Disarming the Nation Elizabeth Young, 1999-12-15 In a study that will radically shift our understanding of Civil War literature Elizabeth Young shows that American women writers have been profoundly influenced by the Civil War and that in turn their works have contributed powerfully to conceptions of the war and its aftermath Offering fascinating reassessments of works by white writers such as Harriet Beecher Stowe Louisa May Alcott and Margaret Mitchell and African American writers including Elizabeth Keckley Frances Harper and Margaret Walker Young also highlights crucial but lesser known texts such as the memoirs of women who masqueraded as soldiers In each case she explores the interdependence of gender with issues of race sexuality region and nation Combining literary analysis cultural history and feminist theory Disarming the Nation argues that the Civil War functioned in women s writings to connect female bodies with the body politic Women writers used the idea of civil war as a metaphor to represent struggles between and within women including struggles against the cultural prescriptions of civility At the same time these writers also reimagined the nation itself foregrounding women in their visions of America at war and in peace In a substantial afterword Young shows how contemporary black and white women including those who crossdress in Civil War reenactments continue to reshape the meanings of the war in ways startlingly similar to their nineteenth century counterparts Learned witty and accessible Disarming the Nation provides fresh and compelling perspectives on the Civil War women s writing and the many unresolved civil wars within American culture today Wild West Lawmen and Outlaws Ryan P. Randolph, 2002-12-15 Provides a brief history of lawlessness in the West and the men who tried to end it 2033-The Century After Georg Woodman, Dr.MSc. & PhD, 2017-10-18 What if things went differently in the 1930s and 40s giving victory to Germany and Japan In that scenario what would the world be like a century later This story of altered history begins in 2033 when Alois Adolf Hitler III the grandson of Adolph Hitler is reminiscing on the balcony of the Reichskanzlei chancellery on how his grandfather accomplished victory in World War II and about everything that has happened since Read how history was rewritten and how the third generation of The Third Reich is doing This stunning story connects history with reality and fiction showing a possible future that could have happened In reality Nazi Germany made increasingly aggressive territorial demands threatening war if they were not met It seized Austria and Czechoslovakia in 1938 and 1939 Hitler made a pact with Joseph Stalin and invaded Poland in September 1939 launching World War II in Europe In alliance with Italy and smaller Axis powers Germany conquered most of Europe by 1940 and threatened Great Britain In fiction What changed to allow Hitler to win the war Find out in 2033 The Century After As our wheel of history shows it could have spun in another direction just as easily
