COCKROACH SCAM AND OTHER STORIES Puneeta Khatri, 2014-05-09 Growing up with E. Blyton Nancy Drew Hans Christian Anderson to name a few I have existed in my world of imagination My daughter Roopashi and son Rushil have grown up listening to my over imaginative stories which were not read to them from usual books They like to hear bizarre stories which are weird wacky witty and which always have a surprise ending For most of the time they are the casting directors deciding on the characters and I am supposed to come up with a fascinating story in a jiffy Cockroach Scam and other stories when I mentioned the title to a friend she said humorous and definitely attention grabbing A child's world revolves around mother father school teacher principal toys and the most important IMAGINATION that is what I have written about There are incidents in this book which took place when I was in school not exactly word by word but then again there are incidents which are totally inventive Like the story Nutty Ebony the idea came when my husband was posted in Bellary Karnataka Our cook boiled the egg in a pressure cooker for 15 minutes The egg was more of a slimy mass which even the street dog refused to eat My friends in Birmingham UK who loved my story The Black Hole and as my dear friend Jacqueline commented That is the shortest science fiction story I have ever heard Heartfelt thanks to children's world magazine editor Navin Menon assistant editor Geeta Menon and the editor of Open sesame a Deccan Herald publication for printing my thoughts time and again Over the past years I have read many of Puneeta Khatri's stories in the leading dailies Like most adults I have enjoyed it with childlike curiosity and enthusiasm From the quality of her writing and presentation I can only envisage the excitement a child feels reading her stories is nothing short of total involvement Puneeta is a versatile writer but her gift for children's stories is noteworthy She has been consistently and dedicatedly working towards promoting literature within her home among her friends and all over the country in numerous ways Her children have grown up with a mother who can engage them with words and her imagination instilling in them the love for books With the release of her first book Puneeta is only continuing her contribution to children's literature in India She is fueling children's minds with her ability to combine skill life experiences humor suspense and cleverness into simple stories I have enjoyed reading this collection of stories and look forward to more from her gifted imagination

The Baby Can Sing and Other Stories Judith Slater, 1999 Judith Slater's debut collection The Baby Can Sing and Other Stories was selected by Stuart Dybek as the 1998 Winner of the Mary McCarthy Prize in Short Fiction The Baby Can Sing and Other Stories introduces a writer who approaches the world at a surprisingly oblique angle Judith Slater writes in a prose dance dramatizing the lives of ordinary people who wonder what they can do to bring more passion into their lives or at least less loneliness The characters in these stories are a diverse bunch a floral clerk with aspirations of being a ballet dancer a photographer volunteering to take the pictures at his ex girlfriend's wedding a father playing the role of reluctant chaperon at his daughter's school dance but all of them are alert to the moments of possibility transcendence and sometimes even magic that exist just under the surface of ordinary life Slater is unafraid to employ the surreal or absurd twist in the title story a woman creates a perfect baby in her mind in Phil's Third Eye a chance encounter at a Laundromat ends in a bizarre battle of wills in Our New Life a woman finds that her former therapist has decided to make the same drastic change in her own life as she had encouraged in her patient's and a strange challenge is issued to decide who has taken the greater risk the narrator of Soft Money worried about job security in the large corporation she works for hits upon a unique solution to the problem of downsizing In vivid witty prose Judith Slater presents a world where people come together and make do as they learn to live with the odd possibilities in life Judith Slater grew up in Oregon and received her M F A in creative writing from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst Her stories have appeared in Redbook Seventeen Greensboro Review Sonora Review American Literary Review Beloit Fiction Journal and Colorado Review among other magazines She is an associate professor of English at the University of Nebraska Lincoln where she lives during the academic year She spends her summers in Ashland Oregon Judith Slater is a writer whose work rings true to experience her observation of the world is keen reported Clues: A Journal of Detection, Vol. 39, No. 2 (Fall 2021) Elizabeth
