Innovative Technology in Art Conservation W. (Bill) Wei, 2023-12-22 Innovative Technology in Art Conservation provides one of the first ever critical assessments of innovation in conservation science and questions what role it should play in conservation and conservation ethics Written in language understandable for the non technical reader the book begins with a brief history of so called science based conservation which is based on chemistry physics and engineering and examines how it influences conservation ethics and conservation decisions It considers the concepts of originality and original appearance and how people see and perceive objects looking in particular at the results of the relatively new technology of eye tracking Wei then moves on to critically examine advanced technologies such as colour modelling hyperspectral imaging texture mapping virtual retouching and digital reproductions and considers what they offer for determining original appearance of artworks and other cultural heritage objects The book concludes with some reflections on the future of conservation and science based conservation calling for more thoughtful consideration of what it is that conservation scientists are offering and why and for whom it is being offered Innovative Technology in Art Conservation is essential reading for academics and students working in conservation and conservation science The book will also be of interest to the international community of conservators and cultural heritage professionals who must make decisions about whether to use advanced technologies in their practice

Heritage or Heresy B. Schildgen, 2016-01-23 This is an account of the roles of local and national movements and of memory and regret in the destruction or preservation of the architectural artistic and historic legacy of Europe in which the author examines what is cultural heritage and why it matters Paik's Virtual Archive Hanna Hölling, 2017-02-21 Two works Conceptual and material aspects of media art Musical roots of performed and performative media Zen for film Changeability and multimedia art Time and conservation Heterotemporalities The material and the immaterial archive Archival implications Conclusion the many archais of conservation and curation The Monumental Challenge of Preservation Michele Valerie Cloonan, 2023-08-15 The enormous task of preserving the world's heritage in the face of war natural disaster vandalism neglect and technical obsolescence The monuments movable immovable tangible and intangible of the world's shared cultural heritage are at risk War terrorism natural disaster vandalism and neglect make the work of preservation a greater challenge than it has been since World War II In The Monumental Challenge of Preservation Michele Cloonan makes the case that at this critical juncture we must consider preservation in the broadest possible contexts Preservation requires the efforts of an increasing number of stakeholders In order to explore the cultural political technological economic and ethical dimensions of preservation Cloonan examines particular monuments and their preservation dilemmas The massive Bamiyan Buddhas blown up by the Taliban in 2001 are still the subject of debates over how or whether to preserve what remains and the U S National Park Service has undertaken the complex task of preserving the symbolic and often ephemeral objects that visitors leave at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial to take just two of the many examples described in the book Cloonan also considers the ongoing genocide and cultural genocide in Syria the challenges of preserving our digital heritage the dynamic between original and copy efforts to preserve the papers and architectural fragments of the architect Louis Sullivan and the possibility of sustainable preservation In the end Cloonan suggests we are what we preserve and don't preserve Every day we make preservation decisions individually and collectively that have longer term ramifications than we might expect

Scientific Investigation of Copies, Fakes and Forgeries Paul Craddock, 2009-02-04 The faking and forgery of works of art and antiquities is probably now more extensive than ever before The frauds are aided by new technologies from ink jet printers to epoxy resins and driven by the astronomic prices realised on the global market This book aims to provide a comprehensive survey of the subject over a wide range of materials emphasising how the fakes and forgeries are produced and how they may be detected by technical and scientific examination The subject is exemplified by numerous case studies some turning out not to be as conclusive as is sometimes believed The book is aimed at those likely to have a serious interest in these investigations be they curator collector conservator or scientist Paul Craddock has recently retired from the Department of Conservation Documentation and Science at the British Museum where he was a materials scientist

Curating Art Janet Marstine, Oscar Ho Hing Kay, 2021-12-30 Curating Art provides insight into some of the most socially and politically impactful curating of historical and contemporary art since the late 1990s It offers up a museological framework for understanding watershed developments of curating in art museums Representing the plurality of theory and practice around the expanded field of relational curating the book focuses on curating that prioritises the quality of relationships between people and objects between institutions and people and among people It has wide international breadth with particularly strong representation in East and Southeast Asia including four papers never before translated into English This Asian cluster illuminates the globalisation of the field and challenges dichotomies of East and West while acknowledging distinctions within specific but often transnational cultural spheres The compelling philosophical perspectives and case studies included within Curating Art will be of interest to students and researchers studying curating exhibition development and art museums The book will also inspire current and emerging curators to pose challenging but important questions about their own practice and the relationships that this work sustains Instruments of Knowledge Jean-François Gauvin, 2023-06-19 In a bid to claim scientific objects as requiring a significant amount of conceptual labor this book looks sequentially at instruments habits and museums The goal is to uncover how together these material and immaterial activities rules and commitments form one meaningful and credible blueprint revealing the building blocks of knowledge production They serve to conceptualize and examine the entire life of an instrument from its ideation and craft to its use reuse circulation recycling and if not obliterated its final entry into a museum It is such an epistemological triptych that guides this investigation A Practical Guide to Museum Ethics Sally Yerkovich, 2016-03-07 Are your collections up for grabs Does the spouse of one of your trustees have too much to say about developing the exhibition schedule How much is too much public participation Where does a curator's authority begin and end With money increasingly difficult to raise is a museum more likely to accede to potential funders demands even when those demands might compromise the museum's integrity When a museum is struggling with debilitating debt should the sale of selected items from its collections and the use of the resulting proceeds bring the museum into a more stable financial position When a museum attempts to build its attendance and attract local visitors by crowdsourcing exhibitions is it undermining its integrity Ethical questions about museum activities are legion yet they are usually only discussed when they become headlines in newspapers Museum staff respond to such problems under pressure often unable to take the time required to think through the sensitive and complex issues involved Grounded in a series of case studies A Practical Guide to Museum Ethics confronts types of ethical dilemmas museums face and explores attempts to resolve them in chapters dealing with accessibility disability and diversity collections conflict of interest governance management deaccessioning and accountability and transparency Suitable for classroom use as well as a professional reference here is a comprehensive practical guide for dealing with ethical issues in museums A

Cultural History of the Violin in Nineteenth-Century London Tom Wilder, 2025-03-18 Examines the violin's evolution as not just instrument but valued objet d'art through the eyes of musicians collectors makers dealers connoisseurs journalists auctioneers and traders The nineteenth century saw developments in the composition performance and reception of classical music that led to an unprecedented shift in how the violin was appreciated from humble craft object to one of art A utilitarian tool defined in 1800 by its tonal properties became by century's end an expensive objet d'art classified almost exclusively in terms of physical visible properties In London's vibrant musical life Cremonese violins acquired special significance and in turn helped shape the beliefs knowledge and behaviour of the disparate actors connected to the instrument musicians collectors makers dealers connoisseurs journalists auctioneers and traders By 1880 London had supplanted Paris as the centre of the international violin trade One firm in particular W E Hill Sons emerged as a major presence in both the local musical community and the global violin market The Hills were makers restorers dealers and connoisseurs They were also writers collectors and melomaniacs deeply implicated in London's instrument auction and exhibition scene The mutually reinforcing nature of these activities which they consciously turned to account for commercial reasons bear witness to events and developments earlier in the century Their story illuminates this first study of the violin's nineteenth century journey from simple musical instrument to mystified work of art

Art David A. Scott, 2016-12-31 This book presents a detailed account of authenticity in the visual arts from the Paleolithic to the postmodern The restoration of works of art can alter the perception of authenticity and may result in the creation of fakes and forgeries These interactions set the stage for the subject of this book which initially examines the conservation perspective then continues with a detailed discussion of notions of authenticity and philosophical background There is a disputed territory between those who view the present day cult of authenticity as fundamentally flawed and those who have analyzed its impact upon different cultural milieus operating across performative contested and fragmented ground The book discusses several case studies where the ideas of conceptual authenticity aesthetic authenticity and material authenticity can be incorporated into an informative discourse about art from the ancient to the contemporary illuminating concerns relating to restoration and art forgery

Ancient West Asian Civilization Akira Tsuneki, Shigeo Yamada, Ken-ichiro Hisada, 2016-08-19 This book explores aspects of the ancient civilization in West Asia which has had a great impact on modern human society agriculture metallurgy cities writing regional states and monotheism all of which appeared first in West Asia during the tenth to first millennia BC The editors specifically use the term West Asia since the Middle East is seen as an Eurocentric term By using this term the book hopes to mitigate potential bias i e historical and Western by using a pure geographical term However the West Asia region is identical to that of the narrower Middle East which encompasses modern Iran and Turkey from east to west and Turkey and the Arabian Peninsula from north to south This volume assembles research from different disciplines such as the natural sciences archaeology and philology linguistics in order to tackle the question of which circumstances and processes these significant cultural phenomena occurred in West Asia Scrutinizing subjects such as the relations between climate geology and human activities the origins of wheat cultivation and animal domestication the development of metallurgy the birth of urbanization and writing ancient religious traditions as well as the treatment of cultural heritage the book undertakes a comprehensive analysis of West Asian Civilization that provided the common background to cultures in various areas of the globe including Europe and Asia These contributions will attempt to demonstrate a fresh vision which emphasizes the common cultural origin between Europe and West Asia standing in opposition to the global antagonism symbolized by the theory of Clash of Civilizations

Architectural Documentation: Built Environment, Modernization, and Turkish Nationalism Serra Akboy-Ilk, 2022-09-06 Against the backdrop of building a new country this study explores and evaluates the documentation culture in early republican Turkey Having fought the Turkish War of Independence 1919-22 against the Allied Powers the revolutionaries led by legendary leader Mustafa Kemal Atatürk 1881-1938 came to engage with the idea of the West and its cultural origin With the proclamation of the Republic of Turkey in 1923 the constitution abolished the 600 year old Ottoman Empire including the dynastic cultural economic educational and governmental institutions In the redemption of the nation within the modern history of civilizations cultural Westernization and technical modernization became the model for the newly found nation state While the new country became the subject of reformation historic architecture was called upon to grant the aura of a glorious past to the Turks Through the materialization of Türk Tarih Tezi the Turkish History Thesis the founding leaders focused on the origin of Turks and the everlasting spirit of the Turkish state In this pursuit architectural heritage signified the formative power to represent the past Supported by state agencies scholars with supreme patriotic zeal and diligence travelled across the remotest corners of the country to document and study the historic architecture of the nation To date the complicated question of a national identity embodied in the built environment has dominated the contemporary scholarship on early republican historiography Akboy İlkin's study however distinguishes itself with its focus on architectural documentation which became an agent of history writing in the early years of the nation state Curated by the ideologies of the state the formal documentation findings extensively informed the republican plot of the modern progress of Turks For scholars interested in a closer reading of the crossing boundaries between architectural heritage and nation building in the case of the modernization of Turkey this book is revealing and provocative in bringing forward architectural documentation a remarkably overlooked subject in studies of the area

Figural Philology Adi Efendi, 2016-10-20 Though inspired by a Panofskyan legacy this book diverges at certain points from Erwin Panofsky's declared objectives and calls attention to several of aspects that were until now less accentuated in his intellectual reception. Insisting on the importance of iconology as a method for art history and the humanities in general, it shows how examining this promotes a cooperation between the history of art and the history of philosophy. It discusses whether Panofsky's method could be of use for general questions in the epistemology of the historical sciences that examine human works. Figural Philology also shows that Panofsky shares affinities with twentieth-century romance philology. A reading of Panofsky's work alongside the philological enterprise of Erich Auerbach and several other authors demonstrates that a proper appropriation of the philological impulse can provide a way out of the methodological antimony still hanging between hyper-formalist and hyper-theoretical approaches to the history of art.
