Kyle Cooper Andrea Codrington,2003-01-01 This new work is the first appraisal of one of America s most innovative and important designers of film titles including the famous sequence in the horror thriller Seven The Hell of War Comes Home Owen W. Gilman Jr.,2018-02-09 Owen W Gilman Jr stresses the US experience of war in the twenty first century and argues that wherever and whenever there is war there will be imaginative responses to it especially the recent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq Since the trauma of September 11 the experience of Americans at war has been rendered honestly and fully in a wide range of texts creative nonfiction and journalism film poetry and fiction These responses Gilman contends have packed a lot of power and measure up even to World War II s literature and film Like few other books Gilman s volume studies these new texts among them Kevin Powers s debut novel The Yellow Birds and Phil Klay s short stories Redeployment along with the films The Hurt Locker American Sniper and Billy Lynn s Long Halftime Walk For perspective Gilman also looks at some touchstones from the Vietnam War Compared to a few of the big Vietnam books and films this new material has mostly been read and watched by small audiences and generated less discussion Gilman exposes the circumstances in American culture currently preventing literature and film of our recent wars from making a significant impact He contends that Americans inclination to demand distraction limits learning from these compelling responses to war in the past decade According to Gilman where there should be clarity and depth of knowledge we instead face misunderstanding and the anguish endured by veterans betrayed by war and our lack of understanding The Theory and Practice of Motion Design R. Typography and Motion Graphics: The 'Reading-Image' Michael Betancourt, 2018-11-20 In his latest book Michael Betancourt explores the nature and role of typography in motion graphics as a way to consider its distinction from static design using the concept of the reading image to model the ways that motion typography dramatizes the process of reading and audience recognition of language on screen Using both classic and contemporary title sequences including The Man With the Golden Arm 1955 Alien 1979 Flubber 1998 Six Feet Under 2001 The Number 23 2007 and Scott Pilgrim vs The World 2010 Betancourt develops an argument about what distinguishes motion graphics from graphic design Moving beyond title sequences Betancourt also analyzes moving or kinetic typography in logo designs commercials film trailers and information graphics offering a striking theoretical model for understanding typography in media

Transforming Type Barbara Brownie, 2014-12-18 Transforming Type examines kinetic or moving type in a range of fields including film credits television idents interactive poetry and motion graphics As the screen increasingly imitates the properties of real life environments typographic sequences are able to present letters that are active and reactive These environments invite new discussions about the difference between motion and change global and local transformation and the relationship between word and image In this illuminating study Barbara Brownie explores the ways in which letterforms transform on screen and the consequences of such transformations Drawing on examples including Kyle Cooper s title sequence design kinetic poetry and MPC s idents for the UK s Channel 4 she differentiates motion from other kinds of kineticism with particular emphasis on the transformation of letterforms into other forms and objects through construction parallax and metamorphosis She proposes that each of these kinetic behaviours requires us to revisit existing assumptions about the nature of alphabetic forms and the spaces in which they are found
