Kultur Analysen:

Cultural Psychology Uwe Wolfradt, Lars Allolio-Näcke, Paul Sebastian Ruppel, 2024-12-17 The introductory book presents the current state of cultural psychology in terms of theoretical approaches and methods comprehensively. It also demonstrates how deeply it is anchored in various fields of action. Cultural psychology is an interdisciplinary field of research that aims less to objectively and causally explain human behavior and experience but rather seeks to understand psychological phenomena in their respective sociocultural context. In doing so it follows a theoretical understanding of humans as actively acting beings. Compared to the prevailing nomothetic oriented psychology it emphasizes different theoretical and methodological approaches particularly highlighting intentionality, meaning structuring and ultimately the cultural aspects of human existence. Cultural psychology incorporates both hermeneutic approaches from psychology, philosophy, sociology and ethnology as well as qualitative methods for studying human behavior and experience. In Garageland Johan Fornäs, Ulf Lindberg, Ove Sernhede, 2014-04-04 Seeking to understand youth culture through its visual and musical expression. In Garageland presents a pioneering ethnographic study of rock bands and their fans. Topics include class as well as sexual conflicts, mainstream and deviant subcultures and the complex social psychological and ethical relationships which exist within youth culture. In Garageland develops the notion of youth culture research as a way of mirroring our grown up identities and of staking out the limits of late modern culture in general. Neudenken Von Kultur und Kulturanalyse Joaquim Braga, Christian Möckel, 2013 The texts in this collection are revised versions of presentations given at the Coimbra International Conference on the Semantics of Culture Why Culture held on November 24-25 2011. Their common theme is the idea that the phenomenon of culture cannot be reduced to a substantialist vision of the diversity of manifestations of society and human beings. However if one were to accept the concept of culture as a starting point for observing these manifestations then it should also be adopted as a starting point for critical questioning that is for problematizing. The texts in this volume contribute to this philosophical problematization by pointing out each with its own perspective of analysis articulations of the phenomenon of culture as a theoretical object and as a thematic object.

Order of Rituals Hans-Georg Soeffner, 2018-04-17 To those still accustomed to seeing social order depicted in classes, strata, central groups or institutions and who measure and classify the social world according to centers and margins, modern society presents itself as ambiguous and unmanageable. This is not unprecedented. Human societies often discover themselves in situations in which the traditional grids of order and stratification lose their value and fail to serve as guideposts for individuals. In The Order of Rituals Hans Georg Soeffner aims to answer the question: Through what efforts of order and orientation are loosely organized societies like ours held together? Soeffner focuses on symbolic forms of self presentation that bring focus and clarity to our lives such as emblems, fashions, styles and symbols. As these replace old orders of classes or strata there is a further consequence. Economically, culturally and ethnically mixed societies not only return to specific visible forms of presentation but also present themselves and their worldviews as a public stage of life styles attitudes and demeanor Soeffner asserts that society preserves certain continuously handed down forms of action and ritual as specific symbolic forms over a long period of time The Order of Rituals describes these symbols and routines of everyday life in fascinating detail coupled with thoughtful analysis Sociologists anthropologists and philosophers will all benefit immensely from this book

Goran Radovanovic Biljana Stankovic Svetlozar Vassilev and Jasmila Zbanic In the last decade the concept of trauma has experienced a surprising boom in sociological and media debates In a culture of outrage blanket narratives of victimhood often overshadow the concrete known social violations and their observable real economic and psychological consequences The aim of this volume is to reflect on this shift in discourse and to compare it with the concrete historical backgrounds and psychosocial constitutions of countries that have been haunted by social trauma in different ways In discussing feature films from Germany and four Balkan countries the book presents the distinct social traumatic histories how they are negotiated in different societies and the motifs cinema uses to narrate them The award winning films featured are Sadilishteto The Judgement Grbavica Esma s Secret Grbavica Muskarci ne placu Men Don t Cry Enklava Enclave Der Staat gegen Fritz Bauer The People vs Fritz Bauer and Sonbahar Autumn The individual film analyses are each accompanied by interviews with the filmmakers and introduced by overarching themes the role of cinema as a place of social understanding in a post traumatic society and the methodology of film analysis With contributions from the worlds of film psychoanalysis activism psychiatry film studies literary and cultural studies psychology trauma studies philosophy psychotherapy and human relations this book has a broad appeal It is a must read for those looking for a deeper insight into social trauma and the impact of sociocultural factors shown so clearly through the filmmaker s lens From 'Japan Problem' to 'China Threat'? Nicola

Nymalm, 2020-07-16 This book has four main objectives to bring the thus far almost entirely neglected historical case of the rise of Japan into the literature on power shifts in general and the rise of China in particular to propose a discourse based conceptualization of identity for the study of economic policy that engages theoretical and methodological debates on how to overcome the dichotomy between ideational identity and material economic factors to address the tendency to focus on the radical Other in poststructuralist IR scholarship by highlighting how heterogeneity disturbs exclusive and binary articulations of identity and difference and to propose a method for putting political discourse theory PDT into practice in empirical research by drawing on rhetorical political analysis RPA US congressional debates on economic policy on Japan and China in 1985 2008 are analysed as examples of official US elite public discourse The book shows that the new era in US Chinese relations that scholars and policymakers have been announcing since the beginning of the Trump presidency was long in the making as it rests on longstanding discourses on the USA s main economic competitor Body Cultures John Bale, Chris

Philo, 2002-09-10 Body Cultures explores the relationship between the body sport and landscape This book presents the first critically edited collection of Henning Eichberg s provocative essays into body culture Eichberg a well known scholar in continental Europe who draws upon the ideas of Elias Foucault Habermas and others is now attracting considerable interest from Anglo American sociologists historians and geographers This collection has been extensively edited to highlight Eichberg s most important arguments and themes Introductory essays from the editors and Susan Brownell provide clear explanations and interpretations as well as a biography of Eichberg Feeling Gender Harriet Bjerrum Nielsen, 2017-02-15

This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license. This book explores how feelings about gender have changed over three interrelated generations of women and men of different social classes during the twentieth century. The author explores the ways in which generational experiences are connected, what is continued, what triggers gradual or abrupt changes between generations and between women and men within these generations. The book explores how new feelings of gender gradually change gender norms from within and how they contribute to the incremental creation of new social practices. Nielsen suggests a new way of conducting psychosocial research that focuses on generational psychological patterns of gender identities and gendered subjectivities in times of change from a psychoanalytic perspective. Combining generational and longitudinal research, the book works with temporality as a theoretical as well as a methodological dimension. Theoretically, it combines Raymond Williams' idea of a structure of feeling with the work of Eric Fromm, Hans Loewald, Nancy Chodorow, and Jessica Benjamin.

Sport and Society in the Soviet Union Manfred Zeller, 2018-10-18. Following Stalin's death in 1953, association football clubs as well as the informal supporter groups and communities which developed around them were an important way for the diverse citizens of the multinational Soviet Union to express, negotiate, and develop their identities both on individual and collective levels. Manfred Zeller draws on extensive original research in Russian and Ukrainian archives as well as interviews with spectators, hardcore ultras, and hooligans from the Caucasus to Central Asia to shed new light onto this phenomenon covering the period from the height of Stalin's terror in the 1930s to the Soviet Union's collapse in 1991. Across events as diverse as the Soviet Union's footballing triumph over the German world champions in 1955 and the Luzhniki stadium disaster in 1982, Zeller explores the ways in which people, against the backdrop of totalitarianism, articulated feelings of alienation and fostered a sense of community through sport. In the process, he provides a unique bottom-up reappraisal of Soviet history, culture, and politics as seen through the eyes of supporters and spectators. This is an important contribution to research on Soviet culture after Stalin, the history of sport, and contemporary debates on antagonism in the post-Soviet world.

Ilan Gur-Ze'ev and Education Alexandre Guilherme, 2019-12-06. Ilan Gur-Ze'ev and Education: Pedagogies of Transformation and Peace critically analyses and introduces the main ideas of Ilan Gur-Ze'ev, reflecting on his continuing theoretical and practical relevance to the field of education. This book offers an accessible, higher-level critical discussion on the thought of Ilan Gur-Ze'ev with an impressive breadth and contemporary focus. The book focuses on Gur-Ze'ev's counter-pedagogy project, which brought him much attention and attempts to establish an alternative and non-dogmatic form of education. Gur-Ze'ev's views go against critical pedagogy and neoliberalism because while the former advocates achieving a utopia in which there is no oppression, the latter defends the idea that wants and desires need to be satisfied through a process of marketisation. This book brings to notice Gur-Ze'ev's concepts of counter-education and diasporic education, which seek to pursue the truth in everyday life rather than achieving a utopian goal or the promised land. This unique and up-to-date monograph will be of great interest for researchers, academics, and postgraduate students in the fields of philosophy of
