common d monological vernacular has been shared among populations ranging from East and South Asia to Northern Europe In this virtuoso work of historical sleuthing David Gordon White recovers the trajectories of both the inner demons cohabiting the bodies of their human hosts and the outer d mons that those same humans recognized each time they encountered them in their enchanted haunts sylvan pools sites of geothermal eruptions and dark forest groves Along the way he invites his readers to reconsider the potential and promise of the historical method in religious studies suggesting that a connected histories approach to Eurasian d monology may serve as a model for restoring history to its proper place at the heart of the discipline of the history of religions

Negotiating the Sacred II Elizabeth Burns Coleman, Maria Suzette Fernandes-Dias, 2008-12-01 Blasphemy and other forms of blatant disrespect to religious beliefs have the capacity to create significant civil and even international unrest Consequently the sacrosanctity of religious dogmas and beliefs stringent laws of repression and codes of moral and ethical propriety have compelled artists to live and create with occupational hazards like uncertain audience response self censorship and accusations of deliberate misinterpretation of cultural production looming over their heads Yet in recent years issues surrounding the rights of minority cultures to recognition and respect have raised new questions about the contemporariness of the construct of blasphemy and sacrilege Controversies over the aesthetic representation of the sacred the exhibition of the sacred as art and the public display of sacrilegious or blasphemous works have given rise to heated debates and have invited us to reflect on binaries like artistic and religious sensibilities tolerance and philistinism the sacred and the profane deification and vilification Endeavouring to move beyond simplistic points about the rights to freedom of expression and sacrosanctity this collection explores how differences between conceptions of the sacred can be negotiated It recognises that blasphemy may be justified as a form of political criticism as well as a sincere expression of spirituality But it also recognises that within a pluralistic society blasphemy in the arts can do an enormous amount of harm as it may also impair relations within and between societies This collection evolved out a two day conference called Negotiating the Sacred Blasphemy and Sacrilege in the Arts held at the Centre for Cross Cultural Research at The Australian National University in November 2005 This is the second volume in a series of five conferences and edited collections on the theme Negotiating the Sacred The first conference Negotiating the Sacred Blasphemy and Sacrilege in a Multicultural Society was held at The Australian National University s Centre for Cross Cultural Research in 2004 and published as an edited collection by ANU E Press in 2006 Other conferences in the series have included Religion Medicine and the Body ANU 2006 Tolerance Education and the Curriculum ANU 2007 and Governing the Family Monash University 2008 Together the series represents a major contribution to ongoing debates on the political demands arising from religious pluralism in multicultural societies Buddhist Goddesses of India Miranda Shaw,2015-08-25 The Indian Buddhist world abounds with goddesses voluptuous tree spirits maternal nurturers potent healers and protectors transcendent wisdom figures cosmic mothers of liberation and dancing female Buddhas Despite their importance in Buddhist thought and practice these female deities have received relatively little scholarly attention and no comprehensive study of the female pantheon has been available Buddhist Goddesses of India is the essential and definitive guide to divinities that as Miranda Shaw writes operate from transcendent planes of bliss and awareness for as long as their presence may benefit living beings Beautifully illustrated the book chronicles the histories legends and artistic portrayals of nineteen goddesses and several related human figures and texts Drawing on a sweeping range of material from devotional poetry and meditation manuals to rituals and artistic images Shaw reveals the character powers and practice traditions of the female divinities Interpretations of intriguing traits such as body color stance hairstyle clothing jewelry hand gestures and handheld objects lend deep insight into the symbolism and roles of each goddess In addition to being a comprehensive reference this book traces the fascinating history of these goddesses as they evolved through the early Mahayana and Tantric movements in India and found a place in the pantheons of Tibet and Nepal Publisher s website

Volume 8: Discoveries in Western Tibet and the Western Himalayas* ,2007-06-30 Recent archaeological discoveries and scientific research especially focussed on western Tibet and the western Himalayas have resulted in a remarkable redefinition of the historical and cultural processes of the entire Indo Tibetan civilisation The present volume reflects these sometimes startling new insights for the first time covering the wide time range from the Zhang zhung period up to the 20th century spanning secular religious and economic history as well as art and archaeology Mandalas: Mapping the Buddhist Art of Tibet Kurt Behrendt,2024-09-16 A mandala is a diagram of the universe a map of true reality intended to provide a focus for Buddhist religious practice and inspire the devout This book highlights the distinctive Tibetan approach to creating mandalas exploring how it crossed over from India into Tibet and how continuous exchanges of art and ideas between the two cultures led by monks and spiritual teachers gave rise to a uniquely Tibetan style of Buddhist imagery Featuring more than one hundred paintings sculptures and ritual objects this superbly illustrated volume reflects the dazzling complexities of the Tibetan imagery that has provided a foundation for mandalas through the centuries Most notably a mesmerizing installation by the Tibetan American artist Tenzing Rigdol b 1982 specially created for the accompanying exhibition and published here for the first time offers contemporary audiences a way of interrogating and understanding their world and underscores how this ancient tradition remains a vibrant living practice Buddhaksetraparisodhana Charles DiSimone,Nicholas Witkowski,2024-11-25 Buddhaksetraparisodhana is a volume in honor of the Buddhologist and Philologist Paul M Harrison George Edwin Burnell Professor of Religious Studies at Stanford University The contributions of twenty nine of his colleagues students and friends from across the globe are dedicated to his academic interests and represent a cross section of the disciplines that have been so heavily influenced by Paul Harrison's scholarship in the past decades Buddhist Studies Indology Sinology Tibetology and Art History The Museum on the Roof of the World Clare Harris,2012-10-30 For millions of people around the world Tibet is a domain of undisturbed tradition the Dalai Lama a spiritual guide By contrast the Tibet Museum opened in Lhasa by the Chinese in 1999 was designed to reclassify Tibetan objects as cultural relics and the Dalai Lama as obsolete. Suggesting that both these views are suspect, Clare E. Harris argues in The Museum on the Roof of the World that for the past one hundred and fifty years British and Chinese collectors and curators have tried to convert Tibet itself into a museum, an image some Tibetans have begun to contest. This book is a powerful account of the museums created by for or on behalf of Tibetans and the nationalist agendas that have played out in them. Harris begins with the British public's first encounter with Tibetan culture in 1854. She then examines the role of imperial collectors and photographers in representations of the region and visits competing museums of Tibet in India and Lhasa. Drawing on fieldwork in Tibetan communities, she also documents the activities of contemporary Tibetan artists as they try to displace the utopian visions of their country prevalent in the West as well as the negative assessments of their heritage common in China. Illustrated with many previously unpublished images, this book addresses the pressing question of who has the right to represent Tibet in museums and beyond.

Portraiture in Early India, Vincent Lefèvre, 2011-07-12. This book highlights the specificities of Indian portraiture in sculpted and painted images, its relationship with divine images, and aims with the help of textual and epigraphical references to understand the development of Indian imagery. It questions also the social and religious implications related to this issue.
