A Feminist Companion to the Apocalypse of John Amy-Jill Levine, 2010-05-05 The thirteenth volume in this landmark series examines the Revelation of John through the categories of post colonial thought deconstruction ethics Roman social discourse masculinization virginity and violence The reach of this volume therefore goes beyond that of most feminist studies of Revelation which frequently focus on the female imagery the Thyatiran prophet called Jezebel the Woman Clothed with the Sun the Whore of Babylon and the Bride the Heavenly Jerusalem The symbols of Revelation remain open and interpretations continue Some readers will refuse to rejoice at the dismemberment of the Woman who is Babylon they will resist the masochistic infantile self abasement before this imperial Deity who rules by patriarchal domination Others will conclude that these descriptions are only metaphors separate form from substance and worship the transcendent to which the metaphors imperfectly point Some readers will understand if not fully condone John s rhetoric by seeking his political and social location others will condone if not fully understand how the Apocalypse can provide comfort to those undergoing persecution or deprivation Some readers may reject the coercive aspects of a choice between spending eternity in praise of the divine or being tortured with fire and sulfur others may rejoice in their own salvation while believing that those being tortured deserve every pain inflicting upon them still others may use mimicry or parody or anachronistic analogy to challenge defang or replace John s message What we find behind the veil may be beautiful or terrifying or both but we cannot avert our eyes John s vision is too influential today in our own political climate not to look for ourselves The Feminist Companion to the Apocalypse of John includes contributions by David L Barr Mary Ann Beavis Greg Carey Adela Yarbro Collins Lynn R Huber Catherine Keller John Marshall Stephen Moore Jorunn kland Hanna Stenstr m Pamela Thimmes and Carolyn Vander Stichele There is an introduction by Amy Jill Levine and a comprehensive bibliography

The Living Church, 1996 Come, Holy Spirit Leonardo Boff, 2015-03-01 Encyclopedia of Women in World Religions Susan de-Gaia, 2018-11-16 This reference offers reliable knowledge about women s diverse faith practices throughout history and prehistory and across cultures Across the span of human history women have participated in world building and life sustaining cultural creativity making enormous contributions to religion and spirituality In the contemporary period women have achieved greater equality with more educational opportunities female role models in public life and opportunities for religious expression than ever before Contemporaneously with this increased visibility women are actively and energetically engaging with religion for themselves and for their communities Drawing on the expertise of a range of scholars this reference chronicles the religious experiences of women across time and cultures The book includes sections on major religions as well as on spirituality African religions prehistoric religions and other broad topics Each section begins with an introduction followed by reference entries on specialized subjects along with excerpts from primary source documents The entries provide numerous suggestions for further reading and the book closes with a detailed bibliography IAWM Journal ,1999 This Is My Body Ella L. Johnson,2020-03-30 This book examines how the writings of the thirteenth century nun Gertrude the Great of Helfta articulate an innovative relationship between a person's eucharistic devotion and her body It attends to her references to the biblical monastic and theological traditions including attitudes and ideas about the spiritual and corporeal senses in order to illuminate the affirmative role Gertrude assigns to the body in making spiritual progress Ultimately the book demonstrates that Gertrude leaves behind the dualistic aspect of the Christian intellectual and devotional tradition while exploiting its affirmative concepts of bodily forms of knowing divine union Saved from Silence Mary Donovan Turner,Mary Lin Hudson,2014-10-30 In this postmodern age women preachers are finding their voice a distinctive way of proclamation This book looks at the metaphor of voice how women are moving to voice from silence and how individuals can make themselves heard by those who don't want to hear The Mind's Eye Jeffrey F. Hamburger,Anne-Marie Bouché,2006 The Mind's Eye focuses on the relationships among art theology exegesis and literature issues long central to the study of medieval art yet ripe for reconsideration Essays by leading scholars from many fields examine the illustration of theological commentaries the use of images to expound or disseminate doctrine the role of images within theological discourse the development of doctrine in response to images and the place of vision and the visual in theological thought At issue are the ways in which theologians responded to the images that we call art and in which images entered into dialogue with theological discourse In what ways could medieval art be construed as argumentative in structure as well as in function Are any of the modes of representation in medieval art analogous to those found in texts In what ways did images function as vehicles not merely vessels of meaning and signification To what extent can exegesis and other genres of theological discourse shed light on the form as well as the content and function of medieval images These are only some of the challenging questions posed by this unprecedented and interdisciplinary collection which provides a historical framework within which to reconsider the relationship between seeing and thinking perception and the imagination in the Middle Ages ILWC Journal ,1994 Dear Sister Karen Cherewatuk,Ulrike Wiethaus,1993-04 Dear Sister Medieval Women and the Epistolary Genre explores women's contributions to letter writing in Western Europe from the sixth to the sixteenth centuries The essays represent the first attempt to chart medieval women's achievements in epistolarity and the contributors to this volume situate the women writers in a solidly historical context and employ a variety of feminist approaches Both religious and secular writers are discussed including Radegund Hildegard of Bingen Heloise Catherine of Siena the women of the Paston family Christine de Pizan and Maria de Hout Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico,1998-03-20 The Reader's Guide to Women's Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women's studies.
