Legends Of Ji Gong Reincarnation Of An Arhat:

Ji Gong Chuan Qi, 1996 The Way That Lives in the Heart Jean Elizabeth DeBernardi, 2006 The Way That Lives in the Heart is a richly detailed ethnographic analysis of the practice of Chinese religion in the modern multicultural Southeast Asian city of Penang Malaysia. The book conveys both an understanding of shared religious practices and orientations and a sense of how individual men and women imagine, represent and transform popular religious practices within the time and space of their own lives. This work is original in three ways. First, the author investigates Penang Chinese religious practice as a total field of religious practice suggesting ways in which the religious culture, including spirit mediumship, has been transformed in the conjuncture with modernity. Second, the book emphasizes the way in which socially marginal spirit mediums use a religious anti-language and unique religious rituals to set themselves apart from mainstream society. Third, the study investigates Penang Chinese religion as the product of a specific history rather than presenting an overgeneralized overview that claims to represent a single Chinese religion.

Chinese Buddhism and Traditional Culture Litian Fang, 2018-11-21. Since the first century when Buddhism entered China, the foreign religion has influenced and been influenced in turn by traditional Chinese culture and eventually became an important part of it. That is one of the great historical themes not only for China but also for East Asia. This book explores the elements of Buddhism, including its classics, doctrines, system and rituals, to reveal the basic connotation of Buddhism as a cultural entity. Regarding the development of Buddhism in China, it traces the spread in chronological order from the introduction in Han Dynasties 202 BC-220 AD to the prosperity in the Sixteen Kingdoms ca. 304-439 AD and then to the decline since the Five Dynasties 907 ca. 960 AD. It is noteworthy that the Buddhist schools in the Southern and Northern Dynasties 420-589 AD and the Buddhist sects in Sui and Tang Dynasties 581-907 AD contributed to the sinicization of Buddhism. This book also deals with the interesting question of the similarities and differences between Chinese Buddhism and Indian Buddhism to examine the specific characters of the former in terms of thought and culture. In the last chapter, the external influence of Chinese Buddhism in East Asia is studied. Scholars and students in Buddhism and Chinese culture studies, especially those in Buddhist countries, will benefit from the book. Also, it will appeal to readers interested in religion, Chinese culture and ancient Chinese history.
