Georgia Museum of Art Georgia Museum of Art, 2009 Through the Arch Larry B. Dendy, 2013-09-15

Through the Arch captures UGA's colorful past, dynamic present, and promising future in a novel way by surveying its buildings, structures, and spaces. These physical features are the university's most visible and some of its most valuable resources. Yet they are largely overlooked or treated only passingly in histories and standard publications about UGA. Through text and photographs, this book places buildings and spaces in the context of UGA's development over more than 225 years. After opening with a brief historical overview of the university, the book profiles over 140 buildings, landmarks, and spaces, their history, appearance, and past and current usage, as well as their namesake, beginning with the oldest structures on North Campus and progressing to the newest facilities on South and East Campus and the emerging Northwest Quadrant. Many profiles are supplemented with sidebars relating traditions, lore, facts, or alumni recollections associated with buildings and spaces. More than just landmarks or static elements of infrastructure, buildings and spaces embody the university's values, cultural heritage, and educational purpose. These facilities, many more than a century old, are where students learn, explore, and grow, and where faculty teach, research, and create. They harbor the university's history and traditions, protect its treasures, and hold memories for alumni. The repository for books, documents, artifacts, and tools that contain and convey much of the accumulated knowledge and wisdom of human existence, these structures are the legacy of generations. And they are tangible symbols of UGA's commitment to improve our world through education. Guide includes 113 color photos throughout, 19 black and white historical photos. Over 140 profiles of buildings, landmarks, and spaces. Supplemental sidebars with traditions, lore, facts, and alumni anecdotes. 6 maps.

American Artist, 1984 Elaine De Kooning Jane K. Bledsoe, Lawrence Campbell, Helen A. Harrison, Elaine De Kooning, Rose Slivka, 1992 Art Journal, 1960 Happiness by Design Justus Nieland, 2020-02-18

A cultural history of modern lifestyle viewed through film and multimedia experiments of midcentury designers Charles and Ray Eames. For the designers Charles and Ray Eames, happiness was both a technical and ideological problem central to the future of liberal democracy. Being happy demanded new things, but also a vanguard life in media that the Eameses modeled as they brought film into their design practice. Midcentury modernism is often considered institutionalized, but Happiness by Design casts Eames-era designers as innovative media artists, technophilic humanists, change managers, and neglected film theorists. Happiness by Design offers a fresh cultural history of midcentury modernism through the film and multimedia experiments of Charles and Ray Eames and their peers Will Burtin, László Moholy-Nagy, and György Kepes, among others, at a moment when designers enjoyed a new cultural prestige. Justus Nieland traces how, as representatives of the American Century's exuberant material culture, Cold War designers engaged in creative activities that spanned disciplines and blended art and technoscience while reckoning with the environmental reach of media at the dawn of the information age. Eames-era modernism, Nieland shows, fueled novel techniques of culture administration, spawning new partnerships between cultural and educational institutions, corporations, and the state. From the studio, showroom, floor, or classroom to the stages of world fairs and international conferences the midcentury multimedia experiments of Charles and Ray Eames and their circle became key to a liberal democratic lifestyle and also anticipated the look and feel of our networked present Lamar Dodd Lamar Dodd, Frank K.M.
