Hipper Crit The Chronicles:

Hipper Crit--The Chronicles John Allen,2001-09-03 When Hipper Crit is told by The Goodman to go to the Far Country it sounds like an easy trip But even with Don Caminus as his guide he is soon diverted into a strange land where perception is everything for better or for worse From the Mountain Cabin to the Land of Altered Perspective from the Great Cave to the Far Country from Hipper Crit to Mandible Gnaw Join Bandor and Rhindol as they struggle against the vile beast of the swampish lowlands whose only purpose is to destroy those making the journey to the Far Country Share their concern as they reason with the inhabitants of The Land or simply appreciate the changes they undergo in order to live side by side with The Willing Listen in on the High Council s deliberations as the Lord Greatheart attempts to muster support for his plans The Council s purpose is to implement the will of The Goodman but its members do so with limited knowledge and when unexpected rebellion rises within the camp and one of their number is expelled from their company the danger multiplies Finally enter the heart of the rebel himself and walk with him to the edge of the precipice and beyond Esidarap , A Woman of Experience John M. Allen,2002-05-31 I am alone on my island at last So begins the account of Emilie Carpentier heiress to her solitary Atlantic property and last in line of the Carpentier dynasty But Emilie s peace and solitude is destined to be short lived for a stranger arriving on the shores of her island wins her heart in unprecedented fashion Not for the first time Emilie is forced into a moral struggle now stretching not only her heart but also her mind Just as she is beginning to cope with this however a band of slave traders seek her life and since the help Emilie relied on is not forthcoming she and her newfound love must fight against overwhelming odds Set in the late eighteen seventies this historical novel concludes the Carpentier Trilogy The Islander John Allen,2001-11 As revealed in her diary Maximilienne Carpentier is one of the most elusive and enigmatic figures of recent European history Who was this strange woman Where is the island she speaks of Can we believe that she did away with her enemies as she describes Was her father really a convicted criminal her aunt a murderess and her cousin a suicide Who is the mysterious Claude Besson her apparent help in time of trouble What of the Royal Title she alludes to or her claim that Charles VII of France ratified this valuable document Although some details linger obstinately in the caprice of nineteenth century political turmoil the Carpentier diary nevertheless remains a fascinating document Apartheid South Africa John Allen,2005 Speaking from firsthand knowledge and with an intimate understanding of the situation the author takes us beyond the media hype that so dominated Western television screens to answer some of the most vital questions concerning the apartheid era bringing to light little known facts concerning historical detail and providing the reader with eyewitness accounts of day to day life in one of the most dangerous countries in the world back cover John M. Allen,2002 Although British born John Allen lived in South Africa from 1954 to 1990 a 36 year period during which the country experienced its most climacticand sometimes terribleevents Speaking from firsthand knowledge and with an intimate understanding of the situation the author takes us beyond the media hype that so dominated

Western television screens and answers some of the most vital questions of all Who for instance originated the system of government the world grew to hate so much Was South Africa the only apartheid country What was the West's real motive in forcing the country to its knees Why did Nelson Mandela's release from prison exacerbate rather than diminish violence What was the country's overall perception of its most famous political prisoner Growing up White in Apartheid South Africa addresses these and a host of other issues bringing to light little known facts eyewitness detail and personal reflection

Coming of Age John Allen, 2002-02 In 1877 Maximilienne Carpentier died after being shipwrecked off the Danish coast Emilie Carpentier however survived the tragedy and suddenly this diminutive cousin of the enigmatic Max finds herself thrust center stage as the drama surrounding her mid Atlantic island and its potential for evil unfolds But Emilie's troubles aren't only external Forced to this out of the way place by circumstances beyond her control she meets duty more than she can bear temptation greater than she ever envisaged and hope more fulfilling than any that has yet entered her life From a dread of personal relationships to the fear of fear itself this young woman finds herself coming of age in every aspect as she sways between raw physical passion and deep emotional insight Answering the need for a sequel to The Islander the author now gives us rare insight into the mind and heart of a woman The History of English Poetry, from the Close of the 11th to the Commencement of the 18th Century Thomas Warton (jr.), 1824 The History of English Poetry from the Close of the Eleventh to the Commencement of the Eighteenth Century Thomas Warton, 1824 The History of English Poetry Thomas Warton, 1824 The History of English Poetry from the Close of the 11. to the Commencement of the 18.
