Caring and Doing for Others Alice S. Rossi,2001-05 From all sides we hear that Americans are becoming increasingly self absorbed and disconnected and that our interest in social and civic responsibility is on the decline A more encouraging profile emerges in this study of Americans at work at home with their families and in their communities The book is based on a national representative survey of more than 3 000 Americans aged 25 to 74 plus in depth interviews with adults drawn from the survey to find out what Americans mean by social responsibility The book explores the extent to which adults contribute time to caregiving social support and financial assistance to family members the time given to volunteer work and financial contributions to various causes charities and organizations and how these contributions are affected by job obligations A major focus is on age and gender differences which shows midlife to be a transitional time when civic activities increase as family obligations decline All told the study adds a hopeful new voice to the overwhelmingly negative debate about the current state of our civic and social lives Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh,2010-03-31 TLA Film, Video, and DVD Guide 2002-2003 David Bleiler,2001-11-03 A film video and DVD guide for the true lover of the cinema this volume focuses on independent and international films as well as the best of the mainstream 450 photos throughout MIT Campus Planning, 1960-2000 O.
