The Cambridge Handbook of Social Problems: Volume 1 A. Javier Treviño, 2018-03-22 The introduction of the Affordable Care Act in the United States the increasing use of prescription drugs and the alleged abuse of racial profiling by police are just some of the factors contributing to twenty first century social problems The Cambridge Handbook of Social Problems offers a wide ranging roster of the social problems currently pressing for attention and amelioration Unlike other works in this area it also gives great consideration to theoretical and methodological discussions This Handbook will benefit both undergraduate and graduate students eager to understand the sociology of social problems It is suitable for classes in social problems current events and social theory Featuring the most current research the Handbook provides an especially useful resource for sociologists and graduate students conducting research

Metagnosis Danielle Spencer, 2020-10-08 This book identifies and names the phenomenon of metagnosis the experience of newly learning in adulthood of a longstanding condition It can occur when the condition has remained undetected e g colorblindness and or when the diagnostic categories themselves have shifted e g ADHD More broadly it can occur with unexpected revelations bearing upon selfhood such as surprising genetic test results This phenomenon has received relatively scant attention yet learning of an unknown condition is frequently a significant and bewildering revelation subverting narrative expectations and customary categories

Posthuman and Nonhuman Entanglements in Contemporary Art and the Body Justyna Stępień, 2022-05-15 Disclosing the interconnectedness of human and nonhuman bodies understood here as more than human entanglements this book makes a crucial intervention into the field of contemporary artistic studies exploring how art can conceptualize material boundaries of entangled beings doings Drawing on critical posthumanist and new materialist thought in this book nonhumans become subjects of ethics aesthetics and politics that produce equally relevant meanings Designed to include multiple artistic perspectives and forms of expression which range from sculptures to bio art and performative practices the book argues that we are entangled with other organisms around us not only by our socio cultural connections but predominately by the transformations that we all undergo with the world s materiality Thus the artistic works discussed do not merely reflect the world but transform it offering solutions for practising alternative ethical values and acting better with and for the world The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history cultural studies media studies body studies performance studies animal studies and environmental studies

Ecopoetics Angela Hume, Gillian Osborne, 2018-03-15 Ecopoetics Essays in the Field makes a formidable intervention into the emerging field of ecopoetics The volume s essays model new and provocative methods for reading twentieth and twenty first century ecological poetry and poetics drawing on the insights of ecocriticism contemporary philosophy gender and sexuality studies black studies Native studies critical race theory and disability studies among others As a volume this book makes the compelling argument that ecopoetics should be read as coextensive with post 1945 poetry and poetics rather than as a subgenre or movement within it It is essential reading for any student or scholar working on contemporary literature or in the environmental humanities today

The Enduring Fantastic Anna Höglund, Cecilia Trenter, 2021-06-09 Fantastic fiction is traditionally understood as Western genre literature such as fantasy science fiction and horror Expanding on this understanding these essays explore how the fantastic has been used in Western societies since the Middle Ages as a tool for organizing and materializing abstractions in order to make sense of the present social order Disciplines represented here include literature studies gender studies biology ethnology archeology history religion game studies cultural sociology and film studies Individual essays cover topics such as the fantastic creatures of medieval chronicle mummy medicine in eighteenth century Sweden how fears of disease filtered through the universal and adaptable vampire the gender aspects of goddess worship in the secular West ecocentrism in fantasy fiction how videogames are dealing with the remediation of heritage and more

Grounds for Respect Kristi Giselsson, 2012-07-25 In recent years traditional foundations of respect for others have been challenged on the basis that universal grounds the assumption that we share a common humanity have resulted in the exclusion of particular others from full moral consideration or respect This current questioning of the concept of a common humanity is of enormous significance in that universalism has been one of the central assumptions of modern western philosophy and a foundational key to its moral and political theory This book attempts to address the question of just what grounds are needed in order to justify respect for others and in addressing this question raises issues of fundamental importance such as what exactly does it mean to be human On what basis can we claim that all humans are equal Are there differences between animals and humans and are these differences of moral significance that is should animals be accorded the same respect as humans The author not only critically assesses past and current arguments for and against a common humanity but also provides a distinctively new conceptualization of what it might mean to be human and why being human is indeed morally significant

has reimagined death as entertainment and monsters as heroes reflecting a profound contempt for the human race

The Reproductive Body at Work Verena Namberger, 2019-04-11 The transnational industry surrounding assisted reproductive technology and regenerative medicine is based on the unacknowledged labour of gamete providers surrogates and research subjects and benefits from low labour costs in enabling sectors such as logistics and transport This finding calls for a comprehensive analysis of how the contemporary intersection of neoliberal capitalism and the life sciences in short the bioeconomy capitalises on the body and its reproductive capacities The Reproductive Body at Work uptakes this challenge as it explores the relations between value production labour and the body in one particular realm of the global bioeconomy the South African bioeconomy of egg donation It highlights different forms and dimensions of unacknowledged or precarious human labour that are constitutive for the procurement brokering and circulation of oocytes as valuable resources The analysis illustrates that the respective organisation of value and labour renegotiate what the reproductive body can do which status and roles it is ascribed which cultural and economic values it signifies and how it is experienced and enacted within a matrix of intersectional power relations A theoretically profound contribution to the interdisciplinary debate on New materialism The Reproductive Body at Work will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as gender studies medical anthropology cultural studies sociology political economy and science and technology studies

Boundary Objects and Beyond Geoffrey C. Bowker, Stefan Timmermans, Adele E. Clarke, Ellen Balka, 2016-02-26 The multifaceted work of the late Susan Leigh Star is explored through a selection of her writings and essays by friends and colleagues Susan Leigh Star 1954-2010 was one of the most influential science studies scholars of the last several decades In her work Star highlighted the messy practices of discovering science asking hard questions about the marginalizing as well as the liberating powers of science and technology In the landmark work Sorting Things Out Star and Geoffrey Bowker revealed the social and ethical histories that are deeply embedded in classification systems Star's most celebrated concept was the notion of boundary objects representational forms things or theories that can be shared between different communities with each holding its own understanding of the representation Unfortunately Leigh was unable to complete a work on the poetics of infrastructure that further developed the full range of her work This volume collects articles by Star that set out some of her thinking on boundary objects marginality and infrastructure together with essays by friends and colleagues from a range of disciplines from philosophy of science to organization science that testify to the wide ranging influence of Star's work Contributors Ellen Balka Eevi E.
