as it is invoked by Tibetan lamas living in exile ultimately imprisons those who seek the goal of Tibetan independence from Chinese occupation Lopez lifts the veil on America s romantic vision of Tibet to reveal a country and a spiritual history more complex and less ideal than popular perceptions allow Lively and engaging Lopez's book raises important questions about how Eastern religions are often co-opted, assimilated and misunderstood by Western culture Publishers Weekly Proceeding with care and precision Lopez reveals the extent to which scholars have behaved like intellectual colonialists Someone had to burst the bubble of pop Tibetology and few could have done it as resoundingly as Lopez Booklist Fascinating A provocative exploration Lopez conveys the full dizziness of the Western encounter with Tibet and Tibetan Buddhism Fred Pheil Tricycle The Buddhist Review A timely and courageous exploration Lopez's book will sharpen the terms of the debate over what the Tibetans and their observers can or should be doing about the place and the idea of Tibet And that alone is what will give us all back our Shambhala Jonathan Spence Lingua Franca Book Review Lopez's most important theme is that we should be wary of the idea that Tibet has what the West lacks that if we were only to look there we would find the answers to our problems Lopez's book shows that on the contrary when the West has looked at Tibet all that it has seen is a distorted reflection of itself Ben Jackson Times Higher Education Supplement

Education, Learning and the Transformation of Development Amy Skinner, Matt Baillie Smith, Eleanor Brown, Tobias Troll, 2016-07-15 Whilst education has been widely recognised as a key tool for development this has tended to be limited to the incremental changes that education can bring about within a given development paradigm as opposed to its role in challenging dominant conceptions and practices of development and creating alternatives Through a collection of insightful and provocative chapters this book will examine the role of learning in shaping new discourses and practices of development By drawing on contributions from activists researchers education and development practitioners from around the world this book situates learning within the wider political and cultural economies of development It critically explores if and how learning can shape processes of societal transformation and consequently a new language and practice of development This includes offering critical accounts of popular informal and non formal learning processes as well as the contribution of indigenous knowledges in providing spaces for the co production of knowledge thinking and action on development and in terms of shaping the ways in which citizens engage with and create new understandings of development itself This book makes an important and original contribution by reframing educational practices and processes in relation to broader global struggles for justice voice and development in a rapidly changing development landscape
