Nursing's Greatest Leaders David Anthony Forrester, PhD, RN, ANEF, FAAN, 2016-01-20 Uniquely focuses on nursing history through the lens of leadership This book is perfect for men and women who aspire to lead nursing and society into a better future It will equally benefit undergraduate students enrolled in leadership courses graduate students preparing for leadership roles and nurses already established in leadership roles This book deepened my love for nursing and reinforced why nursing is repeatedly ranked the most trusted profession Susan B Hassmiller PhD RN FAAN Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Senior Adviser for Nursing Director Campaign for Action With an emphasis on the qualities that have fostered strong nursing leadership this book provides a unique perspective on the lives and achievements of the most revered nurses throughout history It is comprised of biographies of many of nursing's most important activist agents of change with a focus on those characteristics that enabled them to accomplish their goals and implement changes that improved nursing health healthcare and society. These biographies examine the evolution of nursing and society around the globe and underscore the resourcefulness and political savvy these nurses used to meet the increasingly complex needs of society. Using Kouzes and Posner's five practices of exemplary leadership as a framework, the biographies demonstrate how the nurses used these processes to achieve their goals. Placed within the context and dynamics of each nurse leader's lifetime, including gender roles, science and technology, religion, politics, and economics, each biography includes a personal history, timeline, accomplishments, anecdotes, and legacy. The book honors such well-known nurse leaders as Florence Nightingale, Clara Barton, and Dorothea Dix, along with less well-known nurse leaders. By telling the stories of these prominent luminaries, the book showcases nursing's rich history and its influence on society. Ultimately, fostering an understanding of the very nature of leadership, it provides a strong foundation and inspiration for nurses to lead nursing healthcare and society into a better future.

Key Features: Focuses on nursing history through the lens of leadership. Uses the framework of Kouzes and Posner's five practices of exemplary leadership to analyze the achievements of nurse luminaries. Considers the lives of well-known and lesser-known figures in nursing history. Focuses on leadership characteristics that enabled historic nurse leaders to implement important changes in global healthcare.

Bill Streever, 2007. Bill Streever has worked in almost every camp involved with the environment. He is a scientist who has worked in both public and private sectors. He brings that wide experience and the perspective of many others like him to Green Seduction: Money, Business, and the Environment. Thirty-five years ago, polluted rivers, burned cities, and farms dumped raw sewage into aquifers; highway and dam construction proceeded with little thought to environmental impact, and carcinogens and acids billowed from smokestacks. Today, much has changed. Government jobs and university training programs exist in environmental studies. Nonprofit organizations serve as watchdogs on government agencies; buy land for conservation and offer advice and criticism to the corporate world. Environmental consulting is a profession, and in industry, environmental departments have developed. Since the late 1960s, environmentalism has grown from a radical movement to a mainstream business sector that spends more than two hundred billion dollars each year. Following environmental workers on the job, Streever guides readers across a California Superfund site, through the New Orleans water system into wetlands created in Washington, D.C. suburbs, through a south Georgia carpet plant, and elsewhere. Through these firsthand experiences, Green Seduction offers a new appreciation of what businesses have invested in the environment and what the benefits may be from that investment. Bill Streever has worked as a research ecologist with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, as well as an assistant professor of biological sciences at the University of Newcastle in Australia. The News, 2003-06. Spy Hook

Len Deighton,2024-07-02 In Deighton s best books like this one the narrative glides forward on rollers and the scenes and characters fit perfectly into place The result is marvellous The Independent When the Department sends Bernard Samson to Washington to track down the million pounds that have just gone missing it s just the start of a far deeper and darker mission that takes him from the English suburbs to Berlin to the South of France to Los Angeles and the heart of a maelstrom Friends become enemies colleagues betray each other and Bernard is about to face the biggest surprise of his life In the brilliant first novel in Len Deighton s Hook Line Sinker trilogy no one is above suspicion not even Bernard himself Daily Mirror Holborn Circus,1975-07-10 Writing Lives Together Felicity James,Julian North,2017-09-27 A diary entry begun by a wife and finished by a husband a map of London its streets bearing the names of forgotten lives biographies of siblings and of spouses a poem which gives life to long dead voices from the archives All these feature in this volume as examples of writing lives together British life writing which has been collaboratively authored and or joins together the lives of multiple subjects The contributions to this book range over published and unpublished material from the late eighteenth to the late nineteenth centuries including biography auto biographical memoirs letters diaries sermons maps and directories The book closes with essays by contemporary practising biographers Daisy Hay and Laurel Brake who explain their decisions to move away from the single subject in writing the lives of figures from the Romantic and Victorian periods We conclude with the reflections and work of a contemporary poet Kathleen Bell writing on James Watt 1736 1819 and his family in a ghostly collaboration with the archives Taken as a whole the collection offers distinctive new readings of collaboration in theory and practice reflecting on the many ways in which lives might be written together across gender boundaries across time across genre This book was originally published as a special issue of Life Writing Fourth Estate ,1921
