wretched condition you have reduced me sad afflicted without any possible comfort unless it proceed from you Be not then unkind nor deny me I beg of you that little relief which you only can give Let me have a faithful account of all that concerns you I would know everything be it ever so unfortunate Perhaps by mingling my sighs with yours I may make your sufferings less for it has been said that all sorrows divided are made lighter I shall always have this if you please and it will always be agreeable to me that when I receive a letter from you I shall know you still remember me I have your picture in my room I never pass it without stopping to look at it If a picture which is but a mute representation of an object can give such pleasure what cannot letters inspire We may write to each other so innocent a pleasure is not denied us I shall read that you are my husband and you shall see me sign myself your wife In spite of all our misfortunes you may be what you please in your letter Having lost the substantial pleasures of seeing and possessing you I shall in some measure compensate this loss by the satisfaction I shall find in your writing There I shall read your most sacred thoughts I shall carry them always about with me I shall kiss them every moment I cannot live if you will not tell me that you still love me
