HISCO Marco H. D. van Leeuwen, Ineke Maas, Andrew Miles, 2002 Building on ILO's International Standard Classification of Occupations ISCO presents a scheme of occupational titles of use for comparative research on the history of work Gives data sources from eight countries partly going back to the 19th century Includes where available corresponding occupational designations in Dutch English French German Norwegian and Swedish Labour and Living Standards in Pre-Colonial

West Africa Klas Rönnbäck, 2015-11-19 Sub Saharan Africa is the poorest region in the world But its current status has skewed our understanding of the economy before colonization Rönnbäck reconstructs the living standards of the population at a time when the Atlantic slave trade brought money and men into the area enriching our understanding of West African economic development Kinship and Demographic Behavior in the Past Tommy Bengtsson, Geraldine P.

Mineau, 2008-02-02 Intergenerational research is crucial in understanding long term demographic trends This book examines the ways kinship affects demographic behavior including mortality patterns to determine the influence of fertility patterns the contribution of parents longevity and the affects of a family history of disease It emphasizes the importance of studies that include and compare other factors related to social organization with information on multi generational families

International Migrations in the Victorian Era, 2018-05-23 On account of its remarkable reach as well as its variety of schemes and features migration in the Victorian era is a paramount chapter of the history of worldwide migrations and diasporas Indeed Victorian Britain was both a land of emigration and immigration International Migrations in the Victorian Era covers a wide range of case studies to unveil the complexity of transnational circulations and connections in the 19th century Combining micro and macro studies this volume looks into the history of the British Empire 19th century international migration networks as well as the causes and consequences of Victorian migrations and how technological social political and cultural transformations mainly initiated by the Industrial Revolution considerably impacted on people's movements It presents a history of migration grounded on people structural forces and migration processes that bound societies together Rather than focussing on distinct territorial units International Migrations in the Victorian Era balances different scales of analysis individual local regional national and transnational Contributors are Rebecca Bates Sally Brooke Cameron Milosz K Cybowski Nicole Davis Anne Catherine De Bouvier Claire Deligny Elizabeth Dillenburg Nicolas Garnier Trevor Harris Kathrin Levitan Veronique Molinari Ipsita Nath Jude Piesse Daniel Renshaw Eric Richards Sue Silberberg Ben Szreter Geraldine Vaughan Briony Wickes Rhiannon Heledd Williams Censuses and Census Takers Gunnar

Thorvaldsen, 2017-11-13 This book analyses the international development of the census by comparing the history of census taking on all continents and in many countries The timeframe is wide from male censuses in the Bible to current censuses covering the whole population There is a focus on the efforts and destinies of census takers and the development of methods used to collect information into the census questionnaires The book highlights international cooperation in census taking as well as how computerized access to census data facilitates genealogical studies and statistical research on both historical and contemporary societies It deals with such questions as Why did the French and British gentry block efforts at census taking in the 18th century What role did German censuses play during Holocaust Why were the Soviet census directors executed as part of the Moscow processes Why did US states sue the Census Bureau in the 1970s How do wars and revolutions affect census taking The text ends by discussing whether the days of the population census as we know it are numbered since countries exceedingly construct censuses by combining information from population registers rather than with questionnaires

Marriage Choices and Class Boundaries Marco H. D. van Leeuwen, Ineke Maas, Andrew Miles, 2005 Endogamy the custom forbidding marriage outside one's social class is central to social history This study considers the factors determining who married whom whether partner selection changed over the past three hundred years and regional differences between Europe and South America

Climbing up the Social Ladder? Vlad Popovici, Alice Velková, Martin Klečacký, 2024-10-21 Social mobility is about climbing the societal ladder or switching to a better more promising or rewarding position But how does this work for those already atop or very close to it Climbing up the Social Ladder explores instances of social mobility among different types of positional and status defined elites in East Central Europe during the long 19th century at individual or group level

HISclass Marco H. D. van Leeuwen, Ineke Maas, 2011 For the sake of comparability it is advisable not to develop new class schemes but to use old ones Yet presenting a new class scheme HISCLASS is exactly what this book does Unlike existing historical schemes HISCLASS is international created for the purpose of making comparisons across different periods countries and languages Furthermore it is linked to an international standard classification scheme for occupations HISCO The chapters in the book show how historical occupational titles classified in HISCO can form the building blocks of a social class scheme for past populations The dimensions underlying classes are discussed How for instance can manual work be distinguished from non manual work Skilled from non skilled And what did supervision really mean
