, Bulletin Boston Public Library, 1892 Quarterly accession lists beginning with Apr 1893 the bulletin is limited to subject lists special bibliographies and reprints or facsimiles of original documents prints and manuscripts in the Library the accessions being recorded in a separate classified list Jan Apr 1893 a weekly bulletin Apr 1893 Apr 1894 as well as a classified list of later accessions in the last number published of the bulletin itself Jan 1896 The Cistercian Evolution Constance Hoffman Berman, 2010-08-03 According to the received history the Cistercian order was founded in C teaux France in 1098 by a group of Benedictine monks who wished for a stricter community They sought a monastic life that called for extreme asceticism rejection of feudal revenues and manual labor for monks Their third leader Stephen Harding issued a constitution the Carta Caritatis that called for the uniformity of custom in all Cistercian monasteries and the establishment of an annual general chapter meeting at C teaux The Cistercian order grew phenomenally in the mid twelfth century reaching beyond France to Portugal in the west Sweden in the north and the eastern Mediterranean ostensibly through a process of apostolic gestation whereby members of a motherhouse would go forth to establish a new house The abbey at Clairvaux founded by Bernard in 1115 was alone responsible for founding 68 of the 338 Cistercian abbeys in existence by 1153 But this well established view of a centrally organized order whose founders envisioned the shape and form of a religious order at its prime is not borne out in the historical record Through an investigation of early Cistercian documents Constance Hoffman Berman proves that no reliable reference to Stephen s Carta Caritatis appears before the mid twelfth century and that the document is more likely to date from 1165 than from 1119 The implications of this fact are profound Instead of being a charter by which more than 300 Cistercian houses were set up by a central authority the document becomes a means of bringing under centralized administrative control a large number of loosely affiliated and already existing monastic houses of monks as well as nuns who shared Cistercian customs The likely reason for this administrative structuring was to check the influence of the overdominant house of Clairvaux which threatened the authority of C teaux through Bernard s highly successful creation of new monastic communities For centuries the growth of the Cistercian order has been presented as a spontaneous spirituality that swept western Europe through the power of the first house at C teaux Berman suggests instead that the creation of the religious order was a collaborative activity less driven by centralized institutions its formation was intended to solve practical problems about monastic administration With the publication of The Cistercian Evolution for the first time the mechanisms are revealed by which the monks of C teaux reshaped fact to build and administer one of the most powerful and influential religious orders of the Middle Ages The Unknowable in Literature and Material Culture Margot Irvine, Jeremy Worth, 2019-10-08 Literature strives to interpret and explain the unknown and to propose ways in which to engage with it even if at least initially these keys exist only in the realm of the imagination This is one of the many important qualities that draw us to study literature and to marvel at the creative understandings that it offers However many questions

call for further exploration how does something unknowable unspeakable become a subject that can be examined and debated How have literary and scientific communities entered into the dialogue and exchange that are crucial to the consolidation of knowledge By what processes can we come to know and understand that which remains hidden undocumented unspoken poorly understood the memories secrets unknowable and unspeakable truths of public and private human lives Inspired by questions such as these the contributors to this volume reflect on fin de si cle discourses around homosexuality and sexual inversion on mile Zola as seeker of concealed truths and figure of scandal on the modes and crises of representing human experience in literary and visual forms and on the dialogic space between self and other
