Heimat In Horst Bieneks Gleiwitzer Tetralogie:

Heimat in Horst Bieneks Gleiwitzer Tetralogie Thomas Bernd Ahrens, 2003 Die vorliegende Studie befaßt sich mit Horst Bieneks vier autobiographischen Gleiwitzer Romanen Die erste Polka 1975 Septemberlicht 1977 Zeit ohne Glocken 1979 und Erde und Feuer 1982 die im größeren Zusammenhang der Debatte um das im Deutschen so kontroverse Wort Heimat untersucht werden Der Band analysiert wie Bienek in der Tetralogie seine Kindheitserinnerungen und die Judenverfolgung im Dritten Reich narrativ verknüpft um in einer Synthese aus traditionellem und kritischem Heimatroman zu einer eigenen Aufarbeitung der jüngsten deutschen Vergangenheit zu gelangen Heimat, Space, Narrative Friederike Ursula Eigler, 2014 Explores how contemporary novels dealing with flight and expulsion after the Second World War unsettle traditional notions of Heimat without abandoning place based notions of belonging At the end of the Second World War millions of Germans and Poles fled or were expelled from the border regions of what had been their countries This monograph examines how in Cold War and post Cold War Europe since the 1970s writers have responded to memories or postmemories of this traumatic displacement Friederike Eigler engages with important currents in scholarship on Heimat the much debated German concept of homeland on the spatial turn in literary studies and on German Polish relations arguing for a transnational approach to the legacies of flight and expulsion and for a spatial approach to Heimat She explores notions of belonging in selected postwar and contemporary German novels with a comparative look at a Polish novel Olga Tokarczuk's House of Day House of Night 1998 Eigler finds dynamic manifestations of place in Tokarczuk's novel in Horst Bienek's 1972/82 Gleiwitz tetralogy about the historical border region of Upper Silesia and in contemporary novels by Reinhard Jirgl Christoph Hein Kathrin Schmidt Tanja Dückers Olaf Müller and Sabrina Janesch In a decisive departure from earlier approaches Eigler explores how these novels foster an awareness of the regions multiethnic and multinational histories unsettling traditional notions of Heimat without altogether abandoning place based notions of belonging Friederike Eigler is Professor of German at Georgetown University Home in Transition Meike Watzlawik, 2023-10-01 This book presents an integrative perspective on home or Heimat showing that it is much more than the place we were born or where we live This book brings fresh theoretical and empirical perspectives on what home is and can be from different viewpoints The chapters invite the reader to face challenging questions of what we learn about Heimat when it is taken from us threatened left on purpose or when we set out on the journey to find one The chapters are written by psychologists throughout but are expanded in perspective by comments from the groups of people featured in the chapters who are thus given their own voice The book concludes with a suggestion on how to unite all the different perspectives within a general model rooted in cultural psychology All in all the reader of this volume gains an access to the most complex phenomenon of human existence that of home Impossible to define in terms of the scientific lore of psychology intuitively understandable in everyday life and basis for deep desires if the feeling of home is lost This book will be a rewarding read for professionals and students from cultural psychology cultural and psychological anthropology sociology and related disciplines asking the question of what home is and how individuals can be supported in finding it Screening Nostalgia Alexandra Ludewig, 2014-03-15 The Heimat film genre assumed to be outdated by so many is very much alive Who would have thought that this genre which has been almost unanimously denounced within academic circles but which seems to resonate so deeply with the general public would experience a renaissance in the 21st century The genre's recent resurgence is perhaps due less to an obsession with generic storylines and stereotyped figures than to a basic human need for grounding that has resulted in a passionate debate about issues of past and present This book traces the history of the Heimat film genre from the early mountain films to Fatih Akin's contemporary interpretations of Heimat Horst Bienek Horst Bienek, 1990
