One-room schoolhouses of Arkansas as seen through a pinhole, 1993. This book compiles black and white photographs of 49 one-room and occasionally two-room schoolhouses in Arkansas. The book aims to share the vision of these special buildings that were so important in shaping the educational system, communities, and lives. An introduction describes the pinhole cameras that were used, and how the different effects achieved in the photographs were a direct result of the design and characteristics of the pinhole camera. There is one photograph of each school with its name and a short description on the facing page. Descriptions include architectural features, present condition, and use, and available history. The afterword comments on the special characteristics of one-room schools and their unique place in American history and includes testimony from a former student of a one-room school and from a teacher who started her teaching career of over 30 years in a one-room school. Appendix lists the schools, their approximate locations, the type of camera, film, and filter used, and exposure times.

Ethnic Heritage in Mississippi Shana Walton, Barbara Carpenter, 2012-04-02. Contributions by Linda Pierce, Allen Carl L. Bankston III, Barbara Carpenter, Milburn J. Crowe, Vy Thuc Dao, Bridget Anne Hayden, Joyce Marie Jackson, Emily Erwin Jones, Tom Mould, Frieda Quon, Celeste Ray, Stuart Rockoff, Devparna Roy, Aimée L. Schmidt, James Thomas, Shana Walton, Lola Williamson, and Amy L. Young. Throughout its history, Mississippi has seen a small, steady stream of immigrants, and those identities, sometimes submerged, sometimes hidden, have helped shape the state in important ways. Amid renewed interest in identity, the Mississippi Humanities Council has commissioned a companion volume to its earlier book that studied ethnicity in the state from the period 1500-1900. This new book, Ethnic Heritage in Mississippi: The Twentieth Century, offers stories of immigrants overcoming obstacles, immigrants newly arrived and long settled groups witnessing a revitalized claim to membership. The book examines twentieth-century immigration trends, explores the reemergence of ethnic identity, and undertakes case studies of current ethnic groups. Some of the groups featured in the volume include Chinese, Latino, Lebanese, Jewish, Filipino, South Asian, and Vietnamese communities. The book also examines Biloxi as a city that has long attracted a diverse population and takes a look at the growth in identity affiliation among people of European descent. The book is funded in part by a We the People grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

SuperVision and Instructional Leadership Carl D. Glickman, Stephen P. Gordon, Jovita M. Ross-Gordon, 2010. This groundbreaking text in instructional leadership and supervision continues to challenge and reshape the conventional purposes, practices, structure, and language of supervision. The text's emphases on school culture, teachers as adult learners, developmental leadership, democratic education, and collegial supervision have helped redefine the meaning of supervision and instructional leadership. The Eighth Edition continues the book's trend-setting tradition by placing instructional leadership and school improvement within a community and societal context, providing new examples of direct assistance, professional development, and action research, and presenting an entire new chapter, Supervision for What Democracy and the Good School Building, on the success of previous editions. The Eighth Edition addresses hot issues such as school improvement, constructivist teaching, professional development, Chaos Theory, and state-mandated standards. This is a resource that students purchase, use in class, and reference throughout their careers as education leaders.
