Monuments of Architecture and Sculpture United States. Department of State, Ardenia Ripley Hall, 1959 A Chinese Traveler in Medieval Korea Sem Vermeersch, 2016-05-31 The king and ministers superior and inferior move with ritual and refinement When the king goes on an inspection tour everyone has the correct ceremonial attributes and the divine flag troops gallop in front while armored soldiers block the road The soldiers of the Six Divisions all hold their attributes Although it is not completely in uniformity with classic rites compared with other barbarians it is splendid to behold This is why Confucius thought it would not be a shame to reside here And is not moreover Kija's country a close relative of the hallowed dynasty So observed the Song envoy Xu Jing in the official report of his 1123 visit to Korea a rare eyewitness account of Koryŏ 918-1392 society in its prime Officially the purpose of Xu Jing's visit was to condole the new king Injong on the death of his father and present him with a letter of investiture unofficially he was tasked with persuading Injong to align with Song China against the newly emergent Jin dynasty Although famous for its celadon and Buddhist paintings the Koryŏ period is still very much terra incognita in world history because of the lack of translated source materials The present work the first fully annotated complete translation of a key source text on Koryŏ fills this gap Xu Jing spent a little more than a month in the Koryŏ capital Kaesŏng but he was a meticulous chronicler compiling a veritable handbook on Koryŏ that is full of fascinating details found nowhere else on daily life history customs and manners buildings the military food among others However Xu Jing was not unbiased in his observations and supplemented his work with unreliable information from earlier chronicles a fact often ignored in previous studies of the Illustrated Account In a substantial introduction to his translation Sem Vermeersch not only places this important work in its historical context but also reveals both the sources used by the author and the merits and limits of his observations allowing historians of medieval Korea to make fuller use of this singular primary source
