contributions to urban planning The public spaces in Le Corbusier's plans are usually considered to break with the past and to have nothing whatsoever in common with the public spaces created before modernism This view is fostered by both the innovative character of his proposals and by the proliferation in his manifestos of watchwords that mask any evocation of the past like l'esprit nouveau new spirit and l'architecture de demain architecture of tomorrow However if we manage to rid ourselves of certain preconceived ideas which underpin a somewhat less than objective idea of modernity we find that Le Corbusier's public spaces not only didn't break with the historical past in any abrupt way but actually testified to the continuity of human creation over time Aimed at academics and students in architecture architectural history and urban planning this book fills a gap in the systematic analysis of Le Corbusier's city scale plans and specifically Corbusian public spaces following the Second World War
